LINDBERGH HERALDS DAWN OF ATLANTIC AIR SERVICE

Believes Next Ten Years Will See Regular Flying Boat Line Over "Island" Route

BY COL. CHARLES A. LINDBERGH

[Copyright, 1927, in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, South America, Japan, Europe and the British Empire, by the New York Times Company. All rights reserved.]

ABOARD THE CRUISER MEMPHIS, AT SEA, June 8. (Exclusive)—While the interest of the American people is centered on trans-Atlantic flying it is an appropriate time to discuss mature possibilities of a regular air service between the New World and the Old.

I have been thinking a great deal about this whole interesting question since the Memphis left for home, and certain ideas have occurred which may be of value to set forth. The fact that the Atlantic has been flown does not mean that the problems connected with trans-oceanic flying have been more than touched.

CAPT. CHARLES A. LINDBERGH

Aviation, like any other great industry, must base its growth on a solid foundation, and proper organization of regular air service between the United States and Europe will require some years of careful experiments and study.

WILL USE FLYING BOATS

However, steps have been made and progress should be rapid and reasonably sure if one takes into consideration the speed with which aviation has already advanced since the date of its birth.

In prophesying the future of trans-Atlantic flying it is necessary to take into consideration the improvement of planes and equipment necessary to its successful inception.

Any regular long-distance flight services over great expanses of water will undoubtedly be made with flying boats which will be capable of continuing flight with at least one motor out of commission and will be able to weather rough sea in the event of forced landing.

There will be constant radio communication with some ground or water station and herein lies one of the serious problems which must be given serious and immediate attention.

The establishment of floating stations along transoceanic airways is without doubt the largest obstacle to overcome in connection with sustained transoceanic air communications. In the first place they must be large enough to shelter the air liners and contain all modern equipment as well.

PROBLEM OF ENGINEERING

They must also provide adequate housing facilities for passengers since there will be occasions when it will be necessary to halt a number of hours. But what is more to the point, these island shelters in the Atlantic must be able to give all these services in the face of severest storms. To insure the comfort of passengers and further reduce the dangers of the voyage the islands should be located not more than a few hundred miles apart.

Just how this engineering question can be worked out cannot, of course,

AIR ARMADA FOR FLYER

Planes to Greet Lindbergh

Escort to be Greater Than That Given to Fleet in Grand Review

Welcome Committee Snowed Under by Requests to Honor Aviator

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—When Col. Charles A. Lindbergh bruises up the historic Potomac he will have an air escort nearly four times great as that which last Saturday led the United States fleet in grand review before President Coolidge at Hampton Roads.

More than ninety planes of all descriptions in addition to the navy dirigible Los Angeles will be in the Lindbergh escort, while the Los Angeles, sixteen navy planes and six destroyers will pick up the cruiser Memphis fifty to 100 miles at sea, Friday, the dirigible going from her Lakehurst station Friday morning and the planes and destroyers starting from Hampton Roads later in the day.

All of the sixteen planes and one of the six destroyers leaving the Norfolk naval base Friday will carry newspaper men and photographers. After reaching the Memphis the destroyer will make contact for mail and any other communications going ashore and return to its base ahead of the other destroyers which, together with the Los Angeles, are expected to accompany the ship as far as Hampton Roads.

PLANS TO MOBOLIZE

Plans for the Saturday escort up the Potomac call for an early concentration of forty-four navy and marine corps, forty-two army and five or more commercial and mail planes, which will pick up the Memphis from various points and proceed with the cruiser to Washington.

To avoid accidents, different altitude will be allotted each group of machines. The army planes will fly on the right of the Memphis and the navy, marine and other machines on the left.

Requests of patriotic and other societies to do homage to Col. Lindbergh during his official welcome and reception are swamping the committee on arrangements. With the possible exception of the organizations of war veterans and the United States Flag Association, which is to conduct vesper flag services at the capital on Sunday evening, all of these societies probably are doomed to disappointment.

All of the time of the heroic aviator for Saturday, after his arrival from Europe at noon aboard the cruiser Memphis, has been allotted and the committee perfected plans today for all of Sunday afternoon, which will be taken up with the trip to Arlington to lay a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier and to the army's Walter Reed Hospital to greet the sick and wounded there.

UP TO LINDBERGH

At this hospital the veterans' organization may be given five or ten minutes to present their colors and to deliver to the New York-to-Paris flyer a parchment testimonial of their appreciation of his epic flight. Lindbergh may elect to attend the flag service, but that is left with him.

When his ship docks at the Presi-

LAST HONOR BY MEXICO

Senora Calles is Laid to Rest

All Officialdom Attends Funeral Ceremonies for President's Wife

Hundreds Force Way Into Procession to Cemetery; Schools Closed

MEXICO CITY, June 8. (Exclusive)—With a battery of artillery firing twenty-one gun salutes and three airplanes circling overhead, black banners streaming from their wings, Senora Natalia Chacon de Calles, wife of President Calles, was buried this morning in Dolores Cemetery in the foothills which ring the Valley of Mexico.

The body of Senora Calles arrived here from Los Angeles, where she died last Tuesday, shortly before 9 a.m. today. President Calles accompanied the funeral train, together with members of his family and friends.

The funeral procession moved from the station to Chapultepec Castle, the home of the Mexican President, where it lay in state in the Ambassadors' salon, which was literally engulfed in flowers.

CORTEGE FORMS

At exactly 10:45 a.m., fifteen minutes ahead of schedule, the simple silver coffin, draped in a silk Mexican flag, was carried to the funeral carriage by ten members of the President's staff. President Calles, head bared, took his post directly behind the carriage carrying the body of his wife. He was accompanied by members of the Cabinet and behind them were other government officials and the entire Diplomatic Corps.

Thousands upon thousands lined the funeral route as the procession wound slowly down the hill on which the castle is located, through the great Chapultepec Park and thence to the cemetery. Officers of the Presidential guard, their swords at attention, also lined the route to keep the crowds at bay.

In spite of the elaborate police and military precautions, however, hundreds broke through the lines and joined the funeral procession. At the entrance to the park the casket was transferred to a street car draped in black and the mourners boarded other cars directly behind. The road climbing upward to Dolores Cemetery was choked by great crowds and as the funeral car was carried to the burial spot, the guns thundered out in salute and airplanes droned overhead.

Huge army trucks had already left their immense mounds of floral offerings about the grave. The demand for flowers had been so great for the last two days that it was virtually impossible to buy them in Mexico City today.

The interment was devoid of ceremony. Dr. Jose Manuel Puig Casauranc, Secretary of Public Education, delivered a brief funeral oration, a military band broke out in a funeral air and the coffin was lowered into the grave. President Calles remained with head bowed throughout the ceremony and the funeral procession and hardly exchanged a word with anyone. All government buildings and public schools were closed during the day and flags throughout the city were flown at half-mast.

CALLES THANKS COOLIDGE FOR WORDS OF SYMPATHY

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Appreciation of the sympathy of President Coolidge and the American people at the death of Senora Calles was cabled to the White House today by President Calles of Mexico.

"I am deeply thankful to Your Excellency," the message said, "for the earnest condolence and words of sympathy you are pleased to send me in your name and in that of the American people for my wife's death."

"And That's THAT!"

LODGE SEES LIFE-MAKING BY SCIENCE

Sir Oliver Says Creation of Protoplasm Inevitable in Laboratory Work

OXFORD (Eng.) June 8. (AP)—The creation of life by science—the production of synthetic protoplasm in the laboratory—the dream of both scientist and romancer, as the crowning triumph of the human mind, was declared by Sir Oliver Lodge, lecturing here today, to be not merely future possibility, but "from some viewpoints inevitable."

What had happened in the past in the earth in the evolution of life from perimeval molten material or glowing gas may possibly be understood, controlled and humanly managed in the future, he said.

He asserted that there is nothing repugnant to religion in this, but rather it should be welcome, as showing what amount of thought was necessary to produce any limitation of what now existed.

ARMS PLOT BALKED IN CHINA

Two Americans and Italian Arrested, Charged With Selling Munitions to Native "General"

SHANGHAI, June 8. (AP)—An American lawyer, W. Worthington, another American, Samuel Chalet, and an Italian named Jovino were arrested this afternoon by police of the International Settlement here for asserted illegal dealing in arms.

It is reported the men entered into negotiations with a Chinese "general" who really was a detective, about a month ago for the sale of arms and ammunition.

The negotiations progressed until this afternoon, when it is asserted, they arranged to meet at the "general's" house to consummate the deal.

Two foreign detectives watched the proceedings through a knot hole. It is said the accused men produced two Mausers and 1000 rounds of ammunition, upon which they were arrested and handed over to their respective consulates.

UNEASINESS IN PEKING ABATING

PEKING, June 8. (AP)—Last week's uneasiness among foreigners in Peking has abated considerably and it is most improbable that the American Legation and the American residents generally will evacuate the city in the near future.

A majority of Americans remain in the city which is orderly and well policed. It is felt that there is a minimum of danger from internal disorders since the antiforeignism such as existed in South China never has gained a real foothold here. Although some of the British residents are moving into the Legation quarters and the Japanese are sending many women and children home, the Americans and other forsigners generally are sticking to normal life in the city.

Brig.-Gen. Butler has gone to Tientsin, where the American marine force today was disembarking after its trip from Shanghai. Dispatches from Tientsin said that large crowds of Chinese and foreigners watched the unloading of artillery, caterpillar tractors, and tanks, being particularly impressed with the completeness of the American equipment.

Although it is known that the American military authorities favor removal of the Peking Legation to the coast, whereas the diplomatic representatives feel such a move might be misinterpreted, advices from Washington indicate it is felt there that a wholesale evacuation of Peking would be necessary only if the situation should threaten to entrap for-

BALKAN ROW ACTION DUE AT GENEVA

Albania Takes Steps for Consideration of Dispute by League Council

GENEVA, June 8. (AP)—Albania has requested that its recent communication, giving its side of the controversy with Jugo-Slavia which resulted in a break of relations between the two countries, be forwarded to the League Council.

This may mean that the dispute between the two nations will come up before the Council, possibly at its session beginning Monday.

BELGRADE, June 8. (Exclusive)—The Italian Ambassador today declared that Italy regards the conflict between Jugo-Slavia and Albania as concerning only these countries, in spite of the newspapers openly charging that Italy was behind the Albanian action in arresting the Serbian dragoman at Tirana.

Jugo-Slavia is unpleasantly surprised to learn that Albania stole a march and already has brought the conflict before the League of Nations.

NEW YORK TO HAVE 110-STORY BUILDING

NEW YORK, June 8. (Exclusive)—A 1200-foot skyscraper which will tower above all the buildings in New York has been approved by city officials and work will be started in the fall, it was announced today. The building will be called the Larkin Tower, after its designer, Edward L. Larkin, and will contain 110 floors. The total cost of erection of the structure is estimated at $25,000,000. Charles Brady, superintendent of buildings, indorsed the plans today, making only a few minor changes.

HUGE SUN SPOT GROWING

June Busy Month for Astronomers With Two Eclipses and Approach of Comet

WILLIAMS BAY (Wis.) June 8. (AP)—The huge sun spot which has been studied by astronomers at the Yerks Observatory here since its appearance several days ago is larger and more conspicuous, according to Dr. E. B. Frost, head of the institution.

It consists of a group of spots, composed of gaseous matter, extending several thousand miles into the sun, and measuring about 200,000 miles in its largest diameter. It is visible to the protected naked eye in the center of the sun as it now faces the earth, and will be for five or six days.

Its only probable effect upon the earth would be hindering of telegraphic, radio and cable communication in event of a magnetic storm, Dr. Frost said.

MANY EVENTS IN JUNE HEAVENS

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—June promises to be a Roman holiday for those astronomically inclined.

Two eclipses will come this month, a total eclipse of the moon on the 18th inst., which will be visible throughout the United States, and a total eclipse of the sun, which will be seen in parts of Europe and Asia. A third event of astronomical interest will be the close approach of Pons-Winnecke's comet on the 21st inst.

The lunar eclipse will begin at 12:43 a.m., central standard time, the 15th inst., when the moon enters the umbra of the earth's shadow. A dark notch will appear on the east limb of the moon gradually overspreading it until the eclipse becomes total at 2:14 a.m., totally ends at 3:35, and at 4:06 a.m., the moon wil be entirely out of the shadow.

MOON VISIBLE

"Those who watch the eclipse may be surprised that the moon is still plainly visible," said Robert H. Baker, professor of astronomy at the University of Illinois. "Since it shines only by reflected sunlight it might reasonably be expected to disappear in the shadow. But much sunlight filters through our atmosphere around the edges of the shadow; it is then refracted into the shadow and illuminates the moon.

"Observers will remark also that the totally eclipsed moon is redder than usual. It is because the filtered light has lost most of its blue and violet, just as the sunset is red because its light has a longer course through the atmosphere.

"On the 29th inst., two weeks after its emergence from the earth's shadow, the moon will have completed half its circuit and will pass between us and the sun. Its shadow touches the earth at sunrise west of the British Isles, moves eastward across England and Norway, skirts Northern Asia and leaves the earth at sunset off the Alaskan coast. Precisely two hours will elapse between arrival and departure.

"Only the tip of the moon's shadow cone brushes the earth. The diameter of the shadow on the ground will not exceed twenty miles, so that nowhere along the narrow track of this currying dot will the total eclipse of the sun last more than fifty seconds. In this short time expeditions from European and American observatories will attempt to study the corona, that mysterious feature of the sun which can be seen only during total eclipse.

"Pons-Winnecke's comet has again come within reach of the telescope after an absence of six years. At

WAR LOOMS IN MURDER

Britain Fearful of Outbreak

Poland Doing All in Power to Calm Soviet's Feelings in Envoy's Slaying

Moscow Expected to Demand Extradition as Step in Hostile Action

MOSCOW, June 8. (AP)—A huge demonstration against Poland, growing out of the assassination of the soviet minister to Warsaw, started this afternoon in the streets leading to the Polish Embassy, the demonstrators marching in increasing numbers until late tonight, shouting and hailing traffic. The Polish Embassy was heavily guarded by special Russian troops.

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, June 8. (Exclusive)—That the British are greatly disturbed over the situation between Poland and Russia as a result of the murder of M. Volkoff, Russian minister to Poland, is interpreted by the complete silence in official circles. The inspired press declares the soviets are trying to make political capital out of the murder, seeking to put the blame on Great Britain.

The red note to Poland connecting the murder with the British breaking off of relations and intimating that the murder was bound up with a series of acts aimed at destroying the soviet diplomatic representation abroad was characterized today officially as "obviously absurd."

The British reply to this is that both Prime Minister Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain at the time of the break made the point that England's action was separate and made on home considerations.

FEAR NEW WAR

Nevertheless, the greatest anxiety prevails here in view of Moscow's imputations and threats to bathe in yesterday's note, which it is feared may be a demand for punishment of the murderer or, likewise for punishment, and in view of the close parallel of the Volkoff murder with the Sarajevo events, which resulted in the World War.

The British press takes a serious view of the situation, the Evening Star saying:

"The world will be fortunate if the result is not war between the soviets and Poland. A political assassination started the last war. This may start another in which more countries than the two most concerned will be involved."

Lord Rothermere's Evening News declares the soviet charges against England again illustrate the red persecution complex.

DRASTIC ACTION STARTED BY POLAND

WARSAW, June 8. (AP)—The Polish authorities today took drastic steps to determine whether the assassination of Peter Volkoff, soviet envoy at Warsaw, was part of a Russian Monarchist plot. Volkoff's assassin is a young Russian student studying at Vilna. The Polish police conducted searches and made arrests among the Monarchist colonies in both Warsaw and Vilna, five arrests at the capital and twenty-nine at Vilna.

The Russian newspaper Vilna Rovain Russia, which issued a special edition recommending subscriptions for the murderer, was suppressed promptly and the editor arrested.

The Polish government is doing everything possible, it was announced, to fulfill the requirements of justice and has accepted to the soviet demand for participation in the investigation, the Polish law permitting such a course.

RUSSIAN AFFAIR

M. Litvinoff's sharp note has made a painful impression in Polish governmental circles which deplore the tragedy and regard it as an internal Russian affair, which accidentally happens din Polish territory and for which Poland has no moral responsibility.

It is believed that the soviet nation will be satisfied with nothing less than the death penalty for the assassin, but it is not expected that the tragedy will seriously impair relations between the two countries.

The body of M. Volkoff was exposed to public view today at the soviet Le-

RUSSIAN RED CLUB BOMBED

Three Killed, Twenty-six Hurt in Two Terrorist Outrages Against Communists

MOSCOW, June 8. (AP)—Two terrorist outrages within twenty-four hours have shocked the soviet, particularly Communist circles, and given cause for increased vigilance. Not since the winter of 1918, when an attempt was made by social revolutionists to bomb the Moscow committee of the Communist party have the terrorists dared to defy that dreaded organization.

Late last night twenty-six persons, including ten young women, all members of the Leningrad Communist Discussion Club, were injured when two bombs were thrown into the hall where they were meeting. The bomb-throwers escaped, firing revolvers as they ran.

The fact that no one was killed was due apparently to the circumstance that the bombs contained merely light gas and a few missiles. Most of the injured suffered contusions and asphyxiation.

The Leningrad bombing was followed by the blowing up of a conveyance in which Vice-Chief Opansky of the State political police of White Russia with two assistants, was conveying Lieut. Yani, of the Polish intelligence service, suspected of espionage, to Minsk from the Polish frontier.

Opansky and his assistants were killed and Yani was seriously injured by the explosion of a bomb which had been placed on a railway by which they were traveling in a gas-driven repair car. Investigation appeared to indicate that the work was that of counter revolutionaries.

BERLIN DIN UNABATED

People Idolize Chamberlin

Flyers Pass by Cheering Multitudes to Greet Von Hindenburg

Wardrobes Acquired in View of Possible Cruise to Vienna and Rome

BERLIN, June 8. (AP)—After four days of excitement and unabated enthusiasm the nonstop flight of the Bellanca plane Columbia from America to Germany still dominates public interest. So long a period of enthusiasm is something new in German history.

This forenoon Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine, the American airmen, in the company of the American Ambassador, Jacob Gould Schurman, drove through an ocean of frantically cheering humanity to the Presidential palace, where the old war leader, Von Hindenburg, awaited them, to crown the most spectacular welcome accorded them since their arrival in Berlin.

President Von Hindenburg, by a strange coincidence, concluded the historic interview by presenting each of the flyers with his photograph, signed by his own hand, just as his great war-time adversary, Marshal Foch, had honored their compatriot a fortnight ago in Paris. The photographs were inclosed in silver frames and were borne carefully out to the waiting automobile by palace servants in blue and red liveries.

WILL ALTER PLANS

Like all true aviators, Chamberlin could not leave his "old bus" alone for one whole day. Soon after a quiet lunch at the American Embassy he hastened out to Tempelhofer Airdrome and went over the Columbia with tender care.

The Columbia's pilot intends to have a new compass built in to direct him on his trips to Vienna, Rome and Paris, should they materialize. He is also seriously contemplating building a smaller tank so that these flights will not require so much gas, and in this way his companion may have a more comfortable position.

All today engineers, constructors and various German flyers inspected the Bellanca plane. They were of the unanimous opinion that American airplane constructors have been working quietly, saying little, and have come out with a high-grade machine, meeting with the full approbation of German experts.

NO OVERHAULING

Despite the jolting at the forced landing near Kottbus all the component parts of the machine, from motor to steering gear, are perfect. Chamberlin himself has gained his confidence by declaring that a general overhauling would be superfluous.

From Tempelhofer Chamberlin, accompanied by the military attaché, Col. Conger, drove to the reception arranged by Chancellor Marx and Frau Marx. Mr. Levine also was there. They met Gustav Stresemann, the Foreign Minister, various other members of the Cabinet and many representatives of the government and the department of aviation.

After their presentation by Ambassador Schurman, the Chancellor congratulated the flyers on the success of their "daring venture." He voiced the hope that their "wonderful achievement may prove to be a new connecting link between the American and German peoples."

BUT FORMAL ATTIRE

Between appointments, the two Americans found time to consult with tailors and haberdashers. They finally arrayed themselves in evening dress for the formal dinner at the Embassy, and ordered one full sport suit each for the present. Later, if their program entails more ceremonies requiring formal dress, they intend to add gradually to their wardrobe. But they have not yet gotten over their horror of carrying cumbersome baggage.

While official Berlin is solemnly fêting the aviators, the populace outside not only is talking, but singing about them. A ballad has been evolved, beginning: "Chamberlin, Chamberlin lebe dich seven in Berlin," meaning "Let us see you in Berlin." It is sung to the familiar German nursery rhyme of "Haenechen Klein," and is being trilled on the streets, in the cabarets and in home gatherings.

Chamberlin at the end of the first twenty-four hours in the capital estimates that he has signed 5000 autographs. "If this continues," he laughed, "I may decide to become an author."

AUTO PRESENTED

He was obviously pleased to find a brand-new blue automobile standing before the Embassy this morning. It was a gift to him from an American concern.

President Von Hindenburg showed the greatest interest in the details of their epoch-making flight when he received the airmen. From every window of the government offices in historic Wilhelmstrasse cheering officials and their ladies leaned out, wildly waving handkerchiefs, documents, hats and anything else handy, as Chamberlin and Levine, with the American Ambassador, drew up at the entrance.

Proceeding into the German White House, the trio passed between files of officials and employees in gala livery and were conducted by the chief steward of the household to the President's study. The venerable soldier-President stood waiting for them attired in democratic Prince Albert. He advanced quickly to meet them and offered congratulations with a warm note of sincerity.

BALLANCA LEASES AERO-MARINE FACTORY

PERTH AMBOY (N. J.) June 8. (AP) The News today says that Giuseppe M. Bellanca, designer of the monoplane Columbia, will take over the plant of the Aero-Marine Company at Keyport for the manufacture of airplanes.

Papers for the lease of the plant to Bellanca are being drawn today, the News says, and the manufacture of airplanes will begin in the near future.

One of the first to be turned out, it is reported, will be a machine for a nonstop flight to Rome in the fall.

VIENNA INVITATION ACCEPTED BY CHAMBERLIN

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Clarence D. Chamberlin, who, with Charles Levine, crossed the Atlantic from New York to Germany, has accepted an invitation of the Austrian government to visit Vienna, Ambassador Schurman at Berlin today notified the State Department. The Ambassador said that Chamberlin probably will leave Berlin for Vienna Sunday, but did not add whether the aviator will fly his airplane to that city.

MOTHER, STRICT DRY, COMMENTS ON BEER USE

DENISON (Iowa) June 8. (AP)—"If Clarence Chamberlin samples some choice German brew before leaving Berlin, that is his affair," the intrepid flyer's mother, who is a staunch prohibitionist, said here today.

"Clarence is old enough to know what is right," she declared. "He has never touched intoxicating beverages in his life, because he didn't want any. If he has changed his mind I have no comment to make. Both his father and I are believers in total abstinence."

Although her son is one of the two premier flyers of the world at the present time, Mrs. Chamberlin has never ridden in an airplane. She didn't say why she had always refused her son's and other offers to go up in the air, but added that when she reaches Europe to join Clarence, she will take a "good spin" in his machine.

dent's wharf at the navy yard, the new most highly acclaimed of American citizens will be greeted by two men who have made their names imperishable in the development of aviation, Commander Richard Evelyn Bird, U.S.N., the first man to fly over the North Pole, and Commander A. C. Read, U.S.N., the first man to cross the Atlantic in a plane.

They will be in full dress uniform and Col. Lindbergh may wear a uniform carrying the insignia of his new rank as colonel in the Missouri National Guard Air Service. This uniform will be delivered aboard the Memphis by an army plane which will go out from Langley Field to welcome the flyer.

ALL IN UNIFORM

Since the Distinguished Flying Cross to be pinned on him by President Coolidge at the Washington Monument Grounds is awarded to Lindbergh as a military man, army officers thought he might desire to be in uniform at the time of the presentation.

At the War Department today it was disclosed that Col. Lindbergh had rejected a proposal by several of his friends to create a trust fund, the income from which would be at his disposal and that of his mother during their lifetime and afterward for the promotion of aviation and the care of the families of aviators who lost their lives in such promotion.

Secretary Davis had been requested to serve as head of a committee to receive popular subscriptions to make up the fund, the proposal for which was submitted by Louis E. Liggett of Boston and Joseph W. Wear and George Brooke of Philadelphia. Lindbergh declined to approve the plan in a cablegram sent from London.

The official reception committee which is to greet the air hero when he steps from the Memphis' gangplank was completed today with the appointment of Speaker Longworth of the members of the House of Representatives as the official committee from that body.

ARRANGE SEATS

A part of the vast stretch of ground surrounding the Washington Monument is being converted into a grandstand from which government officials of the highest rank, diplomats and others will view the greeting between President Coolidge and Col. Lindbergh.

Seats and standing room within the inclosure will be provided for more than 1000 persons. The President's stand, which will tower high in the air, will face the monument and there will be room round about for perhaps 200,000 spectators. A cordon of troops will break up any effort of the crowds to rush the stand in an effort to get to Lindbergh.

As he goes from the temporary White House to Arlington and Walter Reed Hospital Sunday, the flying hero will be closely guarded by a small army of motorcycle police. Cavalry will protect him from the overenthusiastic from the time he steps from the ship until he reaches the temporary White House.

SPECIAL RATE OFFERED FOR WIRES TO HERO

Anticipating a nation-wide desire on the part of the public to express congratulations to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on his epoch-making flight from New York to Paris, the Western Union Telegraph Company has authorized a special rate on such telegrams and is making preparations for handling a record volume of traffic on the aviator's arrival in Washington.

Thousands of cablegrams and domestic messages were sent to Col. Lindbergh in Paris, and to his mother in Detroit following announcement of his safe arrival in Paris.

Messages of congratulation will be delivered to Lindbergh on decorated message blanks, commemorative of the pilot's achievement and of his airplane, the "Spirit of St. Louis."

Telephotographic transmission of pictures from Washington to eight other cities, including Los Angeles, will be established by the Bell system for June 11, 12 and 13 in connection with Col. Lindbergh's arrival in Washington. The station will be open from 8 a.m. until midnight and will be equipped only for sending pictures.

MOTHER OF LINDBERGH DECLINES SPECIAL TRAIN

DETROIT, June 8. (AP)—Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh, modest mother of a world hero, is going to Washington with as little ostentation as possible to meet her son, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, when he arrives on the U.S.S. Memphis Saturday.

Mrs. Lindbergh let it be known today that she has declined offers of a special car and will travel instead as a regular Pullman passenger.

"I am going to Washington as I usually travel—alone," she said. "I shall leave Friday afternoon on the Pennsylvania, which will bring me into Washington the next morning. I don't know whether I will go on to New York, and shall wait until I see Charles before I decide."

PRIDE OF SAN DIEGO ON WAY TO CEREMONY

DALLAS (Tex.) June 8. (AP)—The Pride of San Diego, sister ship of Col. Charles Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis, arrived here at 6 p.m., on its way to Washington to greet Col. Lindbergh. The huge plane reported no trouble on the hop here. It will leave tomorrow morning, it was stated.

REJECTED TRUST FUND WAS TO BE $2,000,000

PHILADELPHIA, June 8. (AP)—The proposed public trust fund for Charles A. Lindbergh, which the ocean flyer has rejected, was to have been $2,000,000, Joseph W. Wear, Philadelphia clubman and sportsman, revealed today. Mr. Wear, who with George H. Brook, Philadelphia, and Louis K. Liggett, Boston banker, sponsored the proposal, said that pledges for thousands of dollars had been received.

FLYER OUTLINES OCEAN SERVICE

be gone into just now, but I think it is feasible and I am reasonably certain that the islands will come with the advancement of aviation.

As far as ocean air liners themselves are concerned, aeronautical engineering has already reached a stage where their construction and development are simply a matter of intelligent financial backing.

All the necessary comforts which go to make travel pleasant can be incorporated into these air liners. That is, as I say, only a matter of making the right use of sufficient money.

The cost of air transportation will naturally be regulated by the volume of the commerce because the expense of operating the ground organization of an airplane is nearly as great with a small volume of traffic as with a much larger turnover.

Air-mail routes in the United States already have proved their value and are constantly working toward higher standards of efficiency. They are operating in competition with the fastest trains and often over short hauls.

SERVICE IN TEN YEARS

Travel by air is an established thing throughout the world, but especially in European countries, and the public will patronize the trans-Atlantic service just as soon as it demonstrates practicability and reasonable safety.

The trans-Atlantic air liners will compete only with boats and over long distances with the resultant saving in time amounting to days rather than hours.

To discuss the many advantages of transoceanic flying financially and otherwise is hardly necessary here, although in question of time alone it is easy to see the vast saving which can be effected. Big business will at once see its superior aspects and certainly everyone will use it for the transport of important mail.

In summing up, therefore, the following conclusions may be drawn:

First, transoceanic air service is not only practical but inevitable.

Second, it will be conducted with multi-motors and flying boats, operating in conjunction with floating air service stations.

This first regular transoceanic air service will probably be inaugurated from five to ten years from now.

HAWAII FLIGHT RULES GIVEN

August 12 Selected as Initial Date for Pacific Ocean Attempts Due to Favorable Moonlight

HONOLULU (T. H.) June 8. (AP)—To give greater visibility by moonlight for night flying the initial date on which flyers from the mainland to Hawaii may compete for the $25,000 offered by James D. Dole, Hawaiian pineapple magnate, was postponed today by the special arrangements committee of the Honolulu chapter of the National Aeronautical Association from August 1 to August 12. Moonrise on August 12 will follow almost immediately after sunset.

The following committee was named to assume direction of the taking-off of the competing planes from the mainland: Valentine Gephart, secretary of the National Aeronautical Association; Capt. C. W. Saunders, N.A.A. governor for California, and Harry MacConnaughy, San Francisco manager of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company.

RULES TO GOVERN

The competitive rules of the N.A.A. and of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale will govern the flights. Each entrant will be required to post an entrance fee of $500 with the starting committee in San Francisco, from which entry blanks may be obtained.

Airplanes competing may start anywhere on the North American continent and must finish at the John Rodgers airport four miles west of Honolulu. Seaplanes will be required to finish in Pearl Harbor, eight miles west of Honolulu.

The flyers competing must follow established steamer lanes on the great circle courses between Hawaii and mainland ports.

Entries must be registered with the nearest chapter of the National Aeronautical Association at least eleven days prior to the intended date of the take-off.

TANKS TO BE SEALED

Any type of airplane or seaplane suitably constructed and equipped will be eligible. Officials of the nearest chapters of the N.A.A. will require demonstrations of the airworthiness of each plane.

Gas tanks will be sealed on the flight and each plane will be required to carry fuel 15 per cent in excess of that required for the distance. Barographs will be sealed.

The safety requirements set forth by the committee include a requirement that each plane carry lifeboats with food and water enough for three days and ten smoke flares or candles. Small radio sets are recommended but not mandatory.

The San Francisco starting committee will name committees to govern starts from other cities.

FIVE MORE FLYERS PREPARING FOR TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8. (AP)—Five more flyers unofficially entered the proposed San Francisco-Honolulu flight today by informing the citizens' flight committee of their intention to complete. The official entry list will open only when the rules governing the contest have been completed.

The new entries are Everett G. Winnings and Alfred E. Traill of Indianapolis; Lieut. Harold L. Zufall and Sergt. W. S. Williams of Fresno and Arthur Mullen of St. Louis, who plans a round trip by air. Zufall served eighteen months in France during the war and Williams with the Sixty-third Aero Squadron. Mullen announced that he will ship an extra motor to Honolulu and fly back here.

The flight finance committee continued the campaign to raise a $50,000 purse for prizes, in addition to the $25,000 first prize and $10,000 second prize offered by James Dole of Hawaii.

The rules committee has been waiting to receive the rules of national and international aeronautical organizations before formulating rules for the flight. Chamber of Commerce directors, who have pledged aid to the citizens' flight committee, will discuss the project at a meeting tomorrow.

GLENDALE FLYER PLANS TO ENTER RACE

GLENDALE, June 8. (AP)—A move to place the name of Glendale up near the top of the aviation history that America is now making was launched here today when announcement was made that R. M. Spencer, veteran flyer and airplane designer of this city, has volunteered to make the Los Angeles-to-Honolulu flight if $15,000 can be raised to finance the attempt. Simultaneously with the announcement, which was made at a meeting of the Glendale Breakfast Club, a campaign was started to raise the money among community organizations.

PAIR AT FRESNO SEEK TO COMPETE

FRESNO, June 8. (AP)—Harold L. Zufall and W. S. Williams of this city announced today plans to enter the San Francisco-Honolulu nonstop airplane contest and also the Yokohama flight, if they can procure a plane.

Both of the men served in the air corps during the war and are now making arrangements to obtain the necessary financial backing. Zufall and Williams are married and each has a child.

D'AUTREMONT BROTHERS HELD

said tonight he had received word from Steubenville that Federal officers had captured Ray and Roy D'Autremont. Both brothers have been positively identified and have admitted their identity, Bartels said.

State and Federal officers have been working in Ohio for several months, Bartels said, on tips that the two brothers were hiding in Eastern Ohio.

More than $20,000 in rewards was out for the capture of the brothers and police have conducted a worldwide search since the hold-up.

FOUR KILLED IN HOLD-UP OF PASSENGER

MEDFORD (Or.) June 8. (AP)—The hold-up of the Southern Pacific train in which four men perished and with which Hugh de Autremont, now on trial for murder at Jacksonville, this State, and his brothers Roy and Ray, arrested tonight in Steubenville, O., are charged, occurred on the summit of the Siskiyou Mountains on October 11, 1923. It was just at the noon hour as a tunnel seventeen miles south of Ashland, in a densely wooded, wild mountain district that three men, after lying in ambush, commandeered the train as it slowed down at a grade.

The men killed were: S. O. Bates, 55 years of age, engineer of Dunsmuir, Cal.; M. Seng, fireman, Ashland, Or.; Coyle O. Johnson, 40, Ashland, brakeman, and C. F. Daugherty, 38, mail clerk.

Bates and Seng were killed as the bandit trio took command and brought the train to a halt. Powder burns and wounds indicated that the guns in the hands of the killers had been placed directly against the trainmen's heads.

CLERK DIES IN CAR

Daugherty, the mail clerk, died inside his car, after the robbers had blasted the express and mail car with nitroglycerin. The car was reduced to a tangled, twisted mass of steel by the explosion, and Daugherty was burned almost beyond recognition. The charge of explosive was detonated by means of an electric magneto connected by wires leading some distance away from the train. Several passengers on the train were injured by glass broken from the coaches by the force of the blast.

Johnson was riding on the train to Dunsmuir, to report for train duty, and at the stopping of the train left the coach where he was traveling to investigate. He encountered the robbers, and was killed after making a fight.

CLEW UNCOVERED

It was not until October 23 that the three De Autremont brothers were mentioned in connection with the crime. Their names were linked with the case through discovery of an old money order receipt found in a pocket of the overalls picked up near the tunnel.

Ray and Roy de Autremont, twins, were 23, and Hugh was 19 at the time. Their home was in Eugene, Or.

Investigating officers found that on September 17 the three brothers had left Eugene for Southern Oregon on a hunting trip, driving an automobile. Hugh returned a few days later with the car, leaving it at Eugene, and went south again, saying he was to rejoin his brothers.

Rewards totaling $15,900 were offered and in three and a half years following the hold-up many suspects were picked up in various parts of the country. The arrest of Hugh de Autremont at an army post in the Philippines was the first definite result of the world-wide search for the three accused men.

TREND OF SOVIET TOWARD CALM INQUIRY

MOSCOW, June 8. (Exclusive)—The substance of responsible opinion in the soviet republic as to the consequences of the assassination of Peter Lasarevitch Votkoff in Warsaw is that the unfortunate incident is "another Lausanne, but not another Sarajevo." Such details of the crime as are available in Moscow, coupled with repeated expressions of horror by the Polish authorities seem to dissipate the apprehension of war unless unforeseen friction develops.

However, soviet opinion sees a distinct parallel with the assassination of Vorovsky at Lausanne which followed Lord Curzon's note, while the though it occurred in the morning, lowed a break with Great Britain. The severing of relations with Switzerland for four years on account of the Vorovsky incident indicates the possibility of unpleasant relations between Poland and the soviet republic which have never been unduly friendly.

GRIPPED BY FEAR

Though the details of the funeral have not been announced, the arrival of Votkoff's body and his burial are expected to occasion a monster demonstration. News of the crime, latest murder of a soviet minister, did not circulate in Moscow until after midnight, when it was broadcast through the radio. Though ready to fight if necessary, especially against Poland, fear of the horror of another war overshadowed the indignation caused by the murder, which cast a gloom over the throngs in the cafes and streets.

Editorial comments lead public opinion along the lines suggested in the note prepared by Maxim Litinov, acting Commissar of Foreign Affairs, and presented to the Polish Minister, M. Potek.

"We do not know the details of the crime, but we know whose hand directed it," says the Moscow Pravda, which expresses the policy of the Communist party. "Such a crime could not have been perpetrated without the participation of those directing the struggle against the soviet republic. The role of the British Conservative party is well known, and this act is another drop in the overflowing cup of the patient soviet population."

With a cartoon showing an outstretched hand holding a smoking automatic and another hand above the British union jack, the aim being at Moscow, the Izvestia, expressing the government's policy, says:

"London is ready to grant indulgences to any civil act against the soviet union. It is now of murderers of which M. Votkoff was the latest victim. At the first call of the government our people will be ready for an armed defense."

The Foreign Office has ordered two weeks of mourning at all the offices at home and abroad. All the foreign legations presented condolences. Black-bordered flags appeared at daylight in front of every building and Votkoff's picture was displayed in the windows in the business centers.

PEACE STILL SOUGHT

Negotiations for a combination of North and South China military leaders with peace as its goal still are in progress, while the military situation has reached a stalemate, Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, the Moderate Nationalist generalissimo, and Yen Hsi-Shan, military governor of the Province of Shansi, still are in communication, but nothing further of their plans has been made public.

Observers believe that Chang Tso-Lin will remain in Peking for at least several weeks and that when he turns the city over, as is ultimately expected, the process will be peaceable and will be by arrangement among the principal war lords concerned.

PEKING PROTESTS LANDING OF MARINES

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Protest against augmentation of American forces at Tien-tsin has been filed with Minister MacMurray by the Peking Foreign Office.

Minister MacMurray advised the State Department today that the Chinese authorities contended that under the Boxer protocol the country was entitled to maintain only such forces as were actually needed to keep open communications between Peking and the sea. He replied that in the judgment of American military authorities, the reinforcement by marines was necessary to carry out the purposes of the protocol.

BRITISH BOATS FIRED ON BY CHINESE SOLDIERS

LONDON, June 8. (AP)—British motor boats and yachts have been fired on by Chinese soldiers near Lunghua, Kiangshu, on the Whangpo River, British Admiralty reported today.

A motor boat from the British cruiser Hawkins, flagship of Vice-Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt, commander-in-chief of the British naval forces in China, was dispatched to inform the Chinese Commissioner of Foreign Affairs at Shanghai that unless the Chinese general commanding the offending troops apologized the admiral would feel at liberty to take retaliatory action.

BEACH GHOSTS STIR T

Headless Horseman and Vanishing G... Near Where Theodosia Burr Ma...

MANTEO (N. C.) June 8. (Exclusive)—Headless ... ghostly beings now march nightly on the beach in the ... Nead, according to apparently authentic stories ... Boenight, member of the Coast Guard crew at ... two years, has been reporting strange doings, and ... George Midgett, another Coast Guard, has ... But now Midgett is convinced, for ... he has seen with his own eyes, and has run with his own legs from a huge strange man dressed in white, whom he encountered strolling along the beach in the moonlight.

Boenight declares that he has seen a headless horseman riding furiously and strangely near the spot where a ship, years ago, went ashore, bearing the beautiful Theodosia Burr, daughter of Aaron Burr.

SAW THE GHOST

Mrs. Alice Grice, owner of a summer cottage at Nag's Head, was out driving along the beach in her car a night or two ago. The car stuck and she hiked for aid. She saw a man—or what she thought was a man. She called for him to help her, and even as if ghosts know what stuck automobiles are, he vanished into the air, leaving not a trace of his going. He evaporated before her eyes.

Older residents for years have been telling tales of haunted places and of sights they could not explain. Mrs. Pittie Tillett adds her word and says that her husband often saw strange things he could not explain.

Some of the less credulous believe that smugglers may be at work on the long, barren shores of sand, but Capt. Walter Etheridge, chief of the Nag's Head station, avers that they are not, for his beach is thoroughly and closely patrolled.

ONE HUNDRED DIED

Popular belief inclines to give credit to the stories. Capt. Tillett was in the Coast Guard service and was on Nag's Head when many wrecks came ashore. Mrs. Tillett says he often ran into his ghosts right where the Huron came ashore in 1877—just half a century ago, carrying to their deaths more than 100 of the crew.

Coast guards at Kill Devil Hill and at Nag's Head are just a little worried over the strange things that are reported seen and are investigating, each hoping to be able to run into a real, honest-to-goodness ghost, but as yet no clues confess.

In the meantime it's mighty hard to get the more venturesome of the natives to sally forth after dark without some stout companion to bolster their nerves.

Few Injured as Crack Limited Hits Pullmans

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) June 8. (AP)—The New York Limited, crack night express of the New York Central Railroad, bound from Cleveland to New York, crashed head-on into two Pullmans filled with sleeping passengers on a siding near the station here about 1 a.m., standard time, this morning.

More than 100 passengers in the Rochester Pullmans, which were waiting to be attached to the Boston Express No. 46, were hurled from their berths and some of them cut and bruised. Physicians found that few passengers needed medical attention, however.

Railroad officials said that a switch tender had thrown the wrong switch as the limited entered the station yards. Apparently the fact that the limited was traveling slowly averted a serious accident.

CRY FOR BOATS RISES HIGH ABOVE SWIRLING FLOOD

Vessels of All Sizes Worked Day and Night Carrying Victims to Safety at Vicksburg

[This is the fifth of a series of articles by Harris Dickson, famous southern writer, portraying the horrors and suffering in the Mississippi flood area.]

BY HARRIS DICKSON

[Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

VICKSBURG (Miss.) June 8. (Exclusive)—"Boats! For God's sake, boats!" Up from the fertile lowlands there rose a cry for help. Up from a tangle of sodden sacking, and wave-washed barricades of planks beside the river; upward from a quick loosening of tongues, where men had stood for an instant paralyzed. Up from the roar of waters, rocketing above the frothy turmoil, extricating itself from a whirl of debris, rose the call of human creatures in distress. "Boats! For God's sake send us boats!"

Fight, fight, fight to hold their levees, those stubborn gladiators of the mud had not yet thought of flight. Stumbly, for weeks, they had confronted the monster, when all at once the embankment gave way beneath their feet, and a raging river, furious at the hindrance, burst through to overwhelm the lands.

"Boats, for God's sake, send us boats!"

The triumphant course of the flood might be traced by the cries of men, as the course of a hunt is followed by those who listen to the baying of its pack. Cypress Creek, Boggy Bayou, through Panther Forest swamp. Now! The overflow strikes Mason's Ridge, splits in twain. Divided armies of water cross the Louisiana frontier. Farmers in the Tensas Basin, the Boeuf River basin, are shouting. "Boats! For God's sake, boats!"

HELP FROM NEW JERSEY

Listen! The levee breaks at Cabin Teela. That's on the Mississippi River itself. Those limitless waters add their flow. East Carroll is calling, and Madison. The V. S. & P. Railroad is cut. Tallulah goes under. Southward. Southward. A new crevasse at Winter Quarters! Another cataract from the exhaustless Father of Waters. The lovely little town of St. Joseph is submerged.

"Boats! For God's sake, boats!"

Far away New Jersey hears the cry. A trainload of surfboats is rushed from the Atlantic coast. Record speed. The train has right of way across half a continent. Never stops. Never Stops. With gallant crews to man them. At Natchez, Quickly! Quickly! Lift the boats from train to river. Go. Go.

Southward. Nothing can impede that flood until it be swallowed in the Gulf of Mexico.

"For love of le bon Dieu! Batteaux! Batteaux!"

CAJUNS JOIN CRY

Another language, Acadian French, the imploring of peaceful folk so long ago driven from their own land to seek refuge in ours. An American overflow surges through the forest primeval. From beside the oak of Evangeline, people are appealing for "Batteaux, m'sieu, Batteaux!"

Farther northward—we heard it as we went—that same mad cry had leaped the Mississippi River to spread terror on its eastern banks. The levee had broken in Washington county, Mississippi, just below the Beaulah crevasse of evil memory in 1912.

"Boats, boss. Fo' God's sake, can't you lemme have a boat?" They are mostly negroes now, helpless black folk.

Vicksburg heard their call for help. Vicksburg perched safe and dry upon her battle crest.

"Boats! We must send boats."

PASTOR ASSISTS

When the call reached Vicksburg, Rev. Gordon Reese, rector of Holy Trinity Church, rang up Norman Schlemmer who had a boat used for towing logs. It was then 11 a.m.

"Schlemmer, when can you go?"

"I'll steam up and leave at 1 o'clock."

"Fine."

With them went Dr. Francis S. Wells. And Charles Colhoun, young cotton man.

At 1 o'clock Norman Schlemmer's boat pulled out from Vicksburg, with provisions, and towing a barge.

Rescuing settled down to a single method: light craft, skiffs, some with outboard motors, skimmed across the submerged fields, or threaded their perilous way through flood forests, picking up stranded inhabitants, out of trees, cabins, bridges. Swarms of little boats scouted everywhere, looked far beyond their limit, and brought draggled passengers to some point where the bigger boats could get them.

NIGHT NO RELIEF

When steamer and barge were burdened to the brim they carried the refugees to Vicksburg and hurried back for more. Night didn't stop them. Rescuers must also fight in the dark—dangerous work. Even had there been no stress, navigation itself is prohibitively difficult when a flood rises. In flood, boats are lifted to the treetops.

That grim-lipped pilot, Capt. Degruy, who rarely speaks a word, feels his solemn responsibility. A canvas cap pulled over his eyes. A dumpy fellow, his resolute chin flinches at nothing.

The Miller family, white people, husband, wife and eight children crowded into two small rooms. Oldest girl ill with pneumonia. No treatment. Almost impossible to convince them that the overflow will rise much higher, and they must get out. In dozens of such cases rescuers resorted to something nearly resembling force. However, the younger girls dressed in their best, as if for a party, powdered their freckled noses, and got on the boat.

PHONOGRAPH PLAYS ON

From across the waters they hear music. The cabin is almost totally submerged. By lying down in the skiff they get through its door. There's the phonograph playing merrily. Jazz tunes. On a scaffolding built up into the roof a dozen men and women sit around it. Very black people with very white teeth. And happy. Having a good time, eating out of pans and listening to Broadway.

"No, suh, boss, thankee, suh," one of the black men called down. "Us don't want to go no place, but I'd be powerful glad to git some rations."

Many families, white and black, showed the same attitude. Refused to leave their scant belongings, their cattle and poultry to drown. If they remained it might be possible to save them. But seven feet more of water drove them all to Vicksburg.

COOKS ON SCAFFOLD

At Murphy Landing on Big Sunflower, Mr. Oates kept his store, a country store whose chief merit lay in the fact that it stood a few feet higher than most.

This store became the base from which a volunteer fleet of small boats deployed. Somewhere there must be a recording angel to credit the brave, say-nothing fellows who paddled these boats.

All comers were fed at Oates's store. Mr. Oates had built up a scaffold and moved provisions above the flood. Upon that scaffold the competent Mrs. Oates, a girl of 21 years of age, with her younger sister, cooked night and day.

Friends and strangers alike, she fed the hungry. Through her alone the rescuers were able to carry on. Such were some of the folk whom the rector of Trinity went out to help.

On a bridge which crosses Sunflower River at Holland's Landing, both ends cut off by water, were at least 500 people with a great many cattle. At that time the water had risen within six inches of its floor. A little later the floor went under as much as four feet. Above, at the Bogue, 128 negroes were standing in water two feet deep on the gallery of an old house.

STAYS TO BURY BOY

On an Indian mound were many others. Just before the Schlemmer boat reached this mound a negro boy had fallen out of a skiff and drowned. The mother and other children were brought away, but the father said:

"No, boss. I'll stay here an' bury my chile."

The Schlemmer outfit alone, on its return trip, boat and barge, brought 230 negroes with sixty whites to Vicksburg, including the gallant Mrs. Oates. This little lady had got the habit of cooking and couldn't stop; continuously she made sandwiches and coffee for those on board.

Other boats were now in the river, and never was the evacuation of a country more swiftly made complete. Organized and operating out of Vicksburg were fifty-six small motorboats, eight large gasoline craft and eleven steamers, most of them towing huge barges. A colossal job, marvelously well done, violating every law of navigation, perhaps, and yet without a casualty.

MOUNTAINEERS REFUSE RELIEF

"Send Money to Mississippi," Proud Reply of Kentucky Flood Victims

VICCO (Ky.) June 8. (AP)—Penniless victims of last week's floods, too proud to visit Red Cross headquarters for help, are crouching in their mud-covered, storm-twisted homes here, without food or adequate clothing, sleeping on water-soaked beds and yet refusing the "charity" of the Red Cross.

"Send the money to the Mississippi Valley," one victim declared. "We mountaineers can take care of ourselves." This is a typical attitude against which relief workers were struggling.

RIVER CITIES IGNORE NEW FLOOD PERIL

Return to Homes Goes on in Louisiana in Spite of Second Crest Approach

NEW ORLEANS, June 8. (AP)—While families are evacuating their homes in some sections of Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois before the threat of a new flood, rehabilitation of the flooded Louisiana territory slowly continues despite the fact that the new crest will prolong inundation of the Tensas and Atchafalaya basins.

The steamer Kankakee left Baton Rouge today with 300 refugees who are returning to their homes near Simmesport, La. A few persons were evacuating the concentration centers at Alexandria and Lafayette.

Tentative plans were under way tonight for the demobilization of the government boats which have been bearing food and supplies to the Louisiana camps. The service will be maintained by the American Red Cross, relief officials said.

Waters crept upward today in the lower Atchafalaya basin with another foot rise predicted before the crest is reached.

The Weather Bureau reiterated its warning that the new flood probably will cause the southern portion of the Mississippi basin to remain largely flooded until August.

HICKMAN (Ky.) June 8. (AP)—The Mississippi River tonight was at the highest stage here ever known as the result of a "June rise," having reached fifty-one feet.

The entire basin at Dorena, Mo., was flooded as water poured through a crevasse there in a government levee. The crevasse was formed two months ago and had not been repaired. It was estimated that more than 50 per cent of the people living in the basin had again moved out to higher ground.

Every acre of cultivated land has again become flooded, with all cotton and corn being destroyed.

IOWA ONION CROP DAMAGED BY STORM

DAVENPORT (Iowa) June 8. (AP)—Pleasant Valley, an extensive onion-growing area near here, suffered $200,000 property damage last night by a rain, hail and windstorm. A Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger train was derailed by a washout and narrowly escaped plunging into a deep ravine. None of the passengers was injured.

FLOOD RELIEF NEARING MARK

Los Angeles Fund Reaches Total of $344,034.68

Disease Epidemic Feared, Says Visitor Here

Mississippi Planter Tells of Deprivations

Approximately $6000 separated Los Angeles yesterday from reaching its voluntary quota of $350,000 for the relief of Mississippi Valley flood sufferers as Chairman D. C. MacWatters of the local Red Cross chapter announced that $344,034.68 had been subscribed up to 3 p.m. This included $165,339.97 contributed to The Times' fund.

Mrs. David B. Covell, chairman of the United Church Women's rummage sale, turned over $125 to the Red Cross from the proceeds up to noon. More than $380 has been deposited with Chairman MacWatters by the churchwomen as a result of the first three days of the sale.

The deed to a lot at Great Bear Lake, valued at more than $500, was given to the sale yesterday by W. S. Canouing. Efforts will be made to dispose of the property and the proceeds will be used to alleviate suffering of the flood victims.

SALE BOOTH OPENED

A booth for the sale of articles was opened at 1402 North Main street and another one is expected to be established within a few days at Belvedere. Mrs. Covell announced. Headquarters for the sale is at the Jonathan Club.

Contributions to the Red Cross yesterday included $50 from San Rafael Chapter, D.A.R.; Eagle Rock Hills, $140.50 through employees of the Southern California Edison Company; $500.86 from employees of the Los Angeles Railway Company, and $24.20 from the First Congregational Church, augmenting that body's total, which is now $620. The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce came in 9922, of which $900 was the balance of the proceeds from the colossal Hollywood Bowl entertainment several weeks ago, and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce forwarded $182.30.

DISEASE EPIDEMIC FEARED

Dread of a repetition of the Mississippi flood and the eventual prevalence of diphtheria and other diseases, which would taken an even greater toll of life than the present catastrophe is the uppermost fear in the mind of terrified victims, is the message brought here by H. B. Cunningham, a successful planter of Woodville, Miss., who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Magoon of Hermosa Beach.

"It will be more than a year before the Federal government is in a position to furnish any great assistance to the inundated section," he said. "At least that time will be required for the flood region to sufficiently dry up to permit work of erecting new levees, changing the course of waterways and rebuilding the cities, towns and villages."

LIQUOR CONTROL NET TO TIGHTEN

Prohibition and Revenue Bureaus to Separate

Interchange of Information May Aid Efficiency

Three-Zone Enforcement to Feature System

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8. (Exclusive.)—Complete separation of the prohibition enforcement units and the internal revenue bureau's activities on July 1 will mark a general tightening of liquor-law control, chiefly through nation-wide interchanging of pertinent information, predicts E. R. Bohner, "dry" administrator for Northern California and Nevada. The new scheme of things will include not only Southern California but the whole West, which, in turn, will govern and be governed by the mutual transfer of data from zone to zone throughout the country.

On July 1 the special intelligence unit of the internal revenue bureau will cease to function as a co-operative agency in the enforcement of the Volstead Act, Bohner stated, confining its activities to investigations and prosecutions of the Internal Revenue Act.

GOES TO NEW POST

Having thus been divested of work which has been accumulating in growing quantity, the co-ordinating position held by Ali Oftedal will not be filled, Bohner said. Oftedal has been appointed assistant prohibition enforcement commissioner for the nation, with headquarters at Washington.

In Oftedal's place will step Maj. John Cooper under the title of zone supervisor of prohibition, who will have executive supervision of liquor enforcement over the West.

There will be only two other zones, Bohner explained, the Eastern States comprising one and the Southern States another.

"The idea," Bohner said, "is to obtain closer co-operation and exchange of information regarding smugglers and bootleggers throughout the United States, and between various Federal departments designed to hamper law breakers.

When the new system goes into operation, there will be no time lost in making it operative, apparently.

Conferences have been under way here for several days preparing the working details. Participating have been Bohner, Cooper, G. D. Jackson, zone supervisor for the southern and gulf coast zone; W. R. Hamilton, collector of customs; F. L. Austin, district director of the Coast Guard, and J. J. Deane, comptroller of customs.

BAFA ON LAWBREAKERS

Jackson's presence at the conference has been for the purpose of giving and getting data on smugglers and transporters operating on a scale of such magnitude to make it likely that interests extend from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean. He will have headquarters at New Orleans.

Generally, the co-operation between zones and various units is designed to parallel the co-operation between police departments throughout the country for the apprehension and identification of criminals. The additional work will be augmented by the operation of bureaus in Canada, Mexico, Cuba and Europe, it is said.

TURKISH GOVERNMENT BOOSTS RADIO DEMAND

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 8. (AP)—The introduction of radio into Turkey as a means of broadcasting important government announcements has resulted in a great demand for radio sets throughout the country. A particularly important incentive to acquiring radios has been furnished by the announcement that President Mustapha Kemal next September will make a tour of the country on the future policies of his government and that the addresses will be broadcast from the new Angora radio station.

CANADA RAPS BORDER BARS

Closure to Commuters Held Cause of Concern

Note Asking Negotiation Sent to Kellogg

Regulation of Immigration Recognized as Right

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Pointing out that termination of a long-standing arrangement whereby Canadians and Americans have freely commuted across the border in the course of business is a ground for concern, Canada's reply to the United States note on border immigration was delivered to Secretary of State Kellogg today.

The reply declared that there is no precedent for application of the term "immigrant" to citizens legally domiciled in another country and retaining their citizenship in that country. It submitted that six months cannot be called a "reasonable time" in which non-native Canadians can secure quota visas in the United States and that the sudden dislocation of the long-established border-crossing privilege cannot fail to have grave results in the Windsor area, where the community has been permitted to build itself upon a basis of freedom of movement across the international boundary in daily business.

The right of the United States to impose immigration regulations is recognized but with a suggestion that the retroactive principle of the recent border ruling will impose hardships. A further suggestion was made that those who have already established employment across the border should be exempted from the more drastic provisions of the order, either by an extension of the exempted classes or by elimination of the six-months time limit, or by some other means.

The note indicated that Canada will accept Secretary Kellogg's invitation to continue the negotiations which have been in progress for several months with the Canadian Legation.

Mexican Army Colonel Held on Drug Charge

NOGALES (Ariz.) June 8. (AP)—The Herald says today that dispatches to it report Col. Pablo Hernandez, Mexican Federal army officer, has been accused by municipal authorities of Mazatlan, Sin., of being the ringleader of an asserted organization of narcotic smugglers.

He was arrested when large quantities of narcotics were found in his possession, the reports say.

The dispatches report that Col. Hernandez will be held for trial and that his resignation from the Mexican Federal army has been requested. The Mazatlan authorities brought the charge after making a month's investigation of the asserted narcotic smuggling ring.

Col. Hernandez declared the heroine found in his possession had been taken from a prisoner. He told the authorities when called before them that he was preparing to turn over the drugs to officers when he was arrested.

H. C. Clapp Gets Term for Treasury Embezzlement

Draws Five to Fifteen Years for Abetting Crime

Two Former Officials Await Hearing in Case

RENO (Nev.) June 8. (AP)—H. C. Clapp, former cashier of the Carson Valley Bank, pleaded guilty today to the charge of abetting in the embezzlement of $316,000 from the Nevada State Treasury, and was sentenced to a prison term in the Nevada penitentiary of from five to fifteen years. The plea was entered in the District Court at Carson City.

Sentence was imposed by Judge Ballard. Clapp will be taken to the state prison at once, it is understood, to begin serving the sentence.

Clapp, together with Ed Malley, former State treasurer, and George A. Cole, former State controller, was arrested on May 7, last, on an executive warrant, and later was indicted by a grand jury.

Cole and Malley, who are held in the Ormsby County Jail in default of $100,000 bail, have not entered pleas, but have attacked the indictments as faulty. Hearing on their motions to dismiss the indictments will be held next Thursday. Malley and Cole both will plead not guilty to the charges, it is understood.

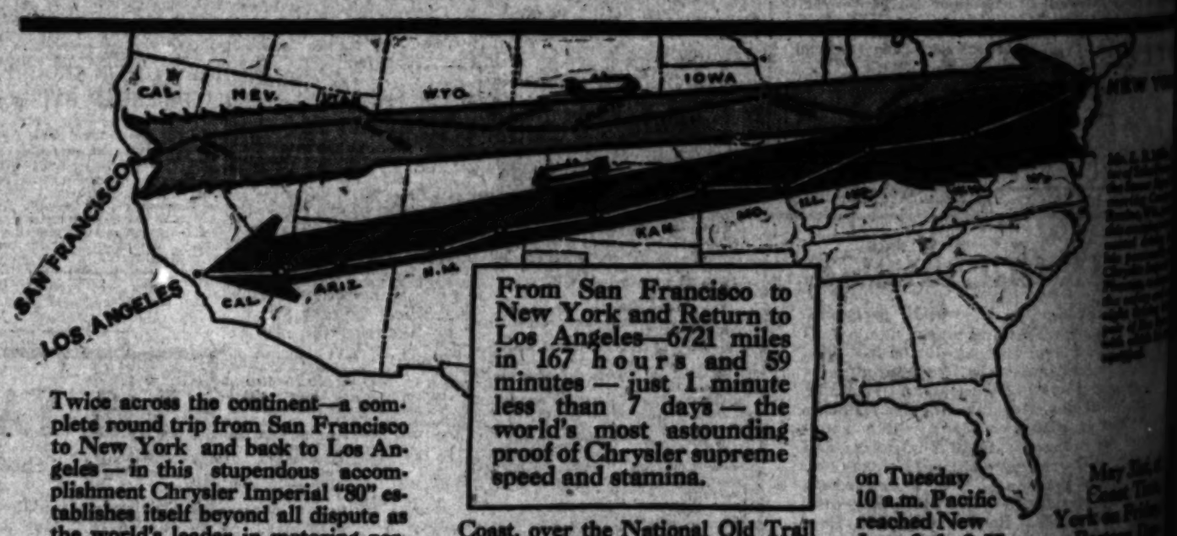
CHRYSLER

Accomplishes Unprecedented Fe



From San Francisco to New York and Return to Los Angeles—6721 miles in 167 hours and 59 minutes — just 1 minute less than 7 days — the world's most astounding proof of Chrysler supreme speed and stamina.

Twice across the continent—a complete round trip from San Francisco to New York and back to Los Angeles—in this stupendous accomplishment Chrysler Imperial "80" establishes itself beyond all dispute as the world's leader in motoring performance and stamina.

Not content with breaking all one-way transcontinental records by driving his personal stock Imperial "80" from San Francisco to New York in 79 hours, 55 minutes—absolutely without mechanical adjustment—Mr. L. B. Miller, of Racine, Wis., accompanied by Mr. John Wieber, of Portland, Ore., turned right around without losing a moment's time and sped back to the Pacific Coast, over the National Old Trail to Los Angeles—a transcontinental round trip of 6721 miles in 167 hours, 59 minutes—from coast to coast and back again in less than 7 days, averaging 1000 miles a day and maintaining this terrific pace for nearly a week—not over a prepared speedway, but through cities' traffic tangles, over mountain trails, rutted dirt roads, through mud and gumbo, as well as over concrete, brick and gravel.

Miller and his car left San Francisco on Tuesday May 31st at 10 a.m. Pacific Coast Time, reached New York on Friday June 3rd, 9:55 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, and arrived Los Angeles on Tuesday, June 7th, 9:59 a.m., Pacific Standard Time.

No greater proof can be given of the remarkable ruggedness and endurance of the Imperial "80".

No more convincing proof than this supreme test can be offered of the quality, engineering design and precision manufacturing which make every Chrysler Imperial "80" as fine as money can build.

HULVEY BLANKS FOES WITH TRIO OF BLOWS

Two-Bagger by Jim McDowell Ruins Rivals

OAKLAND, June 8.—The Oaks may be poison to some of the teams in the league, Sacramento, for instance, but they have no terrors for the lowly Hollywood Week before last Hollywood beat the Oaks five out of nine games, and they took up today at Oakland where they left off down south by beating the league leaders, 1 to 0, in the opening game of the series.

BUZZ ARLETT

Hank Hulvey pitched Hollywood to victory. He allowed only three hits, two of which were doubles by Joe Brateher. Joe did his part, all right, but his mates could not drive him home. Both time Brateher made a double, Hulvey walked Arlett on purpose to get at young Jack Fenton, and each time his strategy proved sound, for Jack popped up. Fenton has been mighty dangerous all season with runners on base, and it looked like a risky thing for Hulvey to pass Arlett, especially in the ninth with two men out.

WORKED ALL RIGHT

Brateher was on second at the time and the pass to Arlett put the winning run on base, a thing that old-timers in baseball dread like the plague. But it worked out all right, for Fenton popped to Gooch for the third out, which ended the game.

Evidently Hulvey has something on the Oaks this year. When the teams met down south a short time ago, Hulvey blanked the Oaks, giving them three hits. He repeated the performance today. In San Francisco, Hulvey

PERHAPS a great many of you don't know much about young Jackie Finkelstein of Chicago and Los Angeles, but I'm sure that before the year is over almost every one will have heard of him. Jakie is a lightweight who for some years has used the name of Jakie Fields, and he is so good a boxer that it does not take a great deal of imagination to picture him as some day wearing the crown that formerly adorned the brow of Joe Gans, Battling Nelson, Ad Wolgast and Willie Ritchie.

In proof of this contention let me remind you of the twelve-round no-decision bout between Fields and Lightweight Champion Sammy Mandell held in Los Angeles in April. Press reports agreed that Mandell got no better than a draw at most, and hinted that had his title been at stake there might have been a new champion crowned after the bout was over.

When I first saw Jackie Fields, he was working as a page in a Los Angeles hotel and boxing in amateur four-round bouts at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. One of his first bouts

DEMPSEY GETS HUGE BOUT BID

Former Champion is Offered $200,000 for Battle

Newark Promoter Will Name "Suitable Opponent"

Sharkey's Manager Comes West to Size Up Mauler

SOPER'S RANCH (Ojai, Cal.) June 8. (AP)—Jack Dempsey, announcing today the receipt of a $200,000 fight offer from Newark, N. J., for a heavyweight no-decision match with an unannounced opponent for a date in July, pointed out that he has received fight offers from Tex Rickard, Floyd Fitzsimmons and two other promoters, and said that he would not make a decision on accepting any until later.

JACK DEMPSEY

Dempsey returned to his mountain-ranch training camp last week after being in Los Angeles a short period for ring work. This he is continuing here, boxing with a sparring partner, Armand Emmanuel, and continuing outdoor hardening work which includes wood-chopping and mountain scaling.

A representative of Dempsey here said that Jack probably would break camp here next week and go to Saratoga Springs, N. Y., to finish off his training.

WOULD SELECT WORTHY RIVAL

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—The offer to Jack Dempsey of $200,000 for a fight in Newark, N. J., in July was made by James Brianza, Newark promoter, who declared he would pick a "suitable opponent" if the former champion accepted. Brianza said he and other interested had obtained use of the Davis Stadium, Newark baseball park, which has a

'Poosh-'em-Up' Tony Near Record With Sensational Hitting; Six Circuits in Game

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Tying the score with a spirited five-run rally in the ninth inning, the New York Yankees made it two straight from Chicago by winning out in the eleventh by 12 to 11 today. Lazzeri hit three home runs, his third circuit blow with Durst on base tying the score in the ninth. It was made off Connally immediately after he had relieved Faber.

Durst opened the eleventh with a triple, his fourth hit. Lazzeri was intentionally passed but Meusel whipped a single over Barrett to drive in the pair. Three runs, six hits and three runs today as Falk, Chaney and Barrett also hit homers for Chicago, making a total of ten for the two games played in the series.

Lazzeri's feat of hitting three home runs within a single ten-inning labor of tying the record league mark for a single game, which is held jointly by Ed Delahanty of the Philadelphia Nationals, and Robert Lowe of the Boston Nationals, both of whom have hit four.

TONY LAZZERI

Lazzeri hit a homer with one on base in the second inning, one in the eighth with none on and one in the ninth with one on, the latter tying the score at 11 all. His big homers successively in two times at

Helen Wills Shows Form in Kent Tourney

BECKENHAM (Kent, Eng.) June 8. (AP)—The play of Helen Wills, Mrs. Molla Mallory and Elizabeth Ryan in the Kent county championships, in which all three American players have advanced steadily, has attracted much attention among British tennis fans.

Experts who have been watching Miss Wills easily negotiating the early rounds of the singles agree that the young California star is playing better than ever, but that she has not yet been fully extended as she may be if she meets Mrs. L. A. Godfree in a later round. Mrs. Mallory also is felt to have improved since her last visit to England.

Miss Ryan's partnership with Miss Wills in the doubles yesterday, in which the Americans defeated the Misses B. Brown and R. M. Wilson without loss of a single game, is described as a perfect blend of playing.

FINNEGAN HOLDS UP BOUT

Board Postpones Feather Tournament; Hudkins Has Six-Month Wait for Dundee Fight

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Postponement of the featherweight "elimination" bout between Dick (Honey Boy) Finnegan and Red Chapman, both of Boston, from this Friday to June 22, was sanctioned today by the State Athletic Commission because of illness of Finnegan, reported by his manager to have "chills and fever."

Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska "Wild Cat" filed a challenge for a welterweight title fight with the new champion, Joe Dundee, but was told by the commission it could not be considered until Dundee's six months' period of grace expires in December.

ACE HUDKINS

Hudkins suffered a financial set-back when the commission extracted $1000 from the purse for his recent fight with Al Mello to reimburse the Coney Island stadium for a weight forfeit which Hudkins failed to put up last summer for a bout with Stanislaus Loayza.

K. O. Phil Kaplan, Harlem middleweight, was suspended indefinitely for fouling George Courtney of Oklahoma in their semifinal bout at the Polo Grounds last Friday night. Kaplan's purse was cut from $5000 to $1500 on the ground that he fought only two of the eight scheduled rounds.

Seraphs Send Moss Back to Brooklyn Club

Ray Moss, who came to the Angels in part payment for Jigger Statz, has been sent back to the Brooklyn Dodgers, it was announced yesterday by the management of the Los Angeles club. Moss was expected to prove a winner for the local club, but he has turned in only one victory for Marty Krug, so the Angels could see no use in keeping him any longer. The Angels will get a cash sum from the Dodgers in place of Moss, as the deal stipulated, provided the hurler did not prove satisfactory to the local club.

Ned Niles, a right-hander whom the Cherubs signed about a month ago, was given his release by the Angels yesterday.

STECHER RETAINS CROWN

Wrestling Champ Flops Jones Once and Carries Off Decision in Daro's Olympic Show.

Joe Stecher, heavyweight wrestling champion of the known world, successfully defended his crown at the Olympic Auditorium last night before a crowd of 3000 fans when he won a two-hour time-limit decision over Paul Jones of Texas.

Stecher won the one and only fall of the bout to give himself the edge, and that margin brought him victory.

With only seven minutes remaining, Jones clamped on his favored hook-scissors hold and Stecher floundered around considerably to keep from being thrown and managed to last the route without falling to the canvas.

JOE STECHER

Stecher got the first fall in one hour, twenty-one minutes and twenty-nine seconds of wrestling. The champion applied his famous body scissors for the third time and had Jones on the mat in fifty seconds after the application. The Texan did considerable squirming, but couldn't get loose.

Previous to the fall, Stecher had twice applied his scissors hold, but Jones broke it twice. The champion was very cautious, and stayed away from any indication of a hook-scissors, Jones's favorite hold, by crawling into his shell, or through the ropes. Once Jones broke from a scissors hold, seized Stecher by the feet and whirled him around like a fifty-six-pound weight and let fly. Stecher, however, landed easily, and no damage was done.

BAY CITY OARSMEN BACK FOSTER IN SKIFF DERBY OVER CATALINA CHANNEL

LONG BEACH, June 8. (Exclusive) Already famous from the natatorial exploits of George Young and Bill Wrigley, of chewing-gum identification, the Catalina Island Channel is about to burst forth in an additional volume of publicity and attention Sunday when the class of oarsmen of Southern California and outside points strive to get their lunch hooks on the biggest part of the $2000 in cash prizes proffered for the winners of the twelve-mile row from this city to the Magic Isle.

Although no favorites have as yet been established, a name commonly associated with the expected leaders of the event is that of Bob Foster, Los Angeles municipal lifeguard stationed at Venice. Foster has won the lifeguard rowing races off the Santa Monica Bay District shore for the last three consecutive years.

To be different from the more than fifty contestants entered in the moneyed contest, Foster will compete standing up. This style is peculiarly suited to Foster, who finds that he can put his entire body into his stroking from the upright position. Fos-

Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Philadelphia finished second with 254. Mrs. G. H. Stetson of Philadelphia, last year's champion, had 273.

NICHOLS WINS IN HURDLES DESPITE INJURY TO FOOT

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, June 8 (AP)—Ross Nichols, crack hurdler of the Stanford team, competed in two outstanding track meets and won places in both during the past few weeks with a broken bone in his right foot. This was revealed here by an X-ray photograph. Nichols suffered the injury while practicing in Philadelphia for the I.C.A.A.A.A. championships, striking one of the hurdles while going over. He placed third, however, and then came to Los Angeles to win the same event—the high hurdles—in the Pacific Coast intercollegiate last Saturday.

PITTSBURGH, June 8. (AP)—Breaking through with a four-run rally in the ninth, the New York Giants took the measure of the Pirates today by 9 to 7. After Cummins had hit a homer to start off the final session, Hornsby smashed for the circuit with two on. It was Hornsby's tenth of the year. Barnhart and Grantham hit a home run apiece but none was on base either time.

Aldridge and Barnes started, the former finishing on the short end but the victory went to Kent Greenfield, although Clarkson pitched the final inning.

It was the first New York victory over Pittsburgh this year, the Giants having lost five previous encounters. Aldridge had defeated the Giants twice during the May series at the Polo Grounds. Score:

The Cards had one big inning, the third, in which Bottomley and Schulte each got home runs with one on. Bichbourg got four hits, including a fluke home run, in six times at bat.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE SPORTING EDITORIAL BILL HENRY

THERE will be considerable local interest in the showing made by the athletes from the Northwest back at the national intercollegiate meet in Chicago this week. The boys who made such a splendid showing in the meet at the Coliseum last Saturday are participating in pretty full force at Chicago, and if such individuals as Anderson, Ington and Clayton of the Aggies and the peewee two-milers speeded to duplicating their performances of last week, they ought to cut pretty heavily into the total points. Another young man from Washington who has good prospects is the low hurdler, who led all the way in the local meet until he missed his step on the last barrier. He is good for 24s flat, and that is good enough to place anywhere.

It appears that Pete Poole, whose timing of Charley Borah's 440 was chronicled in this column several days ago, wasn't the only one who clocked the frizzy-headed Trojan on his meteoric circuit. According to Dean Cromwell, who ought to know what he is talking about, some six or eight individuals who are regarded as fairly accurate parties with a stop watch, clocked Borah Saturday, and the average of the whole bunch is 47 4-5s. If that's the case we'd certainly like to see Borah when he really is trying. The Trojan flyer unquestionably is capable of getting well under 46 seconds, and we're inclined to believe that he has possibilities of cracking Meredith's long-standing world's record.

Dropped in at the Olympic Tuesday night to see the celebrated sepia-colored battery, Baby Joe Gans, pitcher, and Young Gonzales, catcher. Gans pitched a pretty nearly perfect game, while Gonzales did equally well, never letting one of Gans's shots get by him.

Saw our old college chum, Bob Edgren, who had recently returned from the East, where he saw Sharkey flatten Maloney. He has considerable respect for Sharkey, on the grounds that he is a good boxer and a good puncher. Thinks he has a chance with Tunney.

Bob also reports from the J. Dempsey establishment, and thinks the ex-champ looks fine. Bob regards him as a cinch to flatten the daylights out of Gene Tunney if they have a return fracas. He says New York is crying, however, for Dempsey and Sharkey.

had no luck. If he was not wild, he was hit hard, but today he started well and finished the same way, and the Oaks had few chances to score.

Art Delaney pitched well enough for the Oaks to win an ordinary game, but as his mates could not score, Delaney had no chance to win. He was lifted in the eighth to let Valla roll out for him and Young Craghead pitched the ninth. He was nicked for two hits, but he struck out Hulvey to make the third out.

DELANEY WILD

Delaney was wild in the early part of the game, walking four men, but none of the passes were cashed into a run.

The one run of the game was scored in the sixth. With one out, Twombley singled and raced all the way home on McDowell's long double to left center. McDowell tried to take three bases on the blow, but was cut down at third.

JACKIE FIELDS'S LIFE SKETCH

was with a fellow club mate, Fidel La Barba, now flyweight champion of the world. Jackie lost the decision in that bout, but now he has grown bigger than Fidel, and would probably have no trouble defeating him if they should meet again.

Fields progressed rapidly enough to be sent to the national amateur championships in 1924, where he lost to his club mate, Joe Salas, in the finals of the featherweight division. But Jackie's boxing so impressed the committee that was picking the United States team for the Olympic Games that Fields was taken along. At Paris he and Salas met in the finals and Fields won the world's amateur championship. All three of George Blake's boys, Jackie, Joe and Fidel, turned pro soon after that, Salas and La Barba being managed by Blake and Fields by Gig Rooney.

Fields suffered one serious setback in 1926, a two-round knockout by Jimmy McLarnin, in which his jaw was broken, but eleven victories in 1926 show how quickly he forgot that incident. He is a marvelously fast and graceful boxer, a straight puncher and a hard hitter. Old-timers who have seen him work liken him to Joe Gans, because of his footwork, fast punching and classy boxing. Jackie should get by Kid Kaplan when they meet in the big Catholic Boys' Club benefit at the Polo Grounds in New York next week, and go on to far greater glory—and, perhaps, to a world title.

SCORES BIRDIE OFF SEA GULL

SALT LAKE CITY, June 8. (AP)—H. L. Selley, Salt Lake banker, scored a birdie on the fourteenth hole of the country club golf course yesterday that is "one for the book." Sea gulls are numerous on the course, coming inland from Great Salt Lake, a distance of nearly twenty-five miles. Selley hit a long spoon shot on the fourteenth green, which is within about ten yards of the out-of-bounds fence. One of the gulls espied the ball and, before it had stopped rolling, seized it and flew away, apparently under the impression that it had stolen a choice tidbit. The bird went over the fence before dropping the ball, so that the ball was officially out of bounds while still in play. Selley played another ball to the green, as no rule could be discovered to avert the penalty.

ANGELS LOSE TO PORTLAND

touched him up rather heavily when they did take a notion to rap his offerings. Couch allowed only eight hits, but he was responsible for all but one of the runs made off him because three of those Angel safeties were for extra bases with men on.

The Angels started the scoring in the first when Weis walked, Hemingway sacrificed, Cox got a double when Fisher let his pop fly fall safely in front of the plate, and Jahn followed with an infield out that brought Weis home.

Portland tied it up in the visiting half of the second with one of its gift counters. Prothro singled with one away and Sigafoos popped to Jacobs. McCurdy popped one up in back of second that Mitchell muffed, advancing Prothro to third. The pair then attempted a double steal with Prothro scoring while McCurdy was being run down between first and second.

The Angels got two more in their half when Art Weis backed up singles by Jacobs and Sandberg with a triple against the bleacher screen.

Both sides scored again in the third, the Beavers getting two on two walks, a single that filled the sacks and a wild throw to first by Mitchell on a play that should have retired the side scoreless.

ANGELS IN FRONT

Los Angeles forged ahead again in the home half of the round when Jahn singled to center, took second on O'Brien's fumble and scored when Jacobs singled to center.

The Beavers didn't score again until the sixth, when they put over two more to take the lead. Elmer Smith singled off Jacobs' glove for a starter and stole second after Strand and Prothro had been retired. Sigafoos walked and then McCurdy came through with a double against the left-field wall that scored both runners.

In the eighth, with Sanders pitching, Strand started things by hitting a high fly to center that fell safely and brought memories of Jigger Statz. Prothro bunted to Jacobs, who might have made a play at second but instead hit Doc in the back with the ball, both runners being safe. Sigafoos bunted the boys along, but McCurdy was retired on an easy pop fly to Hemingway for what should have been the third out. Fischer then hit one to right for a single and both Strand and Prothro scored when Cox skidded while fielding the ball.

The Angels wound up scoring for the day in their half of the eighth when Cox singled and Jahn delivered his towering wallop over the brick wall. Wally Hood and Tex Weatherby were sent in to pinch-hit in the ninth, but Couch got rid of both of them to clinch his victory. Score:

WHITNEY FEATURES AS BELLS WIN, 2-1

SACRAMENTO, June 8. (AP)—Missions took a jump on the series with Sacramento here today by knocking out a 2-to-1 victory. The game started out as a hurling duel between Barfoot and Kallio, each holding the opposition to three hits until the seventh inning. A double by McDaniel and Whitney's single in the seventh scored the first run. Whitney again figured in the scoring when his double in the ninth with two out tallied Slade. McLaughlin's homer in the ninth was the only Solon score. The score:

KLINE AND BUTLER IN SQUASH GO

Star Who Beat Schaumer Picked to Win L.A.A.C. Championship

The final match for the single squash-handball championship of the Los Angeles Athletic Club will be settled at noon today when Mortimer Kline clashes with Dave Butler.

Butler, due to his sensational defeat of Ad Schaumer in the semi-final round of the upper bracket, is the favorite to cop the J. C. low trophy. Schaumer was the big favorite to win the tourney until he encountered Butler.

Kline came through the lower bracket like a champion and will not be a short-ender in the match, though Butler may be slightly favored. Kline won his way into the final round at the expense of Maynard Laswell, retired, undefeated handball champion of the world.

Squash Commissioner J. C. Low of the Mercury club has announced that a doubles tournament will be staged in the L.A.A.C. in the immediate future.

FOSTER PICKED IN SKIFF RACE

ter will handle his favorite boat, "Blew From Venice," so named because of the sky blue color it is painted. It is the Venetian's intention to steal off a mighty chunk of the aggregate coin, and if his crack, Jack Starnes, is to be believed, he will fall little short of doing so. Starnes is an ex-Georgia Tech man, and has had rowing experience up and down the Atlantic Coast.

The job of paddling one's self across Wrigley's oftentimes-distempered waterway should require approximately eight hours, provided that the critics' "consensus of opinion" is correct. This would be about half of the time required by Young to get across without the aid of any agency but a coat of grease and a bit of a bathing suit, and slightly more than half of the time needed by Byron Summers, the Alameda fish, to speed away from the island to the mainland.

Santa Monica Bay District lifeguards are wagering a good-sized percentage of their salaries on Foster, that region's only entry so far. To see that their gambling investment is secure and to cheer Foster on against the field, including representatives of seven fourteen countries, the Santa Monica region folk have chartered a launch with which to cruise to Long Beach Sunday. The prizes for the unique event will be divided as follows: $1000 to the first to finish; $500 for second place, $250 to third place, and $250 for the first woman to the finishing line.

SHARKEY'S BOSS TO COME WEST

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—Johnny Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey, left here tonight for Los Angeles to take a good look at Jack Dempsey to satisfy himself on the former champion's condition and prospects of returning to the ring.

"I want to be sure," said Buckley, "that Dempsey is really going to make a comeback and is in condition to do so before I keep Sharkey idle all summer waiting for that opportunity."

The second annual invitational of the Lake Arrowhead Club will be staged over the Mile-High course Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 8, 9 and 10, it was announced yesterday. The all-grass nine-hole course, nestling in the San Bernardino Mountains, is in fine shape and more than 100 local golfers are expected to take in the enjoyable competition this year. The affair will probably be thirty-six holes medal, half or all of which may be played any day during the invitational. Complete plans will be announced later.

Jack Kilrane Goes Against Tom Hawkins

Tony Fuente being out of competition, Jake Kilrane is to be the opponent of Long Tom Hawkins in the ten-round main event at the new Pasadena Arena tonight. Thereby Manager Morrie Cohan seems to be playing in his usual good luck on substitutions, for the fight promises to be a much better one than the originally scheduled Fuente-Hawkins go.

This Kilrane is a San Francisco Bay sensation. He has beat such men as Leon Chevalier, Tiny Herman and Ralph Smith and is very nearly the size of Long Tom, being six feet one inch tall and weighing 200 pounds. Cohan had been figuring him for a main event later against Neil Clisby and now announces that the winner tonight will get a shot at the Ban Bernardino wonder. Kilrane is in the same stable with Baby Joe Gans, under management of Larney Lebehenstein.

There is no announced change in the rest of the Pasadena Arena bill. The six-round semifinal is between Hank Gatten and Rudy Steiner, a pair of sluggers. Wild Man Terrazas will come up from Long Beach to face Eddie Martino in the six-round semifinal, while Monrovia is sending its pet, Jack Haywood, to take on Bud Baker in the four-round curtain-raiser.

AD CADENA TAKES ON JOE LEOPOLD

If Ad Cadena succeeds in winning the main event tonight at the Culver City Stadium from his clever opponent, Joe Leopold, he will undoubtedly have to accept a return match with the local beach idol, Pedro Amador, whom he defeated about four months ago. Amador, who lost but two fights out of a total of forty during his last American tour, after arrival from Panama, is now conceded to be about ready to meet the present lightweight champ, but must wipe out his defeat by Cadena first.

The semi, which in all probability will prove a second main event, is between Joe Chaney and Billy Blake. In addition to the purse, the winner will get a chance at the winner of the main. Four fast supporting events are as follows:

Vernon Jackson vs. Tony Morales, Louis Riquivil vs. Tony Soltero, Tom Moore vs. Eddie Darden, Carl Hansen vs. Patrick O'Connor.

WOMEN STAGE GREAT MATCH

Mrs. Pressler Meets Titlist at California

Women Golfers Score Well in Competition

Consolation Round Carded for Today

Mrs. Gregg Lifur, southern titlist, deriving very little, if any, advantage from playing over her home course, will meet Mrs. Harry Pressler, of Hacienda, this morning in a semifinals championship flight match of the annual California club invitational that has been engaging nearly 100 local women golfers all week.

Golfing history has a queer way of staging unexpected repetitions and the match this morning will bear considerable resemblance to the sensational tilt at Hillcrest three weeks ago, when Mrs. Lifur first blossomed out as a real championship defender for the southern crown she won the day following.

In the southern, Mrs. Pressler, after winning the qualifying medal, continued to play perfect golf, but lost to Mrs. Lifur in a great semifinals match. The Hacienda golfer likewise passed the qualifying field in the California event with an 82 last Monday and has continued her masterful stroking through first and second-round matches.

Mrs. Pressler could never have bettered the golf Mrs. Lifur exhibited to win the southern championship in a finals match with Mrs. Dan Jones, women's State champion, and Mrs. Lifur is capable of a repetition of that sensational game this morning. As in the southern, Mrs. Jones in the lower bracket of the championship flight is laying back in great shape to meet the winner of the Lifur-Pressler match in the tourney finals, tomorrow.

Second-round matches afforded little opposition for semifinalists in the fast championship flight yesterday, Mrs. Pressler winning from Miss Helen Lawson, 8 and 6; Mrs. Lifur defeating Mrs. L. B. Elliott, 4 and 3; Mrs. Roy Green scoring a 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. Glenn Collison, while Mrs. Jones was claiming a 5 and 3 decision from Mrs. E. N. Phillips.

Mrs. J. H. Horan of Lakeside, traveling overtime in a first-round match Tuesday, was again forced to golf through twenty-one holes to win from Mrs. George Gardner in the second flight. Mrs. Fred Nelson stepped nineteen holes before defeating Mrs. A. R. Kelley and Mrs. John Reed collected the only other extra-hole match from Mrs. C. R. Stevens.

Semifinal matches will start at 9 o'clock this morning and there will be a special eighteen-hole medal round for all players defeated in first and second-round matches. Several entrants who qualified and were unable to play through will also be eligible to play in the added feature.

Second-round results yesterday, were as follows:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Mrs. Harry Pressler defeated Miss Helen Lawson, 8 and 6.
Mrs. Gregg Lifur defeated Mrs. L. B. Elliott, 4 and 3.
Mrs. Roy Green defeated Mrs. L. G. Collison, 5 and 4.
Mrs. Dan Jones defeated Mrs. E. N. Phillips, 5 and 3.

Pete Latzo to Face Flowers During July

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP) — Pete Latzo of Scranton, Pa., who lost the world's welterweight boxing championship to Joe Dundee here last Friday will attempt a comeback in the middleweight division. Arrangements were virtually completed here today for a ten-round bout between Latzo and Tiger Flowers, negro ex-champion of the middleweights, at Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 11 or 18.

Latzo decided he had outgrown the welterweight division when he had a hard time making the 147-pound limit for the title fight. In climbing into the next weight class he follows the example of Mickey Walker, present king of the middleweights, from whom Latzo won the welter crown

HART, BURNS DRAW IN WILMINGTON GO

Billy Hart and Tiger Jack Burns fought a furious draw in the feature event of an abbreviated card at the Wilmington Bowl last night. Leo Mitchell knocked Sailor Jimmy Finnegan down five times in the first round, and the Sailor stayed down for the count on the fifth occasion, giving Mitchell the semi-wind-up by a knockout. Billy Clark won five out of six rounds from Billy Atkinson and got a draw for his pains in the special. Jimmy Powers drew with Tony Portello in the opener. P. H. McFarland of San Bernardino refereed the bouts.

PIMENTHAL WINNER IN OCEAN PARK GO

Joe Pimenthal won an eight-round decision over Jack Spencer in the feature bout at the Ocean Park Athletic Club last night. Phil Nance won on points from Jose Mansour in the semi-wind-up at six rounds. Antonio Portello got the verdict over Herman Ritterhouse, Johnny Torres knocked out Bobby Palma in a round and Johnny Solis won by a technical knockout in one round from Jimmy Ryan in the opener.

RABBIT PUNCHES

THE California Boxing Commission will have to take off its hat to the New York Boxing Commission for heavy socking. The Gotham body yesterday suspended "K. O." Phil Kaplan indefinitely for fouling George Courtney at the Polo Grounds last week and confiscated $2500 of his $5000 purse "because he fought only two of the eight scheduled rounds."

Compared to this the worst sock passed out by our Boxing Commission for combined suspension and fine was the one handed Sully Montgomery, the ex-Center College football player. For alleged deliberate butting and low punching in his fight with George Godfrey a year ago last January Montgomery was suspended indefinitely and $1626—half of his purse—salted away in the commission coffers. So if some of the boys in this State think our noble commission deals too harshly with them, just consider the acts and deeds of the gents in New York.

The reunion of the famous old Johnston-Griffin tennis team for play in this year's nationals will be hailed with pleasure by hosts of net fans. The Bay City boys have three legs on the national doubles title, having won it in 1915, 1916 and 1920 and were always regarded as one of the toughest "team-play" combinations in the country. Although Griffin never attained the heights as a singles player that Johnston did he proved a superb partner for "little Bill" when the latter was the king-pin of 'em all and the aggregation will go down in history as a worthy rival for that other great Californian team, McLoughlin and Bundy.

Although Young Gonzales undoubtedly felt considerably pained as the result of his knockout at the hands of Baby Joe Gans the other night he was not alone in his misery. Thomas S. Gallery of Brentwood and other points was pained to the point of disconsolateness. He had Gonzales signed to a three-fight contract and released the Mexican to Hayden Wadhams after he had battled only once and won from Tommy O'Brien at Hollywood. Thomas planned to use Gonzales against the winner of the Adams-Hoppe brawl tomorrow night, but the T.K.O. stuff has upset his plans and caused him great mental distress.

With Johnny Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey and Johnny Vacca, on his way to Los Angeles, there may be some flares from the Dempsey camp this week-end. Before he left Chicago Buckley announced he would not waste time thinking about a Dempsey fight unless he was convinced the ex-heavy king is in the pink and serious about a ring re-entry this summer. In the meantime Dempsey is adding sparring partners as fast as he can land 'em, the latest acquisition being the former amateur heavyweight champion of the coast, Armand Emmanuel, who fights Tony Fuente at Hollywood next week.

heavyweight mat crown. Renato Gardini created a stir by leaping into the ring and trying to remove the silverware, but was restrained, and the presentation went off as scheduled, the Greek responding with a number of noteworthy bows.

Richard Schikat won from Paul Hansen in 41m. 55s. of wrestling, throwing his rival with a crotch hold. Hansen had been massaging Schikat's arm more or less severely and the German finally objected. He picked up the Nebraska Whirlwind, tamed him to a mere breeze and threw him to the mat. Hansen arose some seconds later intent on doing bodily harm, but was restrained by the energetic Tommy Travers.

Gardini won the opener from Tommy Thompson in 1m. 18s. with a flying headlock. Thompson started out by clamping on four headlocks in quick succession, so Gardini promptly tossed him head first to the canvas and Dr. Mace had to be called to aid Thompson from the ring.

NIGHT-TIME SOCCER GAME ENDS IN TIE

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP) — The first soccer game ever played here after dark resulted in a scoreless tie tonight between the Hakoah team from Vienna, Austria, and a picked eleven composed of New York Giant and Bethlehem Steel players. The novel game at the Polo Grounds brought to an end the Hakoah tour of the United States.

Both teams were well able to see the goals in the sun-like rays from huge floodlights, but close guarding kept them from booting the ball in. Time was called at intervals that the ball might be given a fresh coat of whitewash. The whitened sphere was clearly visible and the 18,000 spectators were able to follow the play almost as readily as in daylight.

DERN FLOPS ROGERS

PORTLAND (Or.) June 8. (AP)—Ira Dern, Salt Lake City heavyweight wrestler, defeated Stanley Rogers, Brooklyn, here tonight. After taking the first fall in twenty-five minutes and five seconds with a full-body pin hold, Rogers was tossed by Dern with an airplane spin for the second fall in four seconds. Rogers was so badly shaken by the crash that he could not come back for the third and deciding fall.

DICK HOPPE SHORT-ENDER IN LEGION BATTLE WITH ADAMS

Dick Hoppe is another good short-ender to win at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night. Johnny Adams will go to the post a favorite as he should, but that means nothing in the life of Hoppe, who did his final boxing yesterday afternoon prior to fighting the San Bernardino flash.

If ever a main event was a cinch to get over it is this one between Adams and Hoppe. The boys are what might be termed seasoned fighters and they know enough about each other to make the fight a corker.

There will be a delegation come from San Berdoo. Every time that Adams has fought at Hollywood he has had a big "gang" turn out from the old home town.

While Adams has been winning regularly of late and looks to be in the pink, he knows he is fighting a tough baby in Dick Hoppe. The semi-wind-up is a slashing fight on paper. Larry Murphy has never bested a fight in his life. He has been a good card since the first day he put on the gloves. If Larry beats Bobby La Salle he will just be signed for another appearance at the stadium.

Windy Winser is going to use every ounce of his energy to make Bud Cougier beat Jimmy Pella. Windy likes Cougier's style and he has about an even chance to beat Pella.

The two four-rounders look very good and they just add a touch of color to a whale of a show.

WASHINGTON ROWERS SELECTED FOR RACE

SEATTLE (Wash.) June 8. (AP)—The University of Washington crews which will row against the University of Wisconsin on June 17 and in the Poughkeepsie regatta eleven days later had been virtually selected today with the exception of one seat in the varsity.

The berth in question, No. 8, has two potential occupants. One is Capt. Norman Sonju. The other is Ed Pricks. Sonju, who has been in the Jayvee on and off since the California race, was given back his old seat in the varsity yesterday but Coach "Rusty" Callow made no promise that the husky captain would stay there.

MURPHY PICKED TO COACH AT PORTLAND

PORTLAND (Or.) June 8. (AP)—Gene Murphy, former Notre Dame quarterback, was named head football coach at Columbia University, Portland, today, to take the place of Vincent Harrington, former Notre Dame guard, who left for Sioux City, Iowa, to go into business. Harrington has been here two years.

OLYMPIC SIGNS BROWN

Colored Middleweight to Fight Second Spot With Vacca's Team Mate; Bogash Boasts Record

Lou Bogash, stable-mate of Johnny Vacca and Jack Sharkey, will box K.O. Brown, colored middleweight, in a second ten-round bout on next Tuesday night's show at the Olympic. The match was closed yesterday when Matchmaker Wad Wadhams completed his card.

The bout will precede the Vacca-Newsboy Brown feature flyweight elimination scrap. Bogash has a record that looks right out of the record book without any apologies or blushes. He has boxed Mike O'Dowd, Soldier Bartfield, Tiger Flowers, Jock Malone, Tommy Loughran, Tommy Robson and all the boys. He drew with O'Dowd and Bartfield. He won and lost to Flowers and Malone. Frank Moody mocked Bogash out, but Lou came right back and won a twelve-round decision from him.

Johnny Buckley, manager of Vacca, Bogash and Jack Sharkey, will arrive here Friday from Boston.

In Vacca Boston figures it has the next flyweight champion and Buckley is just as particular of his pewee charge as he is of Sharkey, who now has the call over Jack Dempsey in getting the big battle with Gene Tunney this fall.

Vacca is working at the gymnasium in Vernon and is drawing a lot of the curious fans to see him work. Everybody is anxious to watch the boy who twice whipped Fidel La Barba.

Brown is boxing at the Main-street club. The Newsboy will try to eliminate Vacca from the race and install himself next to La Barba.

Billy Blake meets Frankie Tenderf, the boy Art Brasthen is touting high, in the six-round special event.

Jack Miller boxes Manuel Quintero in the curtain-raiser.

Wadhams stated yesterday he would not require Vacca and Brown to post forfeits to 117 since both are now under weight.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT GETS AID BY BILL

The southern district will be assured of its share of the extension activities planned by the State Fish and Game Commission as a result of the passage of the increased-license bill, B. D. Marx Greene, executive officer of the commission, declared in an interview at the office here. In his interview Greene explained that Capt. C. S. Bauder, in charge of the southern district, would be given assistance in the way of more full-time deputies working in the area, under his jurisdiction. This not only means that Capt. Bauder gets more full-time deputies, but it means that a new game farm will be placed in Southern California, where pheasants, quail and Hungarian partridges will be raised for distribution; it also means immediate construction of a fine new hatchery in Mono county and the investigation of sites for more hatcheries in Southern California, Greene asserted.

Eight Years of Prosperity Are at an End

Dundee-Latzo Gate Not So Good, Says Pegler

Up to Challenger to Make Tunney Bout Good

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, June 8.—After eight years of almost unbelievable prosperity it seems that the reaction has now started in the prize-fight industry and at this distance from the hour of hostilities it looks as though this year's heavyweight championship production will be allowed to go at a reduced price. There have been two so-called big fights in the ball parks here this spring, one a championship matter between Joe Dundee and Pete Latzo, the other apparently the semi-final of the heavyweight elimination series, presenting Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney. Between them they drew less than half as much as a pair of discredited heavyweights named Luis Angel Firpo and Harry Wills drew on a chilly autumn evening on the mosquito flats of Jersey City a few years back when the boom was on and any portly gentlemen with sufficient agility to climb into the ring was likely to find himself a pugilist and suddenly rich.

GENE TUNNEY

PRETTY POOR FIGHT

Fighting a pretty poor fight after Firpo had been beaten by Jack Dempsey, Luis Angel and Willie played to $462,000 that night and the customers went there knowing that the performers in the star piece of the show were a couple of inveterate hasbeens. Dundee and Latzo only drew about $80,000 with the welterweight championship at stake last week and Sharkey and Maloney were good for only $134,000 at the turnstiles. A few years ago, Joe Lynch and Little Jack Sharkey, the bantamweight, drew that sort of money in the old Garden without a title between them.

This is not to say that the boys are underpaid. On the contrary the recent slump in the takings only indicates that the customers are slowly acquiring a discriminating sense of values. If the time ever comes when the prizefighters are paid not to exceed $5 a day with time out for the clinches, and a year in jail for foiling, the correct adjustment will have been reached. So there is yet room for reform.

Tex Rickard, of course, realizes that in any heavyweight championship bout this year the challenger must furnish the show because Gene Tunney has never captivated the clientele in his own town. His first big fight here was a pathetic exhibition with Martin Burke and after he began to have delusions of pugilistic magnificence it took a peculiar decision to save him from Ernimio Spalla, the Italian, in the eleventh round of a dull, dawdling fray. On this occasion, Tunney, the counter-fighter, was bumping Spalla monotonously when, in the eleventh round, Spalla suddenly unleased a right swing that caught Gene on the head and started him tipping. At that the referee stepped in and stopped the bout on the ground that Spalla was outclassed.

This conquest is one of the proud entries in Gene's record but the fact is that the referee's strange decision caused much talk at the time. So, although Gene is a fine counter-fighter and a fine knuckle mechanic it will take a very colorful party of the second part to attract the interest of the customers and Jack Sharkey who doubtless will get the match isn't exactly a peacock for color. In fact, Sharkey was up before the mast in this very town a year or so ago for stalling in a bout with Johnny Risko and explained to the prize-fight commission that he didn't stall but was just a punk fighter.

The cost of heavyweight championship fights since Dempsey won the title in 1919 has been $6,467,415. This represents the receipts of seven bouts, including three that drew more than $1,000,000 each. Dempsey went forty-nine rounds in all between the time he entered the ring against Jess Willard in Toledo and the moment when he fumbled to his corner wearing a colossal black eye on that rainy night in Philadelphia.

So Dempsey's work came to roughly $112,000 a round, and the knockdowns that enlivened his displays brought him about $275,000 each.

Considering the present apathy of the trade it seems likely that Tunney's work will draw no such price.

STAGE MIKE DONLIN BENEFIT TONIGHT AT PHILHARMONIC

Tom Mix and Julian Eltinge are the latest stars to offer their services to the huge Mike Donlin testimonial benefit to be staged at the Philharmonic Auditorium tonight.

Coincidentally with the wired promises of these stars that they would perform came the announcement that the old-time baseball players in California were going to put on a special act they had rehearsed for weeks.

News of the benefit has been kept from Donlin, who is now at the Mayo clinic, where his ailment, a malignant cancer of the intestinal type, is being thoroughly analyzed. It is the object of the testimonial committee, of which John Harrymore is chairman, to surprise the old-time baseball star with enough money to carry him through a major operation.

The show at the Philharmonic will start promptly at 8:15 and will last until the wee small hours of the night. From present indications it will be the greatest benefit entertainment ever staged in the city.

Twenty-five acts—each one starring an internationally known person, will be put on, but the prize offering of the evening's fun is an honest-to-goodness minstrel, in which at least thirty picture and stage artists are going to take part.

Among the featured acts will be a recitation of Hamlet's soliloquy by John Barrymore, and surprise novelties by Fred Niblo, Charley Murray, George Jessel, Lew Cody, Clyde Cook, Rosita, Marie Dressler, Sam Ash, Victor McLaglen and many others who have made reputations on the vaudeville, motion-picture or legitimate stages.

Entries Close for Santa Ana Net Tourney

SANTA ANA, June 8.—Entry books for the first annual Orange county open tennis tournament to be held here tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, closed tonight, according to A. A. Hunek, chairman of the committee for the Junior Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the court classic.

Virtually every player of note in this city will participate and the brackets also will include many able racketers from other places in this section. As a special attraction to the tournament Harvey Snodgrass, famed Los Angeles professional player who was a member of "Cash and Carry" Pyle's campaigners last winter, will be here for a series of exhibition matches with Simpson Stustaugh, Ed Berry and Dick Hinckley, all well-known Southern California players.

Among the local players counted to take part in the tourney are Miss Jo Cronkshank, a member of the Pacific Coast junior doubles team; Thelma Patton, Southern California junior college singles champion; "Bill" Cosgroft, former Southern California interscholastic queen; John Cress, city champion, and the Hill and Rurup twins, sensational Santa Ana junior high-school experts.

Open Tennis Title Event at Pasadena

The third annual Pasadena open tennis championships are scheduled for the 17th, 18th and 19th inst., according to Dick Charnock, who is handling the entries. Men's singles and doubles are the only events which the Pasadena Tennis Club event carries in its annual open tourney.

Last year's winner in the men's singles was Harold Godshall. This year a new possessor of the perpetual singles trophy will be in evidence for Godshall has evacuated the courts for the present season and will not be entered in this year's tournament.

Jiranie Buscher, present ranking player of Pasadena and a player to be feared in any of the Southland's net events, rules favorite to cop this year's event at the Pasadena club but will be hard pressed by Al Doff, Joe Cianno, Dale Isenhuth and others of equally high rank. Buscher and Clarence Barker won the doubles in 1926 and should the two team together this season another victory is almost assured them.

ANGLERS RUSH TO JOIN RAINBOW CLUB

Leigh Gurney, manager of the Rainbow Angling Club, sends word that in anticipation of the rise in the club's initiation fee, effective July 15, next, many Southern California anglers are joining the club, among them being W. F. Wiley, Earl W. Paul, W. F. Whitcomb, William L. Wilcox, Charles L. Cotant, J. E. Little, G. H. Walker, C. A. Van Wie and A. G. Ralph.

Fishing at the club continues ideal, last weekend finding another large crowd of rod-and-reel followers along the stream's bank.

LOCAL SPORT SCRIBE PROUD POPPA AGAIN

Matthew Howard Gallagher, baseball writer on a local evening paper, became a proud poppa for the fourth time yesterday and shoved the cigars around the press box at Wrigley Field. "It's a boy!" he announced with more or less enthusiasm, but declined to predict whether the infant was destined to be a second Babe Ruth or a second M. H. Gallagher. Both Mrs. Gallagher and the baby are doing well. The child was born at the Queen of the Angels Hospital and weighed ten pounds.

GOLDEN BEARS ARE AMBITIOUS

Californians Have Hopes of Three Crew Victories

Berkeley's Freshman Eight May Take Jaunt East

Varsity, Jayvee Shells Sure of Poughkeepsie Trip

BERKELEY, June 8. (Exclusive)—The Golden Bear may officiate at a grand California clean-up in the national intercollegiate rowing championships at Poughkeepsie next month if all three of the Blue and Gold crews now working out on the Oakland estuary under the supervision of Coaches Ky Ebright and Russ Nagler are sent east. Merits of the California varsity and junior varsity, or "jayvee" crews, have been broadcast long and handsomely. Now it is the turn of the freshman sweepsters.

It is not claimed for the California frosh that they comprise the strongest first-year shell in the country. Two of the most sensational freshman eights will not compete in the title regatta, however, and that's where California edges into the foreground. The Naval Academy freshmen who have defeated the Massachusetts, Harvard and Navy junior varsity boats, and the Yale babes, conquerors of both Columbia and Pennsylvania's young ones, will not be entered at Poughkeepsie.

After leading all the way except in the last few hundred yards of the home stretch, California's freshmen lost to Washington on the Oakland waterway by a quarter length. Capt. Courtney Bell rowed the two-mile race with his hands swathed in bandages. Bell is now okay and several changes in the California line-up lend even additional strength. Four of the men who pulled in the Husky race are now "second string." Nagler has his Bears lined up as follows, for the present: Stimson, stroke; Daily, 7; McKee, 6; Hayes, 5; Ide, 4; Smith, 3; Steiner, 2; Thaxter, bow, and Logan, cox.

As to the quartet of fresh crews regularly entered in the championships, Columbia, champion of 1926, is not the boat she used to be. The Columbians have been beaten by Kent School and Yale. Penn's youngsters were defeated badly by Navy's extraordinary crew. Syracuse, winner in 1925, and Cornell, champ in 1923, will also be in the rowing. Wisconsin entered a fresh crew two years ago to take fifth and last place. The Badgers may or may not be heard from this season as a contestant.

California finished second to Columbia's champions last season. The Washington freshmen trekked eastward in 1923 to also capture second, this time to Cornell. If the few thousand dollars still needed to send the Bear cubs away is raised, California may yet grab the rowing world by the ears.

BOWIE TRACK NEARLY DESTROYED BY FIRE

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—The Bowie Race Track establishment in near-by Maryland was almost completely destroyed by fire today, with a loss between $150,000 and $300,000. Grand stands, pari mutuel betting rooms and machines, bleachers and other structures were swept by the fire, but part of the paddock and the stables were saved.

CALIFORNIA NET STARS PLAN TOUR OF NORTHWEST COURTS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8. (AP)—Eight California tennis players have made arrangements to compete in outstanding tournaments in the Pacific Northwest this summer. They are Louise McFarland of Pasadena, junior girls' national champion; Marion Williams, Pasadena; Edith Gross and Carolyn Swarts, both of San Francisco; Herbert Suhr, Robert Allen, James Connell and Ray Velasco, all of San Francisco. Velasco is present holder of the Central American championship.

The players will open their invasion at Portland July 1 in the Oregon State championships, afterward competing in the Pacific Northwest championships at Tacoma and the Washington State championships at Seattle. They will also play in tournaments in Vancouver and Victoria, B. C.

A number of other court stars of this section, including Ray Casey and Bradshaw Harrison, are also considering entering the northern tournaments.

BIG BEAR LAKE IS STOCKED WITH FISH

Big Bear Lake, for many years regarded as the mecca for anglers of Southern California, is to be made even more of a fisherman's paradise due to the planting of blue-gill and crappie in the lake this summer by the California Fish and Game Commission, Judge Ralph H. Clock, Fish and Game Commissioner, announced here after being advised by W. H. Shebley, in charge of fish culture, that this could be done without interfering with the trout and bass fishing for which the lake is now famous.

In addition to the gathering of blue-gill and crappie for planting in Big Bear, Mrs. Shebley has sent a shipment of black-spotted trout eggs to Bear Lake to be planted there. The head of the fish-culture department explains that he expects the black-spotted trout will add to the population of the lake. This variety thrived in this lake thirty years ago, Shebley says, and he has high hopes of their adding to the trout supply.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO PLAY FOR NET TITLE

Entries for the first annual municipal city tennis championship will close Friday night, and play in the event will start Sunday morning on the eight new courts at the Griffith Park playground, officials of the title play announced last night. Play will be held each Saturday and Sunday until the final round is reached. Numerous entries already have been received, and several additional blanks are expected because of the change in closing date.

OLYMPIC CLUB WILL ENTER 14 RUNNERS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8. (AP)—The athletic committee of the Olympic Club last night decided to send a team of fourteen club athletes to the national A.A.U. track and field championship to be held at Lincoln, Neb., July 1, 2 and 4. The athletes will be selected within a few days.

EXTRA SESSION SEEN BY SMOOT

Utah Senator Predicts Call for October

White House Says President Has Not Decided

Tasks Facing Congress Make Early Meet Probable

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—First prediction of a special session of Congress in October by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, brought a quick reaction today at the White House, where it was announced informally that President Coolidge had made no definite decision.

The Utah Senator confidently declared after a long conference with the President that "there is no doubt" a special session will be called in the fall. When newspapers questing him reached the White House, however, word was hurriedly sent him from the Presidential office that Mr. Coolidge had not committed himself, and considered it entirely too early to decide whether a special session should be called.

SPOKE TOO SOON

The President discussed the special session question with Mr. Smoot, who, it had been indicated at the White House, is one of the Congressional leaders he desires to consult in determining the course. In making it known that the President had not arrived at a decision, Secretary Sanders said that no discourtesy was intended for Senator Smoot, and that when a decision is reached it would be announced at the White House.

With a heavy program facing the new Congress, Senator Smoot advocated its assembly at least six weeks before the regular December meeting date. He is chairman of the Finance Committee, which would handle in the Senate any tax-reduction bill, and he explained that the early meeting would be for toward relieving the load in accordance with Coolidge and farm-relief legislation demanding attention, along with the prospective revenue measure.

Passage of the deficiency appropriation bill, which was obstructed by the Senate filibuster at the close of last session, leaving government departments seriously crippled for funds, also was put forward by the Utah Senator as a necessity for a special session.

Moreover, he said, the Senate must clear itself now over the obstacle against the seating of Senator-elect Glenn of Illinois and Vare of Pennsylvania, both Republicans, making it additionally advisable to meet prior to December.

Senator Hamilton Nolan, Senator Jones of Washington, who called at the White House today, also suggested of the special session proposal. He is chairman of the Commerce Committee, which would be in charge of flood-control legislation, and he warned that lengthy consideration would be necessary to work out an adequate relief program for the Mississippi River Valley.

DATE SPECULATION

In the event the President issues a call for a special session Congressional leaders generally believe that he will select October 1 or 15 for the meeting time. This would coincide, with dates tentatively set by Chairman Green of the House Ways and Means Committee for the opening of hearings on a tax-reduction measure.

Should there be a special session it will be the first ordered by Mr. Coolidge for both houses of Congress since he became President, almost four years ago.

PICTURES OF WORDS SOON TO BE TRANSMITTED OVER RADIO

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—The era of communication by the square inch was heralded by David Sarnoff, Vice-president and general manager of the Radio Corporation of America, addressing the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Mankind probably will go back, not in the too far future, to picture transmission—pictures of words as well as photographic reproduction of images—for the basis of his written communication system," Sarnoff said.

Under laboratory conditions recently photographs have been transmitted with satisfactory detail in two minutes. A year ago it took forty minutes and commercial transmission now requires twenty. Speed much greater than two minutes is expected.

Sheets of typewriting containing more than 1500 ten-letter words have been perfectly transmitted and received in a few minutes, he said.

OFFICIAL ARRESTED AS GAME LAW VIOLATOR

CHICO, June 8. (AP)—E. S. Ribee, Butte county probation officer, was arrested here today on a charge of violating Sections 1 and 2 of the fur-trapping regulations of the State fish and game laws. The arrest was made by Deputy Game Warden Stanley, who charges that the skin of a brown bear killed October 9, 1926, was found in Ribee's possession.

Coolidge Told of Plan to End Radio Tangle

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—The Radio Commission will launch a program to stop interference between broadcasting stations, Commissioner Bellows today informed President Coolidge. He said the commission's plans, to be announced shortly, would provide three means of eliminating interference, by changing the wave length, by cutting the power of certain stations, and by dividing the time of stations. The commissioner also emphasized that the new allocation of wave lengths will serve only as a basis for a permanent allocation which would be worked out after a thorough test of the present system.

HORSE FALL KILLS COWBOY

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) June 8. (AP)—Ralph Tracy, 25-year-old cowboy of the Hays ranch, thirty miles south of here, died last night of injuries received when his cow pony stumbled and fell on him yesterday.

Baja California Looms as Next Mexican State

MEXICO CITY, June 8. (Exclusive) Baja California may soon become the twenty-ninth State of the Mexican confederation, it was learned today. The government is now studying the project and Secretary of the Interior Tejeda is now making a detailed inspection trip of the territory. Mail-call dispatches, which quote him, indicate that he considers statehood probable.

No decision will be made, however, until Secretary Tejeda returns.

Government offices were closed today on account of the funeral of Senora Calles and no statement could be had regarding the steps to be taken if admission is decided upon.

Try an' burn it!

Flame-proof!
Time-proof!
Beautiful!

JUST as this shingle defies the white-hot flame of the plumber's blow-torch, it defies the menace of flying sparks and burning brands that are the cause of most great fires.

Not merely "fire-resistant" but fire-proof. Why accept anything less, now that Johns-Manville has made the cost of complete safety so low.

No repairs

And there is further economy in a roof of Johns-Manville Rigid Asbestos Shingles, because no painting or repair cost will ever be necessary.

You roof once and for all with these shingles of indestructible asbestos and Portland cement. The first cost is the last.

A new beauty

You will welcome the interesting beauty of these everlasting shingles. Their hexagonal shape gives you a roof of broken line diagonals that is a refreshing change from the stiff straight lines of ordinary shingles. The shingles may be laid with either side to the weather—one side is a restful gray, the other a blend of soft warm coloring. Remember, these shingles will never wear out, warp, curl or change color. They are solid, substantial, permanent.

An education in shingles

An interesting demonstration of shingles awaits you at the office of every Johns-Manville dealer shown on this page. Let the nearest one make the famous blow-torch test for you. Let him show you the "storm-anchor" construction that holds these shingles tightly to your roof. Let him show you their beautiful coloring. Let him show you just how they look on a roof. These shingles are different—they are well worth investigating.

Re-roof for the last time with these everlasting shingles right over your old roof

Leave the old roof on. Lay these beautiful everlasting shingles right over it. No fuss, no dust, no litter of torn-off shingles on the lawn. No danger from rain while the work is in progress.

Then forget your roof. It will be everlasting—no costly repairs. It will be fireproof—you need never fear flying sparks. You re-roof for the last time when you re-roof with Johns-Manville Rigid Asbestos Shingles.

Commerce Department Gives Financial Statistics

Net Indebtedness Reduced by Twenty-one

WASHINGTON, June 8. (Exclusive) Figures compiled by the United States Department of Commerce show that the payments for operation and maintenance of the general departments of the State gove...ents of the forty-eight states for the fiscal period closing December 31, 1926, or the first fiscal period closing prior thereto, amounted to $1,040,394,482, or $8.96 per capita. This includes $388,561,144, apportionments for education to the minor civil div...ons of the States, and $6,974,014, payments of soldiers' bonus in seventeen States. In 1922 the oc...ive per capita for operation and maintenance of general departments was $9.19, and in 1917, $6.19. The payments for operation and maintenance of public-service enterprises amounted to $2,070,946; interest on debt, $73,860,094, and outlays for permanent improvements, $686,869,091. The total payments for 1926, therefore, were $1,814,297,806; for 1925, $1,814,083,330, and for 1917, $517,608,950.

The payments for soldiers' bonus in 1926 were $50,910,164 less than in 1925, but there was an increase in apportionments for the operation of $9,301,016. Interest charges also increased $9,297,147 over those for 1925.

Of the total payments in 1926, 94.6 per cent was for operation and maintenance of the general departments; 0.6 per cent, operation and maintenance of public-service enterprises; 4.8 per cent for interest on debt, and 99.8 per cent for outlays for permanent improvements.

Of the payments for operation and maintenance of general departments 39.9 per cent was for education; 17.9 per cent, charities, hospitals and corrections; 15.1 per cent, highways; 8.4 per cent, general government; 6.9 per cent, protection to person and property; 6 per cent, development and conservation of natural resources; 2.4 per cent, health and sanitation; 0.3 per cent, recreation, and 4.9 per cent, miscellaneous, the latter including soldiers' bonus.

The outlay payments for permanent improvements were principally for highways, constituting 31.4 per cent of the total outlays. The next in importance were the outlay payments for education, amounting to $68,851,478, and charities, hospitals and corrections, amounting to $60,190,788.

The total revenue receipts of the governments of the forty-eight States for 1926 were $1,6...,...,... This was $239,515,036 more than the total payments of the year, exclusive of the outlay payments for permanent improvements, and $46,916,903 more than the total payments, including those for permanent improvements. Not since 1919 have the States as a whole had a surplus of revenue receipts after meeting all governmental costs, including capital outlays for permanent improvements. Thirty-one States, individually, not only balanced their budgets, but had a surplus of revenue receipts after meeting all governmental-cost payments, and for no State did the payments for operation and maintenance and interest exceed the revenue receipts. Of the thirty-one States showing an excess of revenue receipts twenty-one show a reduction in their net indebtedness for the year. The surplus of revenue receipts is further reflected in increased assets, including cash balances in general administrative funds.

The two chief items of revenue for 1926 were $614,038,589 from business and nonbusiness licenses and $573,-674,180 from the general property tax.

The total per capita revenue receipts were $14.39 in 1926, $13.19 in 1925, and $8.14 in 1917. Property and special taxes represented 39.8 per cent of the total revenue in 1926. The increase in the amount of such property and special taxes collected was 104.9 per cent from 1917 to 1926, and 9.5 per cent from 1925 to 1926. The per capita property and special taxes were $5.56 in 1926, $5.07 in 1925, and $2.86 in 1917. Special taxes in 1926 included $90,681,794 inheritance taxes in forty-five States, and $39,626,323 income taxes in thirteen States.

Business and nonbusiness licenses constituted 37.2 per cent of the total revenue for 1926, 34.5 per cent for 1925, and 25.3 per cent for 1917. Receipts from business licenses consisted chiefly of taxes exacted from insurance and other incorporated companies, and the sales tax on gasoline; while those from nonbusiness licenses comprise chiefly taxes on motor vehicles and amounts paid for hunting and fishing privileges.

Receipts from the sales tax on gasoline amounted to $126,749,985 in 1926 and those from motor vehicle licenses, to $323,939,855. This was an increase of $40,996,671 in the gasoline tax and $33,228,545 in receipts from motor vehicle licenses.

The net indebtedness (funded or fixed debt less sinking fund assets) continued to increase, and in 1926 was $1,227,814,482, or $11.49 per capita. In 1925 the per capita net debt was $11.09, and in 1917, $4.99. Bonds in 1926 were largely for highways.

Twenty-three States effected a decrease in their indebtedness, but the aggregate increase in the net debt of the States during the year was $78,-715,918.

For 1926 the assessed valuation of property in the forty-eight States amounted to $143,691,975,725. The amount of general property taxes levied for State purposes in the States of Pennsylvania, North Carolina and California.

The increase for 1926 in the assessed valuation of property subject to the general property tax was $6,997,982,943 and the increase of the levy on this valuation was $11,827,-613.

COOLIDGE'S PET COON ESCAPES

Leads White House Servants Merry Chase in Trees for Two Hours

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Rebecca, pet raccoon of President Coolidge, slipped away today and for two hours played hide and seek with White House servants, who finally caught her in a tree in an adjoining yard.

The raccoon, quite a favorite with the President, seemed to take considerable delight in leading the searchers from tree to tree before she finally consented, quite peacefully, to being returned to her house atop of a stump in the rear of the temporary White House.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief to thousands of others, as entitled to the confidence and gratitude of all.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs, but finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and barks and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it when a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

WIDOW ON STAND IN STRIKE CASE

Surprise Marks Second Trial of Two on Charge of Killing Carpenter

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8. (Exclusive)—The second trial of Gus Madsen and George Pence for the asserted murder of Medvan Campbell in the carpenters' strike was lifted out of the routine of testimony in repetition of the first trial today by the unheralded appearance of Mrs. Marie Campbell, widow of the slain nonunion carpenter. She took the witness stand on behalf of the defense, but her testimony failed to become a part of the record.

Mrs. Campbell, whose existence was unknown during the first trial, declared that the day her husband was beaten to death he took a pistol to work with him, stating that he expected trouble with "Jim" Black, the foreman on the job, who had been discharged the day previously and whom Campbell despised.

Prosecution objections that the testimony was only hearsay but was destined to indicate some one other than the defendants had beaten Campbell to death were upheld by Judge Conlan, who ordered the testimony stricken from the record.

Ernest Drury, foreman of the grand jury which indicted Madsen and Pence, and two police officers, denied advancement of the defendants or the giving of any immunity promises for their several confessions of labor union terrorism.

DEATHS LAID TO PURNELL'S ACTS

State Witness Tells Cult Leader's Secrets

Wronging of Girl Declared Cause of Suicide

Michigan Seeks to Oust House of David

ST. JOSEPH (Mich.) June 8.(Exclusive)—Blame for the known suicide of one girl and the suspicious death of another was laid today directly at the door of Benjamin Purnell, leader of the House of David cult here, in the suit through which the people of the State of Michigan seek to dissolve the colony as a public menace.

The girls whose fate comprised part of the testimony of Mrs. Hazel Wade Wurth of Hammond, Ind., were Elma Murphy, a beautiful Australian girl, and Jessie Wheeler, both of whom died at High Island, forty miles from Charlevoix. This island has been described as the Siberia of the House of David.

Elma was considered the prettiest girl who ever entered the colony, and was vivacious and high spirited. She came to the attention of Purnell immediately on her arrival with her mother from Melbourne, and was made an inmate of Shiloh.

HEARS REVELATIONS

As she passed Purnell's room one day, the witness testified, she was attracted by voices raised in angry argument. Pausing to listen, she overheard the Murphy girl hysterically accusing Purnell of having wronged her, and confronting that she had told her mother. Mrs. Murphy had confronted Purnell with her daughter's charges, which he was emphatically denying.

Purnell succeeded in quieting Mrs. Murphy, but reviled the girl as a "scorpion" and sent her to High Island for punishment. She remained there for several days in a highly nervous state, and after a conversation with a companion, drank a quantity of camphor, which caused her death.

This episode, instead of disconcerting Purnell, was utilized by him as a further object of reference, silent from the other girls in Shiloh, Mrs. Wurth asserted. The explanation of the Murphy girl's fate was that she was Judas and that God had visited his judgment upon her for her betrayal of Him. If any of them revealed the actual state of affairs, he warned, they would surely die as a consequence, losing forever the immortal life of the body which the colony members anticipate.

BANISHED TO ISLAND

Jessie Wheeler, whose health was a matter of concern among the girls, was banished to the island when she discovered Purnell in some intrigue. Her death occurred after she had eaten mushrooms on Sunday, which were discovered afterward to have been toadstools.

Calm and dispassionate in her recital, sure of her facts and positive in her assertions, the witness is pouring out her story as though it were taken to the wrongs she accuses Purnell of having inflicted on her years ago, among which circumstances surrounding the death of her mother loom as the most unforgivable.

He once told her, she related this afternoon, that she had the complexion of an Indian and that he believed if she ever turned against him she would never relent until she had secured her vengeance.

In pursuit of that vengeance when she did eventually turn upon him, she sought not only county and State officials, but carried her story even to the President of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, she testified.

TRIES TO GET JUSTICE

Unable to surmount Purnell's political influences, she went to reside in Washington for a year and while there had an interview with President Wilson, in which she begged an opportunity to lay the entire story before him.

Later she received a letter from Joseph Tumulty, the President's secretary, which was introduced in evidence, in which she was advised that the President would have no time to go into the matter, and recommending that she take her evidence to the Department of Justice.

Acting on this suggestion, she instigated an investigation by Federal officials which was partially frustrated through refusal of some of the former inmates to take the stand against the cult. Some of these witnesses are present in Benton Harbor and are toting their stories as State witnesses in the present litigation.

What Coolidge Means When He Says 'Economy'

PITTSBURGH, June 8. (AP)—The word "economy" as used by President Coolidge was interpreted today by Assistant Secretary Dewey of the Treasury Department in an address before the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association as meaning "not only frugality, but efficiency in administration."

"Many people misinterpret the President's program of economy and take the word 'economy' in its purely literal sense as meaning 'frugality,'" he said. "I am very sure, however, that the President means far more than this and that he recognizes the word 'economy' to mean not only frugality, but efficiency in administration."

Mr. Dewey also spoke of the smaller-sized paper bills the Treasury is planning to issue, estimating they will effect a saving of nearly one-third in paper costs.

POWER USAGE IN NEXT WAR TOLD

Electric Plant Men Hear of Government's Plans

Least Interference Possible With Private Direction

America's Industrial Advance Laid to Machinery

ATLANTIC CITY, June 8. (AP)—Dwight F. Davis, Secretary of War, speaking before the annual convention of the National Electric Light Association today, outlined a plan for operating electric power plants in case of war or other national emergency.

The plan provides for taking over the output of plants only when a shortage of power for essential needs exists or threatens. An "emergency power director" would be appointed by the President and in time of war would be responsible for the effective utilization of the power facilities of the country. He would be assisted by an executive committee, nominated for the most part by the association.

If it were found necessary for the government to undertake actual operation of plants, the existing organizations of the companies taken over would be utilized.

PRIVATE USE BEST

"In time of war the national energies must not be taken out of the hands of private agencies experienced in their use and put in the hands of a gigantic official machine," Mr. Davis said. "Such a machine could not manage them as effectively.

"Private initiative, energy and resourcefulness must not be thrown aside and the vital and complicated processes of production and transportation lowered. Yet the energies of all must be directed to their effective use for the good of the government. Certain controls are essential to accomplish that purpose.

"The people of the United States, because of their willingness to adopt and make use of modern machinery, have increased their productive capacity more than forty-fold, R. H. Ballard told the association.

Electricity, he said, has been the greatest contributing factor in bringing about this result.

AGAINST FEDERALIZATION

"We believe in the efficacy of private initiative and enterprise and are unalterably opposed to government ownership and operation or government participation in any proprietary functions.

"We believe in the conservation of natural resources and stand pledged to develop water power wherever it is feasible to do so without the undertaking becoming burdensome.

"We look upon the Federal Water-power Act as far-sighted and constructive legislation and in justice to those who have submitted to its rules and regulations contend that there should be no special legislation or other action weakening and circumventing that measure.

"We believe in State regulation of electric rates and service, but we hold that regulation does not embrace management."

M'ADOO DEFINES STATE'S RIGHTS

Presents Prohibition Law in Novel Light

Mercer Graduates Told South Consistent in Support

Eighteenth Amendment Held Mandated Duty

MACON (Ga.) June 8. (AP)—The South, by supporting the prohibition amendment, was consistent with its historical advocacy of State's rights, William G. McAdoo declared here tonight in addressing the graduating class of Mercer University.

He said the Eighteenth Amendment gives to the national government as well as the States a mandate to enforce "the prohibition law by appropriate legislation." In other words, with respect to prohibition enforcement the Constitution establishes no division or distribution of powers between the Federal government and the State governments, but gives to both a co-extensive grant of power.

NO LINE DRAWN

"How can the doctrine of State's rights be applicable in such a situation, where the Constitution draws no line between State and Federal power, and where, consequently, there can be no question of the Federal government invading a sphere of action which the Constitution reserves exclusively for action by the States?

"The Federal government, in enforcing the prohibition amendment by Federal action, is not assuming powers which under the Constitution belong to the States. It is exercising a power which the States have imposed upon it through the Constitution itself. The Constitution expressly avoids attempting to establish a divided authority and divided jurisdiction. It contemplates complete co-operation by the Federal government and the States over the whole of this field of regulation."

STATE'S PRIVILEGE

The former Treasury Secretary asserted that if any States felt Federal activity would be objectionable, "all they have to do is to effectively enforce the amendments themselves."

Extension of Federal authority in this manner, he said, "is made necessary only by those States which have a warmer affection for the liquor traffic than for the Constitution. In so far as the question of State's rights is involved in it, therefore, these latter States which are the enemies of State's rights and are doing their utmost to break down the principle of local self-government."

McAdoo told the graduates that the situation "is thus analogous in many respects to that which existed during the great debate over State's rights in the middle of the last century."

Widow's Share Asked in Suit by Miss Pope

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—Charging that ernest William Darling Shepherd, executor and principal legatee of the $1,000,000 estate of "Billy" McClintock, had prevented the youth from marrying her, Miss Isabelle Pope has filed a cross-bill asking that her interest in the estate be fixed as that of a lawful widow of McClintock.

Miss Pope was willed $5 annuity of $6000 by McClintock, who left the remainder of his estate to Shepherd.

Shepherd was acquitted two years ago of causing the youth's death by administering typhoid germs. He never has obtained the estate, however, owing to contest suites of McClintock aiming to break the will.

Auto Accident Fatal to Chief of Lions' Club

EUREKA (Nev.) June 8. (AP)—W. E. Strut of Oakland, Cal., governor of the fourth district Lions' Clubs, died here late last night from injuries received in an automobile accident Sunday. Strut never regained consciousness following the accident.

Mrs. Strut and their son were at the bedside when Strut died, having come here from Oakland following the accident.

The body was taken to Ely last night and this morning was sent to Oakland.

BREAK MADE BY BIGAMIST AT ASYLUM

Sheriffs Asked to Start Search for Man Who Wed Fourteen Wives

STOCKTON, June 8. (AP)—John W. Kearney, San Francisco bigamist, who admitted fourteen bigamistic marriages and who later was confined in the Stockton State Hospital for the insane, escaped from the criminal ward of the local institution Sunday, according to officers of the institution today. All sheriffs in the State have been notified of the escape.

Since his confinement in the local hospital doctors have been unable to classify Kearney's type of insanity. They are inclined to believe he is nothing more than a criminal, and although showing no definite signs of violence, they placed him in the criminal ward.

Sunday morning Kearney was hoisted to the top of a wall by another patient and from there swung himself to the outside world.

OREGON SEEKING NEW CROSS-STATE ROAD

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION REQUESTED TO ORDER SPUR BUILDING

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—A demand that railroads operating in Oregon be required immediately to construct a new east and west line through the center of the State from Harriman to Crescent Lake, a point on the Southern Pacific in the interior, was placed before the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Public Service Commission of that State.

The State commission asked that some one of the Oregon railroads, or some group of them be ordered to undertake the extension, on the ground that Oregon business interests required the service which such a line could render.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

NEW RAIL LINE MOVE AT PORT

Union Pacific Asks Permit for Dredging Project

Extension and Deepening of Channel Planned

Action Suggests Addition to Harbor Industries

Development by the Union Pacific of one of its larger water-front tracts in Wilmington to deep water shipping, with possible location of unannounced industries, is revealed in an application before Maj. H. A. Finch, United States engineer, for a permit for dredging.

The railroad seeks permission to increase the present 300-foot Consolidated channel to 400 feet, and to a depth of twenty-six feet over a length of 1400 feet. The application for a permit comes before Maj. Finch the 17th inst., subject to possible objections.

The railway company owns the water front on the east side of the slip comprising several hundred acres which are known to have figured tentatively in big industrial negotiations never made public.

The improvement with deep water frontage along the entire western side of the tract is declared assurance that the railway company has some important project in sight, to justify such expenditure. Maj. Finch said his office was interested only in the physical features of the proposed improvement, and that he was not at liberty to talk on what the railway company might or might not do.

Some years ago the Harbor Commission started negotiations with the railway company for a trade on this property, and consequent improvements, contingent on a sugar factory and other plants the nature of which was secret. Apparently the line has taken matters into its own hands and will develop the tract industrially independent of the city. Constant rumors are afloat that auto and rubber companies are seeking harbor sites for branch factories, and the new dredging is expected to stimulate speculation.

NEW FAST FREIGHT SERVICE TO CALCUTTA

Dollar Steamship Company announces a new combination with lines in the Orient, giving Los Angeles freight a dispatch to Calcutta in forty-six days, the fastest delivery time from this port. The transshipment time cancels the schedule of ships of certain other lines calling direct, according to Edgar M. Wilson, general agent at Los Angeles.

The arrangement, which has been in practice some time, but not announced till its effectiveness was assured, provides for transshipment from Dollar ships at Hongkong to vessels of the British Shell Navigation Company, Ltd., and the Indo-China Steam Navigation Company, Ltd.

Transshipment at Hongkong is handled under direct supervision of the Dollar Line branch at that port and five days are said to be the longest period a cargo has awaited loading into a Calcutta-bound steamer.

Another liner, the German steamer Albert Voegler, a combination passenger and freight carrier, will be added to the Pacific Coast European run by the Hamburg-American Lines, it was announced yesterday by R. A. Montague, local representative of the line.

The Albert Voegler will make her maiden trip westbound in August and depart on her first trip home in the new service from Los Angeles September 17.

She is the largest of the company's fleet in this trade, with a length of 499.8 feet and has a passenger capacity of sixty travelers. Her addition will give the service four passenger carriers and will increase the sailings from one every five weeks to every three weeks.

The announcement, which came through Emil Lederer, vice-president and passenger traffic manager of New York, is regarded as a direct result of the visit here last month of Dr. Welhelm Cuno, director-general of the line.

Thirty Long Beach residents representing the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce will comprise an excursion party departing on the Admiral liner H. F. Alexander tomorrow for Seattle and thence to Alaska. They will embark at Seattle on the Dorothy Alexander Thursday, where the ship will take another glance down the Yukon River to Fairbanks. Then they will go by government railroad to Seward and return to Seattle and here by steamers. Among the travelers are Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Heylmun, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Derrick and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nichols.

Ensenada is all excited over the coming visit of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and is planning an elaborate fiesta and barbecue, according to R. B. Schutten, Southern California manager for the Admiral Line. The delegation will make the round voyage on the liner Emma Alexander, departing from here the 17th inst. It is understood the Ensenada excursion has become an annual outing affair of the junior chamber.

Five tankers of the Chile Steamship Company's six will arrive at Los Angeles Harbor during the next ten days, according to W. H. Wickersham's office, agents. The Chilnil and the Chuky are due from Tocopilla Sunday and Monday; the British Lantern from Valparaiso, Tuesday; Chilseo from Tocopilla the 16th inst. and the Oleander the 23rd. Only the Chilbar will be missing, and she just got away for Chile with a load of oil.

Steel Common Weaker as Ingot Production Shows Slump

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, June 8.—Steel common disclosed a tendency toward slightly lower levels from the opening, reflecting the shrinkage of ingot production during May and the none too sanguine estimates on the loss in unfilled tonnage likely to be shown when the figures are available at noon on Friday. Based on Judge Gary's figures on shipments and orders before the American Iron and Steel Institute several weeks ago, it had been estimated that a loss of around 900,000 tons was probable. The figure has now been raised materially and if current estimates ranging as high as 450,000 tons are borne out the back log of unfilled orders will probably be the smallest on the books since 1910.

Employees Stock at 123

The deferred offering of stock to the corporation's employees was announced at noon today, but had little effect marketwise. The price for such subscriptions of $122 a share is close to the current market value and in keeping with the precedent of the corporation to name a price around that figure. Despite the announcement, the stock dropped fractionally below the price stipulated for employees during the day, establishing the lowest levels reached since the deduction of the 40 per cent stock dividend last week.

Strength in the Oils

To many close observers, the part which pure speculation is playing in the market at the moment was clearly demonstrated by the pronounced strength which developed in the oils. Those who follow the situation closely are firm in their convictions that no change of importance has transpired in the industry to warrant the seeming optimism which characterized the market in those shares during today. Crude-oil production for the past week reached a new peak, and it is argued that any attempt to stiffen prices, even in the late summer or early fall, will stimulate a fresh flood of crude from the newest Texas fields.

Texas Land Trust

There is a strong division of opinion in the street relative to the merits and prospects of Texas Land Trust, which created something of a sensation yesterday and again today. Some contend that the present movement represents powerful accumulation, but wires to interested sources in Texas late yesterday brought word that nothing of importance had happened in the affairs of the trust and that so far as was known the movement was purely the result of Wall street conditions.

Making for Caution

Nothing that has happened in recent weeks has done so much to create a spirit of caution and distrust among the rank and file of traders as the greatly increased activity in stocks, which do not pay and have not for many years paid dividends. It is a widely recognized fact that the stirring up of great activity in these so-called "cats and dogs" has often in the past marked the final phase of previous big bull movements. Whether it will again prove true in the present instance, is problematical in view of the blasting of most every other precedent by which traders have been guided in the past, but nevertheless the development has served to induce a good deal of sober thought.

OIL CONTROL FIGHT MAY BE COMPROMISED

Wheat Futures Shade Off After Strong Opening

CHICAGO, June 8 (Exclusive)—Unfavorable crop reports on wheat from Europe with drought in the leading producing sections in Argentina, and prospects of a 10 to 20 per cent reduction in the area in the latter, were instrumental in making a bulge of 2¾c in futures, with July up to 1.47¼, but uneasiness over the outcome of the Kessinger bill now before the House of Representatives at Springfield led to selling, and a decline of 3½c from the best figures with the close at net losses of ¾@1c, with July 1.44¼@1.44¾, September 1.43@1.43¼, the finish being within a fraction of the bottom.

Corn had a range of 1¾@2c and closed ¾@⅞c lower, with hands less disposed to take the bull side pending the outcome of the political developments at Springfield. July finished at 1.00¾@1.01 and September at 1.04@1.04¼. Oats were ⅛c higher, with July 49¼c and September 43c. Rye was 1¾c higher to ½c lower, with July showing the strength, and it closed at 1.17, with September 1.14¾.

Crop reports on wheat from a majority of European countries were less optimistic and exhibited that estimates as to yields would have to be cut down, due to damage from various causes, with the Italian crop probably not much in excess of last year. Drought continues in the provinces of Buhia Blanca and the Pampas in Argentina, and only 40 per cent of the wheat has been sown.

Weather conditions in the American and Canadian Northwest were favorable for the rapid development of the new spring wheat crop, while in Kansas the winter wheat is ripening rapidly, and a few loads of new grain were delivered at Southern Kansas point. Winnipeg was strong early, but reacted and closed ⅛@⅜c lower.

Corn showed an easy undertone from the start with scattered commission house selling in evidence on the minor upturns, while support was lacking. Weather conditions over the belt were favorable for field work. Forecast was for showers over part of the belt, and in Illinois and Indiana any further delay would be extremely serious. The Iowa weekly weather crop report indicated a decrease of 5 per cent in the acreage, in that State with the condition the lowest in thirty-five years.

There were 190,000 bushels cash sold to the seaboard for export by Chicago handlers. Prices recovered higher, but trade was not large. July rye sold at a new high on the crop, shorts covering freely on the prospect that local stocks would be reduced to around 100,000 bushels in the next few days, due to liberal shipments to exporters. There are 373,000 bushels rye under charter to move out.

Trading in provisions was rather small and although prices were stronger early, lard finished at practically the same as the previous day.

Liverpool was unchanged to ¼d higher. Ribs were ⅛@10c lower at the last, with estimated hogs 25,000 and 30,000 estimated for tomorrow.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 8. (Exclusive)—The cotton market turned firm from the opening today advancing about 20 to 25 points over yesterday's closing on new trade buying, covering of shorts and switching by many traders back to the bull side, repurchasing contracts liquidated last week.

The rise brought July contracts up to 16 3-8 cents, October 16.75 cents, December 17 cents, January 17.03 cents, and March about 17.23 cents. The principal bullish factors were that recent rains over Central and Western Texas did no more than relieve the long drought and reports of much territory in Arkansas being threatened with another flood. On this news being cabled to Liverpool overnight, that market turned strong.

Liverpool spot cotton was up 3 points from yesterday's prices to 8.99d for middling, with the day's sales 9000 bales, while futures advanced 12 and 15 points and finished steady up 9 to 15 points on the day. This brought Liverpool houses into our market as good buyers on balance.

After the rise enough fresh local profit-taking and southern selling developed to set the market back to about 10 points advance.

The weekly government weather and crop bulletin was about as expected.

PACIFIC-SOUTHWEST TRUST & SAVINGS BANK, Trustee

We summarize the salient features from a letter of Mr. Harold S. Chase, President of the Company, as follows:

1. This issue will constitute a closed first mortgage on over 960 acres of residential property located in Hope Ranch Park, Santa Barbara, California, a large portion of which is improved with streets, roads, electricity, domestic water supply, etc. These bonds will be further secured by the deposit with the Trustee of sales contracts totaling $80,000, and 80 shares of La Cumbre Mutual Water Company stock.

2. The property, which is located two miles west of the City of Santa Barbara, extending from the main state highway to the Pacific Ocean, is of gently rolling character and covered for a large part with live oak trees and shrubbery. The principal street parkings have been planted with ornamental palms.

3. The physical value of this property together with the improvements thereon, has been conservatively appraised by us by S. B. Schauer, Esq., of Santa Barbara, California, at $1,440,000, approximately three times the amount of this issue.

4. The stock ownership of the Company and the management is in the hands of an exceptionally strong group of California business men, among whom are Peter Cooper Bryce, Milton Wilson of Santa Barbara and Roger Lapham of San Francisco.

5. The trust indenture will provide all usual safeguards for the protection of bondholders including policy of title insurance and suitable release clauses.

6. An ample supply of water for domestic and irrigating purposes is available. Mr. J. B. Lippincott, Consulting Engineer of Los Angeles, having favorably passed upon the adequacy of the water supply and other engineering features.

7. The Trust Indenture will provide for a sinking fund operative during each twelve months' period in the following minimum amounts, the first period to end on June 1, 1930:

June 1, 1930	$35,000	June 1, 1934	$50,000
June 1, 1931	35,000	June 1, 1935	50,000
June 1, 1932	40,000	June 1, 1936	50,000
June 1, 1933	40,000	June 1, 1937	50,000
	June 1, 1938	$150,000

8. Parcels of land may be released from the lien of the mortgage only upon payment to the Trustee of specified sums aggregating over $650,000. These funds may be solely applied to the retirement of bonds through purchase in the open market or call at the optional price.

9. The Security Title Insurance and Guarantee Company will issue its policy of title insurance guaranteeing the lien of these bonds as a closed first mortgage upon the property.

All legal proceedings had in the issuance of these bonds will be approved by Messrs. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, Attorneys at Law, Los Angeles, California. Bonds are offered for delivery when, as, and if issued, and received by us, subject to approval of counsel.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Aside from strength of oil shares and a handful of specialties, a downward trend occurred in the curb market today, numerous recessions ranging from 2 to 5 points. At no time was there a consistent general trend, some shares which declined sharply making up most of their losses while early advances in others subsequently were reduced or wiped out.

Humble Oil was the outstanding leader of the petroleum group, selling up 5 points in anticipation of increased earnings through development of the West Texas field. Other oil shares derived stimulation, including Tidal Osage and Standard of Ohio. The pipe lines were strong, Prairie touching a new peak at 177, and closing with a gain of 2 1-2 points on the day, while Illinois soared 5 1-2.

Bancitaly was heavily dealt in, establishing a new peak but later on losing all gain. Financial and industrial securities continued its sensational advance and reached a new maximum of 105. Celluloid common and preferred also were active and strong, both improving their previous best prices. Foore & Co., climbed 2 points in early dealings, but later fell back for a fractional net loss.

Conspicuous among heavy spots were sugar shares, including Central Aguirre and National, and such miscellaneous issues as Royal Baking Powder, which dropped 5, Pillsbury Flour 4, American Manufacturing 5, and Warner Brothers Pictures, Devega, Inc., Glen Arden and Ford of Canada, 1 3-4 to 2 points.

Common stock of General Laundry Machinery Corporation, 25,000 shares of which were recently offered at $20 a share, will be admitted to trading on the curb tomorrow. The stock has been traded in over-the-counter recently between 21 and 21 1-2.

STOCK MARKET ACTS NERVOUS

vival of activity and strength in New York, Ontario and Western, which rocketed 66 to a new peak, was accompanied by reports that the New Haven Railroad had disposed of its stock to the New York Central, but this was promptly denied by the president of the former road. Lehigh Valley soared over eight points to a new peak at 123 1-4. New peak prices also were registered by Denver and Rio Grande Western preferred, Peoria and Eastern, Wabash preferred A and B, and Western Maryland common and second preferred. Texas and Pacific, New York Central, Reading, Rock Island and Lackawanna also registered substantial gains.

A sudden burst of activity in Atlantic Refining sent that stock up 10¼ points to 134½. Many other oils advanced in sympathy despite the record-breaking volume of crude oil production last week. Houston Oil was run up 5 points. Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil touched a new top at 18 7-8 and then sold down to 16¼. Texas and Pacific Land Trust was again active and erratic, opening at 88, advancing to 98, breaking to 83 1-4 and then rallying to 94 5-8, off 1 5-8 net.

WESTERN UNION UP

New strong spots developed among the specialties. City Stores "B" responded to reports of expanding earnings by touching a new high at 7-8. Brown Shoe preferred sold at 120 for the first time. Western Union was run up to a new top for all time at 170½, although President Newcomb Carlton said he knew of no contemplated action by the directors to warrant an advance in the stock. New peak prices also were registered by Douglas Pectin, Equitable Office Building preferred, Chrysler, Gabriel Snubber, General American Tank preferred, Indian Motorcycle, Inland Steel preferred, National Biscuit preferred, New York Air Brake, Pittsburgh Coal preferred, Remington Packing preferred, Remington-Rand and several others.

Amusement shares were weak, Paramount Famous - Players breaking nearly 4 points to a new low at 118½. Electric Refrigeration, Foundation Company and a few others also dipped to new lows.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Active wheat futures dropped 1 to 2 cents a bushel on reaching, influenced by favorable weather reports from nearly all the other principal commodity markets moved higher. Cotton rallied 11 to 34 points and coffee closed 5 to 11 points higher. Sugar prices held fairly steady.

A further break of more than 10 points in Spanish pesetas, which sold around 17.15 cents, was the only feature of note in the foreign exchange trading. Demand sterling and French francs ruled unchanged around $4.85 1-4 and 3.91¼ cents, respectively.

OIL NEWS

BY EDWARD C. KENLEY

Developments within the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company tract are of keen interest to oil men and will be watched closely by those in the Santa Barbara district.

Drilling is going considerable progress, it was announced, which may result in the Midway tract becoming one of the most important oil producing properties in the county.

Should prospect drilling in the Midway tract indicate the presence of oil in commercial quantities, it is probable that the purchase price will be paid in cash or its equivalent, but differing from other important recent oil deals in this county, the character of the oil found, and the other the terms of the sale, will be kept secret.

It is rumored privately that ANY PROPERTY controlled by the C.C.M.O. Co. in the Midway field will be dear, with the possibility that the purchase price, perhaps will be the highest ever paid for any Ventura county property. This possibility coupled with the fact that the purchaser will have to be content with a half interest, instead of the usual way of handling such deals, where the purchaser buys all or a controlling interest, it is entirely possible that ANY PROPERTY controlled by the C.C.M.O. Co. in the Midway field will be dear, with the possibility that the purchase price, perhaps will be the highest ever paid for any Ventura county property. This possibility coupled with the fact that the purchaser will have to be content with a half interest, instead of the usual way of handling such deals, where the purchaser buys all or a controlling interest, it is entirely possible that the purchase price will be paid in cash or its equivalent, even if large amounts are involved.

Should prospect drilling in the Midway tract indicate the presence of oil in commercial quantities, it is probable that the purchase price will be paid in cash or its equivalent, even if large amounts are involved.

Further drilling Company is drilling on its oil sand which it is hoped will be struck in the week in the Newhall district, north of the Ventura county line. Phone or write L. A. Anderson, Secretary for booklet. Or clip coupon below.

OIL BLAZE AT HARBOR IN CONTROL

Fire in Refinery Does Damage Set at $100,000; Explosions Mystery

A fire started late yesterday by two successive explosions in a gas agitator at the Union Oil Company refinery on Harbor Boulevard, between Wilmington and San Pedro, was said to be under control late last night after raging several hours. Loss, which consisted principally of damage to the costly agitating machinery, was placed roughly at $100,000.

Millions of barrels of oil and by-products stored in the Union Oil plant and near-by refineries were threatened for some time by the fire, but it was finally kept within bounds.

Windows were blown out of near-by shops by the force of the explosion, but no one was hurt, although a number of men were at work close at hand.

The origin of the explosions is not definitely known, but they are believed to have been caused by too-rapid feeding of the asbestos which heats the naptha in the agitation process. The oil company's forces opened the fight, but when their lines broke they were forced to call in other units. Nine companies under the direction of Assistant Fire Chief Truesdale of Los Angeles fought the blaze.

It was stated, however, that a police operator, whose name the legionnaires did not know definitely, brought liquor into the cafe and was arrested at the request of the management, but was never booked after being taken to the Newton-street station. His race was not stated.

The hearing was called to determine whether the club's permit, now suspended, should be permanently revoked on charges of improper conduct of business. The charges were preferred by the police department, and among other things stated that the Wright Act was being violated both in and about the cafe.

Policemen, including Brown, testified to this effect.

DEFENDS POST

Attorney John D. Home, counsel for the Legion post, produced evidence to show that the officers of the post and management of the cafe frequently assisted the police in making arrests and trying to keep the place free from law violators. After this testimony Commission-

VISITING THRONG RAINS FROM SKY

Planes Bring San Diegans to Luncheon Here

Federal Business Men Hold Session at Chamber

Crying Need of Los Angeles Airports Stressed

Twenty military airplanes landed at the Western Air Express airport yesterday bringing a party of more than forty members of the San Diego Federal Business Men's Association for a meeting and luncheon at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The visitors left San Diego about 9 o'clock, landed in Los Angeles from 10:15 to 10:30, were taken for a short drive, had lunch, talked and exchanged courtesies with the local men, were driven back to the airport and were back in San Diego before 5 p.m.

The occasion was the annual get-together meeting between the San Diego Federal employees and the Los Angeles Federal employees, through their mutual organization. The party came up in nineteen planes accompanied by commanders and other officers and pilots of the army, navy and marine corps flying services.

During the informal after-dinner speaking at the Chamber of Commerce the San Diego visitors, through their speakers, stressed the need of adequate municipal airport facilities for every city of importance in the country, told of their own plans for such an airport and remarked that if Los Angeles does not want to be left out in the cold, she had better get busy and acquire one for herself. Mayor Cryer, who was on the welcoming committee for the city, told the gathering that the question of acquiring a municipal airport is already under consideration and that before long he hopes the problem will be solved to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

UNUSUAL SIGHT

The arrival of the visitors at the airport was a sight worth traveling far to see. The first plane arrived shortly after 10 a.m. and for the next half hour or so the air was filled with roaring planes of all sizes and descriptions, from darting mosquito-like affairs to the great naval bomber, with two giant motors. The pilot of the large plane brought his ship down and despite her great weight and size contacted the hard ground with the ease and grace of one landing on an air cushion much to the admiration of the gathered spectators.

Among the officers and officials who were in the party were Capt. S. N. B. Doyle, commanding the naval air station at San Diego; Lieut.-Col. Harry Graham, commanding Rockwell Field; Capt. Raymond Spear, in charge of the naval hospital; Capt. H. D. Campbell, of the United States Marine Corps; Harry C. Clark, Mayor of San Diego; Capt. B. D. Workman, U.S.N.; and Postmaster E. W. Dort, of San Diego. There was a large delegation of officers and members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the several branches of the military service to greet the visitors. Charles Cook and H. R. Brashear, for the Chamber of Commerce committee; Capt. A. H. Woodbine, U.S.N., Capt. W. W. Aiken, United States Marine Corps, Col. A. J. Copp, and A. J. Scudder, secretary of the Los Angeles Federal Business Men's Association.

AVIATION KEYNOTE

Naturally the enthusiasm for aviation was the keynote of the meeting and the talking. Lindbergh and Chamberlin and their feats were uppermost in thought and speech. The opinion was frequently expressed that these great flyers have merely blazed the trail. Great achievements in aviation are at hand. The next big thing is to span the Pacific in one hop. Preparations already are under way. The $50,000 put up by the Los Angeles theater owner for the first nonstop flight to Japan may be safe this year, but next year somebody's apt to grab it off.

Introduced by D. F. McGary, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Capt. Doyle, a chunky sea dog of ruddy countenance and ready wit, did some plain talking.

"You have a couple of good fields here in Clover Field and the Western Air Field," he said. "If you people don't get busy and get a municipal landing field here before the price gets prohibitive, you may see the planes landing in some other city. We of San Diego have an ambitious plan and we are going to put it over—Lindbergh Field, a landing field that will not have an equal in the country. Where seaplanes will be able to land also." And here the captain handed Los Angeles a good-natured jibe.

OTHER SPEAKERS

After paying tribute to Lindbergh and Chamberlin, Capt. Doyle remarked that "there are lots more Lindberghs in the Air Service of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps. And in the Forest Service and air mail service. Aviation, he said, is the

SIERRA MADREANS POISONED

Thirty-five Made Ill in Foothill Town by Cause That Baffles Health Authorities

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 9.—Health authorities were endeavoring today to trace the source of a mysterious poison which has caused the illness of at least thirty-five persons in the foothill town of Sierra Madre, northeast of here, during the past few days. Although no deaths are believed to have resulted, the cases of poisoning have been reported to county health authorities, and it is believed other cases of the same type may not have been reported as yet.

Dr. J. M. Furstman, Monrovia, district county health officer who has been carrying on a secret investigation of the poisoning for the past five days, said that no definite cause has been discovered, although from the symptoms of the sick persons, it appears to be some form of metallic poisoning. Dr. Furstman believes that the poisoning may have had its source in an arsenic spray used by some vegetable gardeners to kill insects, but a careful check-up of all near-by vegetable markets and of wholesalers in Los Angeles failed to reveal any trace of arsenic on any of the vegetables now displayed for sale.

Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer, also has been investigating the case.

Prosecutor Lickley Meets Obstacles in Campaign to Return Pool Funds to Receivers

Legal stumbling blocks thrown in the path of City Prosecutor Lickley by attorneys representing pool investors, who have been under fire from the prosecutor for a week because of asserted usurious rates of interest charged the Julian Petroleum Corporation, yesterday threatened to halt the steady flow of restitution funds to the receivers for the protection of the shareholders.

The prosecutor began an active campaign against the pool investors and more than $500,000 has been returned, but Dr. Lickley announced yesterday that attorneys for the pool operators have raised a number of legal questions concerning contracts in the stock deals which strike at the usury investigation.

TASK IS LABORIOUS

"Since commencing action against those who went into pools of the Julian Petroleum Corporation," Dr. Lickley said in a statement, "almost $500,000 has been tendered to the receivers for the corporation, to be held in trust by them for the use of the company.

"The task of auditing these pools, figuring out the checks and interest rates is a long and laborious one. So far, only the first and second pools have been calculated and the amounts turned in tabulated.

"In the meantime attorneys for various members of the pools have raised numerous legal questions. Different kinds of legal contracts were made out for different individuals, raising other legal points. I would, therefore, like to meet as rapidly as possible all attorneys representing pool holders. At that time we will thrash out various issues involved in individual contracts.

THANKS GRAND JURY

"I wish to express my appreciation for the splendid help given me by the grand jury and the District Attorney's office."

At the same time thirteen members of Pool No. 2 have been notified to return their asserted usurious rates of interest or prepare to answer complaints charging them with the misdemeanor, conviction on which provides the foundation for action to recover thrice the amount of the asserted usurious interest received.

The grand jury continued to be active in the matter and while the investigation is said to be a tedious one, necessitating comparatively slow progress, the body was reported

ESTATE OF FILM ACTOR ANNOUNCED

Einar Hanson, Swedish film actor killed Friday morning when his automobile overturned near Santa Monica, left an estate valued at approximately $50,000, it was disclosed yesterday in a petition for letters of administration filed by Frank Bryson, public administrator.

Funeral services for the Swedish screen luminary are to be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the Angelica Evangelical Lutheran Church. A host of his friends from the film world are expected to attend. The body will be taken to New York and thence to Stockholm, Sweden, for interment in the actor's native land. Axel Hultgren, a personal friend of the late actor, will accompany his body across the Atlantic.

There arrangements for the funeral are to be concluded by the actor's father, Gustav Hanson, who lives at Ehrenberg, Sweden, and apparently is sole heir to the estate, which consists of a $50,000 life-insurance policy, $317.36 in cash, a salary check for $675 and an equity in an automobile.

Prof. Dodd of the University of California will give a free lecture on the metric system of measurement in the lecture hall of the Public Library tomorrow at 8 p.m. Everyone interested is invited to be present.

PROBATE HUNTINGTON WILL

Los Angeles Now Assured of $2,000,000 Hospital; No Estimate as to Estate in Proceedings

Los Angeles was assured a new $2,000,000 hospital yesterday when Judge L. T. Price, sitting in Probate Court for Judge Reeve, admitted to probate the will of Henry E. Huntington and appointed Mrs. Caroline H. Holladay, sister of the dead multimillionaire and philanthropist, and the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank executors of the document.

Judge Price did not require a bond. In the brief proceedings before him no estimate of the amount of the estate was given, but had a bond been asked by the court an estimate would have had to be made.

There was no sign of opposition to the probate proceedings. Mrs. Holladay and Albert Crutcher of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, Huntington's attorneys, were the only witnesses. They testified that Mr. Huntington was of sound mind at the time the will and its two codicils were made, and that they knew of no reason why its provisions should not be carried out.

DEATH IN EAST

Mr. Huntington died in a Philadelphia hospital, after an operation, May 23, last. His will was filed for probate four days later, in advance of his funeral, with the explanation that it was necessary to get his vast and complicated business affairs into the hands of the executors and trustees as soon as possible.

No estimate of his estate was given, but private estimates have run all the way from $30,000,000 to $110,-

PARROT-CRYER ROUT REVEALED

Final Vote Returns Show Overwhelming Defeat

Power Bureau Also Suffers Terrific Setback

Total of 125,342 Ballots Marks Gain Over May 3

(Photographs of members of newly elected City Council and School Board on Page 8, Part I.)

Complete returns from Tuesday's general city election tabulated yesterday by City Clerk Dominguez showed that the total vote cast was 125,342 which was 30 per cent of the registration. The vote was 2618 greater than at the May 3 primaries when 122,724 votes were cast.

The extent of the rout of the Parrot-Cryer city administration forces and their allies, the Power Bureau, by the aroused taxpayers was revealed by the complete semiofficial returns.

FOUR-TO-ONE DEFEAT

In the Third District, Ernest L. Webster defeated the incumbent administration Councilman, I. F. Hughes, four to one. In the Fifth District, Councilman "Cupid" Sparks, also an administration "yes" man, was defeated three to one by Virgil A. Martin.

The defeat of Councilman Moore in the Sixth District by L. R. Rice-Wray by 1078 votes was attributed to the demand of the voters for a complete housecleaning at the City Hall and for an entirely new City Council.

The Power Bureau, which is allied with the City Hall political machine, was shown to have suffered terrific defeat in its efforts to build up an unregulated, tax-free political electric power monopoly in Los Angeles. The bureau's scheme to take over the $40,000,000 electric properties of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company (Proposition 3,) was defeated by more than 25,000 votes. The Power Bureau's scheme to take from harbor uses twenty-five acres of land at the port for a steam plant was defeated by more than 18,000 votes.

COMMITTEE ELATED

Members of the Citizens's School Committee expressed themselves yesterday as especially gratified at the election to the Board of Education of Letitia J. Lytle, Robert L. Burns and J. L. Van Norman. Van Norman led the ticket and had nearly 48,000 more votes than Frederick J. Beaton, the fourth in the voting and who headed the three candidates not on the committee ticket. Mrs. Lytle was second, Robert L. Burns was third, and Burns's vote was 35,000 more than Beaton's. Clair L. Peck and Carrie Parsons Bryant of the school committee ticket were elected at the May 3 primaries. The election of the entire school-committee ticket assures a continuance of the present able, efficient management of the Los Angeles school system.

The election of former Police Judge Caryl M. Sheldon to the Municipal Court bench completes the sweeping victory of the Bar Association ticket for these twenty-four judgeships, the other judgeships having been decided at the May 3 primaries. Sheldon led A. J. Bledsoe by 28,000 votes at Tuesday's election.

The City Council elected on Tuesday will take office on July 1, next, and will consist of nine new Councilmen out of the membership of fifteen, showing the thoroughness of the voters' housecleaning at the City Hall. The membership of the new City Council will be as follows:

MAKE-UP OF COUNCIL

First District, Charles H. Randall (incumbent); Second District, Arthur Alber; Third District, Ernest L. Webster; Fourth District, William M. Hughes; Fifth District, Virgil A. Martin; Sixth District, L. R. Rice-Wray; Seventh District, Howard W. Davis; Eighth District, Frank L. Shaw (incumbent); Ninth District, W. J. Sanborn (incumbent); Tenth District, R. Snapper Ingram; Eleventh District, Poirson M. Hall (incumbent); Twelfth District, Douglas R. Foster; Thirteenth District, Carl L. Jacobsen (incumbent); Fourteenth District, William G. Bonelli; Fifteenth District, C. J. Colden (incumbent.)

The new Board of Education will consist of Clair L. Peck, Carrie Parsons Bryant, Robert L. Burns (incumbent), J. L. Van Norman, Letitia J. Lytle, Mrs. Elizabeth Louise Clark and John B. Beman (hold-over incumbents.)

TRAFFIC BUREAU PLAN TOLD

Council to Be Asked Today for Innovation Designed to Eliminate "Fixing" for Violators

Immediate establishment of a traffic violations bureau as a means of relieving overcrowded conditions in the Municipal courts will be urged before the City Council today by the Traffic Commission. An appropriation of $3000 will be asked to create the bureau, which would operate as part of the traffic complaint department of the City Prosecutor's office.

The plan, which will be submitted to the Council this morning, is outlined in the following letter:

"In co-operation with the Police Commissioners, the police department, the City Prosecutor's office, the Judges of the Municipal courts, the Automobile Club of Southern California and a special safety conference of public officials and prominent business interests, the Los Angeles Traffic Commission has developed a plan for a traffic violations bureau.

"Conditions which have led to this proposal and the method of operation of the bureau are outlined below:

"(1.) Despite the earnest efforts of the court, the present method for handling traffic violations is very unsatisfactory.

"(a) The requirement to appear immediately and deposit bail upon receipt of an arrest slip is an unwarranted hardship.

"(b) The Traffic Court is at present efficiently operated so far as personnel is concerned, but no man can be expected to bear the burden of deciding from 300 to 400 cases in a morning session.

"(c) Crowding of the calendar makes it necessary for the average offender to wait in court for approximately an hour and thirty minutes before his case is heard.

"(d) No facilities are provided at

by Harry Carr

THE woman who got a divorce because her husband refused to take her to the movies . . . This is the story of a good many families.

GILT FRINGES

It seems curious that so many women are dependents upon the artificial stimuli of life. Yet woman is herself the most fundamental fact of life.

The average man gets a good deal more kick out of golf, hunting or fishing than going to the theater. To speak personally, theaters, dinner parties and other gilt fringes bore me to tears; but I get a kick out of the sea and the mountains.

I would rather watch a bunch of Chinamen playing fantan than go to grand opera. In other words, life is interesting; but the minute imitations of life are not so interesting.

PERJURY

The ground and lofty swoonings whereby Earl Carroll hoped to escape going to prison for his bathtub perjury seem to have been wasted.

Earl is probably wondering why they are picking on him for perjury when the crime has almost attained the proportions of a popular form of indoor sport. Every criminal trial is loaded with it. Yet, when the trial is over, the prosecuting attorneys dust their hands off and let it go at that. A thousand persons obviously commit perjury where one is actually punished.

THE FINAL FIFTH

The "Last Fifth" might well be the title of a book that has recently been published.

In it the writer points out why the Chinese have nerves that have endured so long. They contend that the effort of life—as we western nations live it—could be reduced one-fifth; and human happiness thereby increased at least one-half.

The last fifth represents the strain—the attempt to make things happen instead of waiting until they happen.

SUCCESS

By the same token, it is the last fifth that spells the difference between success and failure.

Only a few feet of distance separate two horses at the finish of a race. One is sold in disgust to draw vegetable carts. The other brings a king's ransom as a stake winner.

A lot of generals who fought Napoleon were almost as skillful as he. They went down to disgrace and defeat; he nearly became emperor of the world. He had the final fifth.

TOO MUCH MONEY

If the Secretary of the Treasury is really worried about that $600,000,000 surplus which is making the floor beams of the Treasury bulge, I am willing to reduce the amount of my income tax—just to do my share.

Incidentally, there will be nothing to worry about should the next President be a Democrat. The Republicans always leave the country wallowing neck deep in money; the Democrats always leave it flat broke.

LAND CRUISE ARRIVES

The first deluxe land cruise special train of the Raymond and Whitcomb Company for the 1927 summer season arrived in Los Angeles yesterday with almost 100 well-to-do tourists from eastern cities. The travelers will leave here Friday afternoon over the Southern Pacific for a tour of California resorts, including Santa Barbara, Paso Robles, Del Monte, Big Trees, Yosemite and San Francisco. Carroll Hutchins, veteran tour conductor, is in charge of the party.

Mother Lays Girl's Death by Poison to Blasted Romance

LOVE AFFAIR OF DAUGHTER CITED

Woman Collapses Following Testimony at Inquest

Man in Case Declared to be Father of Large Family

Funeral of Victim in Tragedy Arranged for Today

Nettie Pearl Marshall, also known as "Patricia" Marshall, 22 years of age, who ended her life by swallowing poison, was engaged to Harry Rosenberg, insurance man of Washington, D. C., and killed herself because she had been disappointed in a love affair with him, according to testimony given yesterday by her mother, Mrs. N. B. Marshall, 820 West Forty-ninth street, at an inquest conducted by Coroner Nance.

After completing her brief testimony Mrs. Marshall left the witness stand hysterical and collapsed in a corridor at the County Morgue. "The world is cruel and hard and heartless," she cried as she fainted. The mother had testified that she did not know Rosenberg was married and the father of several children. She asserted she understood her daughter was engaged to him and that they had planned to be married soon.

The funeral services for Miss Marshall, who was a student at a Hollywood secretarial school, will be conducted today at 2 p.m. from the Pierce mortuary at 5403 South Figueroa street. Interment will be at the Inglewood Cemetery.

A Coroner's jury returned a verdict that Miss Marshall came to her death by poison "self-administered with suicidal intent." No mention was made of Rosenberg, who, the mother said, was paying Miss Marshall's tuition at school. Notes and letters found at the girl's apartment, 1262 Wilcox avenue, where she took the poison, named Rosenberg as the man she loved and the man she blamed for her act.

DOCTOR'S TESTIMONY

The other witnesses at the inquiry were Dr. S. L. Weinburg, 1662 West Sixth street, who attended the girl, and Manuel Wahlberg, 451 South New Hampshire street, a friend. Dr. Weinburg testified he went to the girl's apartment last Saturday evening at Wahlberg's request and that Miss Marshall told him she had swallowed poison by mistake. He testified that she convinced him it was a mistake. He gave her some medicine when she refused to go to a hospital, he said, and then left.

His automobile broke down, he said, and he was unable to return the next morning. In the afternoon he went to the apartment and found Miss Marshall on the floor, dead. He then called the police. While he was on the stand Dr. Weinburg was closely quizzed by the jurors and explained that he did not report the matter to the police on Sunday because Miss Marshall convinced him that she had accidentally taken the poison.

He testified he had never seen the girl before and that he was asked to treat her at the request of Wahlberg, who is his friend. Wahlberg testified that he called Miss Marshall on the telephone Saturday night to try to make an appointment with her. She hung up on him several times, he said, finally telling him she was sick and could not go out.

The witness asserted he asked her if she wanted a doctor and she told him she did. She said, however, she was without funds and could not afford a physician. He said he called Dr. Weinburg and that the latter consented to go and see her.

Detective Mack of Hollywood was called to the stand to identify some letters found at the girl's apartment. He told of finding the poison.

QUESTIONS BY JURORS

The jurors who heard the evidence put many questions to the witnesses. Mrs. Marshall was asked why her daughter did not live with her and she said she and her husband were separated and that she was living with friends.

John W. Flaxery, who said he had been a policeman, furnished another sensation when he appeared at the inquest and made the statement that he was formerly Miss Marshall's sweetheart and that she became despondent when they split up. She thought, he asserted, that he had gone to Mexico with another woman. He was not called as a witness by Deputy Coroner Monitoth.

According to dispatches from Washington yesterday, Mrs. Rosenberg asserted her husband has not been home for about nine weeks. Detectives Mack and Dickey said they are making an investigation to ascertain whether Rosenberg is now in Los Angeles and whether the girl's suicide followed a quarrel with him. In notes at her apartment Miss Marshall said Rosenberg was sending her $15 a week.

One of the letters, it was stated, had been sent to Miss Marshall by Rosenberg's daughter, in which the daughter threatened her arrest on blackmail and extortion charges if she continued to "annoy" Rosenberg for money.

The two commissioners insisted that the license be reinstated, but their motion was lost, Commissioners Birnbaum and Foss holding out for more investigation and a report on the conduct of Brown.

The Legion Cafe, under a different management, was formerly the Hunnighird Cafe, which was closed when the commission revoked its license, according to Commissioner Foss, because of "immoral conditions in which members of the white and black races misconducted themselves."

LOCAL DETECTIVES INDICTED IN TEXAS

Milton Schaster and Fred Simmons, private detectives of this city, have been indicted by the Dallas county (Tex.) grand jury on a kidnaping charge as a result of their attempt to arrest C. C. Compton, wanted here on a bunko charge, and to smuggle him into California without the formality of extradition. Dispatches from Brownwood, Tex., where the local operatives were taken into custody with their prisoner, stated that the two men were acting for a bonding company here which had furnished $6000 bond for Compton after his arrest in this city. Compton later jumped his bond.

LEWIS IN CONFERENCE

S. C. Lewis, resigned president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, had a lengthy conference with U. S. Atty. McNabb yesterday, upon which no official comment was made. The conference, however, gave rise to reports about the Federal Building that the government had renewed its interest in the case which is primarily to determine if the mails were used in marketing the overissued stock.

Investors in Pool No. 2, according to investigators, and the amounts loaned are: H. Gutterman, $77,500; A. Frank, $75,000; S. Goodman, $60,000; J. Forbesstein, $55,500; E. Bastheim, $15,500; M. Weinstein, $15,500; D. Gordon, $15,500; Max Fuet, $15,000; J. Katzen, $15,000; H. W. Chotner, $10,000; P. Grossman, $15,000, and I. Levy, $5000.

Murray Brophy, who was formerly mentioned in connection with the asserted pool with a loan of $50,000, last night sent a letter to the receivers denying he had extracted usurious rates of interest from his holdings. Dr. Lickley said he was inclined to believe that Brophy was not guilty in the matter.

DENIES PROMISING IMMUNITY

During the day Dr. Lickley appeared before the grand jury and informed that body that reports declaring he had held out immunity to those pool operators who paid back asserted usurious funds to the receivers were false. The prosecutor was understood to have declared his policy was one of prosecution without favor and that the return of interest rates in no way relieved asserted usurers from prosecution.

The grand jury's interest in the matter was understood to have been in line with a policy of wholesale indictments and to seek the co-operation of Dr. Lickley in withholding immunity promises to prevent such promises from becoming boomerangs at the trial of the defendants.

D. Spurling, chairman of the Julian Petroleum stockholders' committee, issued the following statement on the purposes of the organization:

PROMISE ASSISTANCE

"We believe the stockholders are entitled to exact knowledge of the condition and affairs of their company as determined by the various investigators. We have confidence in these investigators, and in the authorities and wish to assist them in every way possible.

"Believing that it is decidedly impossible for each individual stockholder to work out the problems and act for themselves in this matter this stockholders' committee is formed for the purpose of consolidating the stockholders into a single unit, so that decisions may be made and carried out which will best serve the interests of the stockholders and most for the benefit of this community.

"We request that all stockholders call at 414 Wilcox building for passes to the mass meeting Friday night, as the space for the auditorium is limited and we wish to be assured that the stockholders are able to find seats."

BEAUTY'S DEATH BRINGS INQUIRY

Inquest Ordered in Case of Mrs. Evens

Father Informs Police of Threats Made

Verdict of Suicide Voiced by Detectives

Aroused over threats that are reported to have been made against the young woman's life some time ago, Chief Deputy Coroner MacDonald yesterday ordered that an inquest be held today over the body of Mrs. Helen St. Clair Evens, New York film actress, found dead in a Hollywood bungalow last Monday after swallowing a quantity of poison.

Intimations of the death threats are contained in telegrams received by Chief Davis from Albert T. Daniels, New York beauty-lotion manufacturer and father of the dead girl, who wired that "frequent threats to kill Helen" had been made. Daniels also asked that every effort be expended to learn whether his daughter's death was suicidal or otherwise.

CALLED SUICIDE

Despite the father's suspicions, however, Detective Captains Slaughter and Knowles and Detective Lieutenants Carmen and Hack, all of whom worked on the case, declared yesterday that all the evidence pointed toward suicide. The girl, they declared, swallowed poison in her home at 2253 North Cahuenga avenue, Hollywood, after a domestic spat with her husband over a trivial matter and died despite her husband's efforts to save her life with emetics.

At the inquest, scheduled to be held in the County Morgue at 2:30 p.m., it is expected that Evens, the husband, will be the chief witness and tell the details leading up to his wife's suicide.

Captain of Detectives Knowles, who a short time ago settled a previous quarrel between the couple, is expected to recite that incident, while Detectives Carmen and Hack give a resume of their investigation.

INTERVIEW NEIGHBORS

The detectives yesterday interviewed neighbors living near the Evens home, but reported that no one had noticed anything unusual on the night of the suicide, nor had loud or excited voices been heard.

Another expected to be present at the inquest is James A. Blake, 2569 Glendale Boulevard, uncle of the dead woman. Blake told the police that the last time he saw the girl was six years ago, when she visited in Los Angeles from New York. Blake said he did not know her husband or that they had recently moved to Los Angeles.

Coroner Nance yesterday ordered that an analysis of Mrs. Evens's stomach be made, and the County Autopsy Surgeon reported finding a quantity of a common antiseptic lotion, which, at the same time, is a deadly poison.

RETURNS WELL HANDLED

The handling of the semiofficial returns by City Clerk Dominguez was most rapid, efficient and expeditious, and a large crowd at the City Hall watched the posting of the tabulation of these returns.

City Clerk Dominguez will have his tabulations of the semiofficial returns ready for the Council to begin their official canvass tomorrow morning. The canvass may be completed late tomorrow and the official vote declared. At Tuesday's election the votes on all candidates or propositions were so decisive that a recount will not be asked by any of the defeated candidates.

Victorious candidates issued statements yesterday expressing appreciation to the voters for the election results. E. Snapper Ingram, who will replace Otto J. Zahn, the present Tenth District administration Councilman, in his statement said:

PROMISES FAIRNESS

"I desire to express to the voters and citizens of the Tenth Councilmanic District my sincere appreciation for their support and confidence.

"To the citizens of the Tenth District and to the citizens of the city of Los Angeles I promise a fair, clean, honest business administration. I was elected on a platform of common sense in all matters pertaining to city government and particularly in the matter of assessments. I will carry out this platform.

"I have no entangling alliances nor obligations, and, inasmuch as my campaign was conducted on an independent basis, I will endeavor to serve the people as an independent Councilman.

"To the ex-service men who are responsible in a large measure for my success, and to the newspapers of Los Angeles I extend my thanks."

FOES OF TRAFFIC PLAN ALL GO DOWN TO DEFEAT

Every Councilmanic candidate who waged his campaign in opposition to the Major Traffic Street Plan was defeated, it was pointed out in a statement issued yesterday by Clarence R. Smethen, executive secretary of the Traffic Commission.

"Results of the election clearly indicate," he said, "that the voters of Los Angeles remain strongly in favor of continuing the city's street-opening and widening program.

"In no case was a candidate who attacked the Major Traffic Street Plan as a campaign issue elected. In the Twelfth District, Clarence W. Horn waged his campaign almost entirely upon the question of continuing the plan and other public improvements. He was defeated almost 2 to 1.

"In the Sixth District, Councilman E. E. Moore sought re-election on the ground that he was opposed to the plan. He also was defeated by a substantial majority.

"It is evident that the citizens of Los Angeles want sound, economic, needed public improvements, taking into consideration the will of the majority in each particular instance."

You must have plenty of landing fields with adequate facilities, and the sooner the cities wake up to the fact the nearer we shall come to a solution of the problem."

Other brief talks were given by Postmaster O'Brien, of Los Angeles, Mayor Clark, Mayor Cryer and Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, head of the aeronautical department of the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber's military and naval affairs committee, headed by Col. Copp, had charge of the affair. Music was furnished by the orchestra unit of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, C.N.G. HUNTINGTON'S WILL PROBATED

000,000. He gave away enormous sums during his lifetime, the chief being the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery and Arabella Huntington Memorial, consisting of his San Marino estate of 600 acres with its immensely valuable books and paintings. For this he established an endowment of more than $8,900,000 in securities alone, and so much more at least will be provided by the sale of 300 acres of the land.

VARIOUS BEQUESTS

The principal public bequest in his will is of $2,000,000 for the establishment of the Collis P. and Howard Huntington Memorial Hospital, in or near Los Angeles, in memory of his uncle and his son. Most of the estate goes to his family, his sister and his three daughters receiving trust funds of $1,000,000 each, while the residue of his estate is to be divided into four portions, one portion to be held in trust for each daughter and one for the children of Howard Huntington.

The University of Southern California and Occidental College will each benefit $10,000 by the probating of the will, which also creates a trust fund of $10,000 for Mrs. LaSalle Corbett Pickett, widow of Gen. Pickett of the Confederate army.

LARGER DISTRICT ASKED

Request that a larger assessment district be formed for the paving of Riverside Drive was made to the City Council yesterday by the Greater Riverside Drive Association. The city also was asked to bear half the expense of paving Riverside Drive where it abuts Elysian Park and Griffith Park.

made this girl of 3 the equal, physically and mentally, of the average child of 5!

(Name and address of child supplied in personal letter on request.)

This remarkable child, the daughter of a successful physician (name furnished upon request) was examined by University experts for the National Child Welfare Movement. The tests made when she was 3 years old showed a "mental age of 5 years and 8 months". She speaks two languages. She is 11 in. taller, 8¼ lbs. heavier and has a 2 in. larger chest expansion than the average child of her age. A surgeon dentist reports her teeth as perfect as he has ever seen. X-ray pictures show excellent bone development.

How? The method of feeding this child was so simple that every child can have the same advantages. And too, the diet is equally beneficial to adults. From birth, this child's food was enriched with the all important vitamin B. Even milk does not contain enough of this vitamin and it is greatly removed by many modern forms of refining, cooking and preparing foods.

This vitamin B was added to her food daily in the delightful form of VEGEX, a concentrated yeast extract and the richest known food in vitamin B. VEGEX is not a medicine but a purely vegetable health food which replenishes our ordinary foods with the vitamin B which they MUST contain to be properly assimilated and converted into body building material and energy.

VEGEX Sandwiches, rich, tasty

What This Child Ate

This child received, after the third day, VEGEX broth in quantities gradually increased from 2 ounces to 8 ounces per day. VEGEX was added to spinach, cereals, to bread, to her milk; so that at the age of 3 years, she consumed about ½ ounce per day. In addition she has had carrots, green vegetables, orange juice and plenty of sunshine. The VEGEX baby's mother ate VEGEX in large quantities while she carried and nursed this child.

Right Food Means Pep!

Millions of people eat too little vitamin, especially vitamin B, and do not know it. They may consider themselves healthy yet lack the vigor vitamins would give.

Mere pouring of food into the body does not give vitality nor even health. The food must be properly assimilated or it will be half wasted and our health and strength depleted.

Vitamins are absolutely essential to convert our foods into body building material and energy and stability.

Thousands of big business men and physicians use it daily and recommend it. General Chas. G. Dawes, Vice-President of the United States uses it and even serves it at the directors' meetings of his large Chicago bank.

Overcomes Many Ailments

IMPROVEMENTS have been reported by steady use of foods rich in vitamin B such as VEGEX. Sometimes like colds and the whole train of nose and throat troubles will disappear. Sometimes like colds and the whole train of nose and throat troubles will disappear. Sometimes like colds and the whole train of nose and throat troubles will disappear

MAIL FLOOD AWAITS AIR HERO

Fair Greeter Sending Lindbergh Card

Mary Ann Jenkins

COL. CHARLES LINDBERGH is going to receive thousands of greetings by air mail from Southern California where the sturdy plane that carried him over the Atlantic was built, air-mail officials said yesterday.

W. B. Edmunds of the Los Angeles postoffice air-mail department, said that mail carriers throughout the city today will distribute greetings to families along their routes. The greetings were published by the Western Air Express with the sanction of the Los Angeles postoffice authorities. They are addressed to Col. Lindbergh in Washington in care of the Postmaster-General. The cost of sending the welcome card by air mail is 10 cents.

Since the recent announcement of Postmaster-General New asking the people of the United States to greet Lindbergh by air-mail messages, the mail planes have been loaded to capacity, postal authorities said. The planes of the Western Air Express in Southern California in the last two days have carried record mail cargoes most of which were greetings to the hero flyer.

At Maywood Field, Chicago; the Cleveland Air Mail Field and Hadley Field, New York, special planes have been chartered to carry the greetings to Lindbergh.

ATTENTION CALLED TO RECRUITING DATE

The navy recruiting station called attention yesterday to the fact that the closing date of enlistment for recruits who wish to take the examination for appointment to the Naval Academy next year is July 1. Seven Los Angeles recruits of last year were successful at the examination: Charles Warren Aldrich of Riverside, Leonard J. Bickford of San Luis Obispo, Richard S. Andrews of Santa Fe, Erwin L. Farrington of Atascadero, John A. Fitzgerald of Hueneme, Daniel S. Morris of Pasadena and Marcus G. Steele of Los Angeles. Students who have finished the third year of high school have taken the subjects required for the examination.

TWO BRANCH BANK SITES PURCHASED

Hollywood-Boulevard Plot Brings Same Price as Lot Near First and Spring

Two real estate deals involving $800,000 in which the same price a front foot was paid for Hollywood Boulevard and for downtown Spring-street property were announced yesterday by the Security Trust and Savings Bank. Both properties were obtained for branch bank purposes. The Spring-street deal is the first instance of rebuilding in the vicinity of the new City Hall.

In its Spring-street purchase the Security has acquired the old Hammon Block at 120-122 South Spring street, with forty feet of frontage and a depth of 165 feet, for $160,000. The building will be razed and a new one built for the Equitable branch of the bank, now located at the northeast corner of Spring and First streets, in a building which is to come down to provide an approach to the new City Hall. The owners were A. Conzi and wife of Santa Barbara, and R. A. Rowan & Co. acted for both parties.

The Hollywood purchase was the northwest corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Sycamore avenue, 80 feet front by 140 depth, owned by the Hollywood Congregational Church. A building will be put up there for the Hollywood and La Brea branch of the bank, which will open Saturday at 7024 Hollywood Boulevard. This site cost $200,000, and George H. Coffin & Son represented buyer and seller.

Dreadnaughts, Destroyers and Subs Due on 28th

Two Battleships Assigned to Eastern Contingent

The vanguard of the returning Battle Fleet, composed of train squadron No. 2, will arrive at Los Angeles Harbor on the 25th inst., preceding the battleships, submarines, destroyers and aircraft squadrons, which will not arrive from the Atlantic until the 28th inst., according to advices received yesterday from the U.S.S. California, fleet flagship.

Eleven ships will be in the contingent to return here on the 25th inst. They include the hospital ship Relief, the base force flagship Procyon, flying the flag of Rear-Admiral W. W. Phelps, the naval tankers Cuyama, Kanawha and Neches, the supply ship Arctic, the mine sweepers Kingfisher, Partridge, Tern and Brant and the fleet repair ship Medusa, already in port here.

On the 28th inst., the combatant arms of the fleet will return to the home base. This force, under the four-starred flags of Admiral Richard J. Jackson, includes seven battleships as follows: California, West Virginia, Maryland, Mississippi, Idaho, Arizona and Pennsylvania; thirty-eight destroyers, the light cruiser Omaha, the aircraft carrier Langley and the aircraft tenders Aroostook and Gannet, two submarine divisions and two submarine tenders Argonne and Ortolan, and the destroyer tenders Melville and Altair.

Of the remaining five battleships heretofore with the Battle Fleet, the U.S.S. Tennessee is now cruising up and down the coast with cadets of the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps; the U.S.S. New Mexico is undergoing overhaul at the Puget Sound Navy Yard; the U.S.S. Colorado is completing repairs at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, following her grounding off Fire Island recently, and will not arrive here until late July; and the U.S.S. Oklahoma and U.S.S. Nevada, oldest units of the dreadnaught squadrons, have been temporarily assigned to the scouting fleet for modernization. They will pay Los Angeles Harbor their last visit in two years when they arrive here on July 1 for a four-day stay with the midshipmen from the Naval Academy on their annual training cruise.

The Japanese naval training squadron composed of the old cruisers Asama and Iwate, will visit San Francisco from July 31 to August 8 with 1500 midshipmen from the academy at Osaka.

LUNCH FOR WOMEN AT FOOD SHOW

Members of A. O. Chapter of P.E.O. Entertain at Manufacturers' Exhibit

Members of the A.O. chapter of the P.E.O. entertained heads of other chapters at the Manufacturers' Exhibit, Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, yesterday, and were themselves with their guests entertained at noon luncheon by the food exhibitors of the same organization. It was an all-around happy occasion, and the many women present were loud in their praise of the displays, which they inspected, as well as of their hosts' generosity. During the afternoon Miss Margaret Crist of the Olga Steeb School of Music sang two numbers, Mrs. Constance Weisgerber of Long Beach sang and Mrs. Grace Arnold and Miss Mattie Williams favored the assembly with a duet. The food exhibitors who purveyed the luncheon and their viands included Sparkletts artesian water, Kuhl-Warren's Golden Age macaroni salad, Libby, McNeil & Libby's corned beef and catsup, Holsum tea biscuit, Clover Glen butter, Libby, McNeil & Libby's imported Spanish green olives; Castle's cottage cheese, Stanton's Saratoga chips, H. Today at noon the Cosmopolitan Club will be guest of the food exhibitors in the patio garden. Huntington Park, Bell and Walnut Park, with the southeast manufacturing district, will be special guests during the afternoon and evening. William Ludlan of the Zoellner Conservatory will be heard in piano solos at 1 o'clock, and Dudley S. Wright, pupil of Tomarchio. Mrs. Ella Swickard will give an exhibition of spinning cotton, using a wheel 120 years old. Little Miss Mary Alice Galde of Glendale will do some expert toe dancing and C. Tunison will talk on the future of Los Angeles.

Also at night Sergt. E. S. Johnson of the police safety bureau will talk on safety in traffic, and the Police Quartet will sing. The evening entertainment will begin at 7:30 o'clock and the halls will be open right through, all day and evening, the public being invited at any time.

Speaker Tells of Dark Days in Starving Russia

Reminiscences of dark days in Russia in 1922-1923, when he helped to distribute 964,000 tons of American food among 12,000,000 starving natives, were recalled yesterday by Maj. F. Harvey Holden in an address before the Masonic Club at its Wednesday luncheon. His topic was "Personal Experiences in Russia," and he gave many vivid word pictures of the misery and suffering he saw as a member of the American relief expedition.

When the native food supply was exhausted, only the timely arrival of supplies from America prevented millions from dying of starvation. Other speakers at the luncheon were William H. Waste, chief justice of the State Supreme Court; Associate Justices Murphey and Sewell, and Justice Louis Works of the Court of Appeal. Music was provided by the Masonic Club Orchestra.

NOT A RELAY SWIM

Thirteen-year-old twin girls may try to swim the English Channel this summer. Here is one case where double-crossing will be more honest than working together.

LATEST CROSS-WORD STUFF

After Lindbergh hopped across he got a French cross, a Belgian cross and an English cross and now he comes home to get a cross again. When he starts out he certainly puts it across.

HEROIC DRIVING

But if full justice is to be done in all speeding cases drivers caught doing over twenty an hour on some of our torn-up streets should be given honorary commissions in the Rough Riders' alumni organization.

VACATION DAZE

Ah, yes! The season approaches when friend wife must get out maps, itinerary prospectuses, resort literature and the latest bank balances in order that friend husband may decide where she is to enjoy her summer vacation.

NEED YEAR-ROUND CLIMATE

The Democrats have not yet decided where next year's convention will be held because the responsible committeemen require much time for the selection of a city where several hundred delegates may pass the summer months.

BUSINESS TRAINING

Harvard has a $5,000,000 school of business administration as an addition to its wonderful educational plant. That accounts of big business before the students get into it. They don't have to work up. Looks as if it would be a big year for bond salesmen.

EXTINGUISHING STYLES

A little rewrite story of the days of kingly glory which has been quite generally published recently tells how a lady-in-waiting came to a king's rescue when his clothing caught fire at a court entertainment and smothered the flames with her dress. Dressed a la mode, a lady could not now smother a firefly.

PRINCE OF GOURMETS

Cut on Falstaffian lines, Maurice Edmond Sailland of Paris has been unofficially elected the French Prince of Gourmets. His judgment as to the best things for the table goes unchallenged in Paris. He is said to know more about the restaurants and inns of that city and the provinces than anyone else. The only fault found with him is by the winemakers, who say he shows too little respect for Burgundy. We would not consider this a fault in America.

THE SOCIAL SIDE

It was mighty thoughtful of the journalists to inform a throbbing world that the wife of the flying pilot of the Columbia wore a green georgette gown with a corsage bouquet of sweet peas when the interviewers found her after the morn of the flight. These details are of vast importance in reporting the great event. It is also explained that, while worried, the lady merely toyed with her food. Had she gone after her fodder with a knife the country would have known that she was excited.

WAXING WARLIKE

Not long ago Mussolini announced that Italy was straining at her boundaries—that the population was to large for its resources and that it must look for additional colonies. But in his recent address to the Fascisti he said that before 1950 the population must be increased to 60,000,000, and in his next breath he called for a strong navy, a huge air force and an army of 5,000,000. This change of sentiment is taken by many European observers to indicate that the surplus population the Duce calls for is meant for cannon fodder. How much this bellicose talk will increase the popularity of the Italian dictator remains to be seen. The people of his country are pretty well fed up on war.

ONE-SIDED WARFARE

The Italians are also firm in their determination to have no alliances with Russia. They insist that there is nothing whatever in common between Fascism and the Commune. They seek only to build up, while the soviet leaders strive always to pull down. If the Russians wish to declare war against any or all of the frowning governments of Europe they may do so to their heart's full will. The nations will pay no attention to them except to repel any attempts at invasion. No people will indicate sufficient activity or interest to attack the Russians. They may continue to bask in their own smell. They may call it a war if they wish, but as far as the other countries are concerned it will be only a game of peekaboo.

THE ELECTION OUTCOME

The voters of Los Angeles have good reason to congratulate themselves upon the decisive results which their ballots achieved at Tuesday's municipal election. The City Hall housecleaning job begun at the primaries was made thorough and complete at the finals and, for good measure, a horde of radicals, walking delegates and political spoilsmen were swept off the back steps into the gutter.

No more complete repudiation of any regime has ever been registered than that which has thrown into the discard the Parrot-Cryer maladministration of Los Angeles, with its unsavory concomitants of union-labor domination of public work, of thinly veiled Socialism in public offices and of public ownership for political exploitation. The Parrot candidates, the union-label candidates, the radical candidates and the noisy champions of John R. Haynes's municipal-ownership schemes all went down in a heap together. Nine new members of the Council were elected and of the six incumbents returned a majority are strongly antiadministration. The boss's control of the Council is irremediably smashed. The candidates put forward by the Central Labor Council to further in Council the unionizing-Los Angeles scheme were overwhelmingly defeated.

It is to be regretted that the English system does not obtain here whereby officials whose policies are repudiated by the people forthwith hand in their resignations. Under such a system Tuesday's election would be followed by the resignations of Mayor Cryer, Secretary Kinney, Commissioners Haynes, Horn, Dunn, Walter B. Allen and Buzzell, W. B. Mathews, E. F. Scattergood and a dozen others of less importance, but no less mischievous activities.

While it is perhaps too much to expect that these officials will give up their good jobs even at such a bludgeon hint as the voters have given them, the chances are that they will walk softly and warily for the rest of their brief spans of public life. It may even be that the municipal Power Bureau will stop devising Socialistic schemes to be put on the ballot at every opportunity and will attend to the business entrusted to it. Los Angeles does not want an unrestrained monopoly in the power business, nor does it care to evade contracts entered into, on one side at least, in good faith. That is the meaning of Tuesday's vote on Propositions 3 and 4.

For several years the Power Bureau has attempted to put across, in one form or another, the forced purchase of the electric system of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, which is serving a large number of consumers efficiently, at rates as low as those of the Power Bureau and paying a large sum in taxes besides. Always the Power Bureau grab scheme has been defeated, but always before the Power Bureau has had an alibi because the issue was not clearly presented.

This time the issue was clearly put, and in as favorable a form as the Power Bureau could wish, since the raising of the money to pay for the system was not part of the proposition directly. The answer is unmistakable; the full force of the Parrot machine of city employees was thrown into the scale and yet the proposition was beaten by 25,000 votes out of a total of less than 130,000 cast.

The decision not to build an unnecessary steam plant, at a cost of $6,000,000 or more, was equally emphatic. The voters have said that harbor lands are to be used for harbor purposes and not for political purposes.

The condition of the books of the Power Bureau, revealed in a recent Superior Court hearing, showed that there is plenty for the bureau to do in attending strictly to business for quite a while. Its best book-keepers could not untangle its mingled funds, in which the proceeds of bond sales had been mixed indiscriminately with money received from power sales, and the court could not be convinced that the bureau has any revenues at all. Considering that the bureau pays no taxes and that its rates are equal to those of a private corporation which pays taxes and still has a profit, this showing was far from encouraging, and until a better one is made the bureau is in no condition to ask for more responsibility.

The bureau flaunted its absolute contempt for the courts by renewing and redoubling its political activities—at the taxpayers' expense—after the State Supreme Court, to which it had appealed, had sustained in vigorous language the decision of Judge Butler directing the Power Bureau to cease spending public revenues for electioneering. No more brazen flouting of constituted authority has ever been exhibited and those responsible for it should be called sternly to account.

The victory of the candidates for the Board of Education indorsed by the Citizens' School Committee is additional reason for gratification, assuring a continuance of the present board's wise policy of keeping politics out of our schools. The addition of Caryl Sheldon to the Municipal Court bench brings to it a seasoned jurist of that rank and one of highly creditable record.

It is naturally a source of some gratification to The Times that the results of the election should have been so exactly in accord with the recommendations of this paper. But in a large sense it was not a victory for any newspaper or group of individuals.

It was a victory of common sense.

WHEN "LUCKY" COMES HOME

So far as one can discover no one living human has ever been so acclaimed throughout the world as America's international hero, Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh. When he comes home the welcoming orators will be hard put to form phrases strong enough to out-megaphone the hero worshipers of Europe. In such conditions, what can a poor orator say? What "Lucky" has done speaks so loud that no one can hear what some one may say about it.

When "Lucky" comes home whistles will scream, guns will boom, millions will cheer, hands will play and, after all that, some official greeter chosen for the job will face the boy who set all Europe on its ear and will try to say something appropriate. A Webster, a Beecher, a Lincoln, an Ingersoll would hesitate to crown that lad with words after he has been decorated with so much glory, but somebody here and some one else there will have to welcome "Lucky" officially and it's going to be a hard job.

When "Lucky" comes home millions of men and women and girls and boys are going to hail him as the hero of the age. The boy from whom the most famous American general asked the favor of an autograph will be the psychological complex of a country. What good will words be at a time like that?

When "Lucky" comes home he will encounter again and again the flights of American oratory and peradventure beyond a doubt he will find them harder to pass through than the fogs of the Irish and Newfoundland coasts. It is going to be hard on "Lucky" and his official greeters as well, this round of ceremonies and interspersed oratorical effort. So it will be better for the most part to make those gems of oratory brief and snappy, for the scream of whistles, the boom of guns, the cheers of millions, the grand fanfares of brass bands and 120,000,000 hats in the air will be the only things that can be seen or heard beside the boy himself when "Lucky" comes home.

BLACK SPOTS

The women of the Federated Clubs have discovered that America has 5,000,000 persons who can neither read nor write, and that the country ranks but tenth in literacy. It is a revolutionary thing to be discovered by a woman.

In order to correct the condition before the 1930 census the women are busy getting data on the densest spots of illiteracy. These will be attacked scientifically by batteries of schools.

Missionary workers among the churches have been about the only ones interested in these black spots in the past. They have been seriously handicapped by having nothing but teas and mite boxes with which to scour them white. Their devotion has been praiseworthy. But when religion hitches up civic and business activities to its enthusiasm tremendous reinforcements will have been obtained.

When womanhood in general becomes disturbed and sets herself to mopping up the black spots the United States will no longer be tagging along at the end of the procession of nations with its limping cultural opportunities.

America imports much of her ignorance through Castle Garden. This naturally drains foreign countries of their illiterates and lifts their percentage of literacy. However, it proportionally lowers the percentage of our own.

On the other hand, the immigrant cannot be accused of furnishing all the black for the spots. Kentucky and Tennessee mountaineers are among the greatly neglected. The negroes of the South are another backward element. And they are not wholly at fault.

When a Mayor of a great city can be elected by the slogan that the King of England must keep "his snoot out of Chicago" there is evidence that a considerable part of its citizenry is made up of third-graders.

A despotic government may thrive on ignorance. However, no republic can be run on illiteracy. Every citizen is king.

The man who can vote and won't vote should forfeit his franchise. The next worst citizen is the man who does not know enough to vote. Nor can you run a republic on pink teas and oyster suppers. When illiteracy gets the attention of the womanhood of the country the black spots will vanish and the bowwows will not fatten upon so many of the youth.

PASSING OF A SPORT KING

Payne Whitney of New York, stricken with a fatal heart attack while playing tennis at his Long Island home the other day, was noted for many other things besides the fact that he was the third richest man in the world and left a fortune of more than $200,000,000. He was a leader in good, clean sport, a former tennis racquet champion, owner of a string of fleet race horses and a philanthropist of the first order, having given millions to the New York Public Library and many other institutions.

But, best of all, he was known as a poor man's friend and especially the friend and benefactor of poor horsemen. They say that when the news of his sudden demise reached the Belmont Park stables, where he had several horses entered for a great race that day, tears coursed down the cheeks of many jockeys and other horsemen and they grieved over the loss of their employer as they would have done over that of a near relation.

Payne Whitney inherited a great fortune from his father, the late William C. Whitney, and his uncle, Col. Oliver Payne. This money he invested in real estate, securities and thoroughbred horses, and his wealth grew apace. The size of his fortune passed unnoticed for years, as did that of his many quiet benefactions, until the publication of income-tax payments in 1924 made it known that he had paid the third largest income tax of any individual in the United States—$3,041,961. Only Henry Ford and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., paid more.

His death at the comparatively early age of 51 shows that a man of his build—he was tall and quite heavy-set—should not be too strenuous in athletics. He kept up his tennis and other exercise in a way that would have killed men of far less weight long before the age of 50. But he loved sport of all kinds and was not content to sit by and watch other players, but must have a hand in the game, and his strenuous efforts of this sort were his undoing.

A GREAT DICTIONARY

There will be completed in England this year the most elaborate work in dictionary making ever undertaken. In an account of this wonderful lexicographical achievement a writer in the London Times, who served on the editorial staff of the big dictionary for thirty years, tells of the enormous amount of labor expended upon it, the severe trials of its various editors and their triumph as the work nears its close.

The book will contain 407,134 words and there will be more than 1,000,000 quotations illustrative of their use. Being the work of thorough scholars, "The New English Dictionary," as it is called, should be authoritative, and yet, as in the case of other books of the kind, there doubtless will be plenty of people to dispute its authority.

It is to be hoped that it will not prove one of those too-liberal lexicons, readily called to mind, in which one may find warrant for almost any sort of usage or orthography, but one that will be a true guide to students, writers and the general reader—one that is careful in its definitive preferences and gives its sanction to the best forms and tendencies.

CONTRACT

By James J. Montague

No game I ever learn to play
By exercising all my ardor,
But some one does not find a way—
Once I have learned—to make it harder;
My nerves are seldom badly frayed
By toiling at my occupation—
I love to pit my simple trade,
What wears me out is recreation.

I studied whist and mastered it,
But could the card sharks rest contented
To let me play it? Not a bit
The game of auction they invented;
I labored while some ten years passed
What time my hair grew daily grayer
With patient study, and at last
Became a fairly finished player.

But auction now has grown too tame,
Its vogue forever has abated
In favor of this contract game
A hundred times more complicated;
This pastime harbors traps galore
To snare the timid and unwary,
And anyone, to keep the score
Must be a chartered actuary.

Let those take up this game who will—
I'd rather toy with pipe and tabor,
I like a game of cards, but still
I am not over fond of labor;
The touch of frost is on my brow
And steadily my years are mounting,
And I'm already too old now
To learn the business of accounting.

OUR SLAVES

BY FOOTHILL PHILOSOPHER

"I wish I were a magician and could call up slaves to do my bidding," said a child to me the other day.

"You are a magician," I told him.

"Where are my slaves?" he asked.

"In your head and your heart," I answered. "They are your words."

Most of us would be more careful how we used our slaves, as well as more particular about the kind of slaves we employ. If we would pause to reflect upon the fact that a word, diving into the world from the springboard of the tongue, can make the person we address glad, sad or mad and that the reaction upon us is always according to the character of the word released.

A spoken word is the sound-symbol of an idea; a written word the pictorial representation of a thought. This it is that makes oratory so attractive and that makes literature the most comprehensive form of art.

One may choose his books and his companions and he may think whatever he wills to think concerning the words he reads or hears—but while one is reading he is compelled to think much as the author thought, to see much as the author saw, and while he listens he cannot escape the viewpoint of the man who speaks.

This explains, in part, why an undue amount of publicity concerning unpleasant facts tends to make conditions more unpleasant; it explains why sermons and lectures in which the "stress and strain" and other undesirable factors of modern life are discussed leave the audience with a bad taste in its mouth; it explains why the drama that deals with moral problems almost invariably is degrading and desensitizing, because of the apparent necessity of emphasizing the immoral and the unclean.

Man begins to actualize his potentialities when he comes to know his inner strength, and he realizes his power according to the degree of his faith and the development of his will to right thoughts, words and actions. It is hard to understand how any of us can speak any except the brightest, happiest words to ourselves or to others.

"Boys, flying kites, call back their white-winged birds—
But you can't do that when you're flying words.
Words, left unuttered, sometimes fall back dead—
But God Himself can't kill them, once they're said."

AFRICAN HIGH JUMPERS

Leading 194 American track stars by 180 yards, a Hopi Indian set a new marathon record recently in a Long Island race. He overcame the handicap of coming from an arid climate 7000 feet up in the Rockies down to humid sea level.

More records would fall to primitive peoples, according to the report of an African explorer in a communication to the National Geographic Society, if the Wattusi could jump as successfully in a temperate climate as in the Tropics.

A line, which could be raised or lowered at will, was stretched between two slender trees standing on an incline," wrote a spectator of track events among the Watusi people of Tanganyika. "The athletes had to run up to this and jump from a small termite heap a foot in height. Despite these unfavorable conditions, exhibitions were given which would place all European sports in the shade. The best jumpers, slender, but splendid figures with an almost Indian profile, attained the incredible height of 8 feet, 2 inches, and young boys made the relatively no less wonderful performance of 5 feet.—[National Geographic Bulletin.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

The Big One

LOS ANGELES, June 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Noting your various reports and comments on the Julian Petroleum mix-up, why not suggest that if they are forming a Stockholders' Protective Association to also go after Julian himself, have all his companies investigated, such as oil syndicates, pump corporation, petroleum corporation, Western Lead, etc. Compare his various advertisements, letters and promises sent out and made by his salesmen, company and himself, then compel him to disgorge as well as the others. Chances are that he would turn State's evidence to avoid prosecution, but, at the same time, it might help to get all information and thus a civil suit could be instituted against him that would make him disgorge or keep from doing more damage to this section. I formerly worked in his office and I have often heard him say after putting over one of his deals that Barnum said "A sucker was born every minute," but he found "ten were born or came to Los Angeles every minute." Yours for the good of the stockholders and this section.

The Desert Smiles

HIGHLAND PARK, June 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Those for whom the desert has a charm and an elegance of beauty each time they visit it as well as those who have heard of its wonders should not fail to read Fred Hogue's wonderful description of it which was published on the editorial page of The Times on May 21 under the caption, "The Desert Smiles." Vacation days are here and thousands of city cliff dwellers and others are dreaming about the wide-open places where they would like to go and stretch themselves out on the sand at night and gaze at the stars. If they are undecided as to whether to visit the desert or the seashore let them read Hogue's "The Desert Smiles" and Lord Byron's apostrophe to the ocean, "Roll on, Thou Deep and Dark Blue Ocean, Roll," which may be found in any third or fourth-grade school reader.

ROBERT McCOURT.

Norwegian Seals

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Seals are not only gluttons, but they also scare the fish away from their spawning grounds. The fish have to leave and drop the eggs some place in deeper water, where they don't hatch, to the complete destruction of the fishery. The seal is the terror of the Norwegian fisherman. When the seals come in from the Arctic Ocean he knows it means starvation for his family.

On application the Norwegian government furnishes free of cost the fisherman with special-made materials to make "seal nets," which is the most effective way to catch them.

ALBERT BOYE.

Pretty Late Now

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I find there are a number of firms in Los Angeles which are opening their offices earlier and closing earlier during the summer months, carrying out in part the plan followed in many eastern cities known as daylight-saving plan.

I believe the working people of Los Angeles would greatly appreciate the establishment of daylight saving in this community during the summer months and I would like to ask if your paper would not give the matter favorable consideration and get behind a movement to agitate such a program for Los Angeles.

I believe many people in this community would appreciate your help in furthering the establishment of daylight saving for Los Angeles.

PRIZE BEAUTIES

BY THE SUBURBANITE

I'm old-fashioned, of course, but I can't see that all these undress beauty contests have done the country a bit of good, except in an educational way. They possibly have advanced our general knowledge of anatomy.

But they have destroyed an old ideal. The number of them who figure in divorce suits soon after winning public scrutiny shows that a lot of American men don't find a thing of beauty a joy forever.

They're lucky if they find it a joy six months.

As to their uplifting value, it isn't the most artistic and beauty-loving people who flock to see them. I know a lot of men who never went to see a bathing-beauty contest, but I don't know a single man who takes a vulgar interest in feminine legs who hasn't.

I'd be willing to bet that four-fifths of the fellows who crowd the street-cars to get to a beach beauty show never even enter an art gallery to study the perfection of human lines in marble.

I've got nothing against beauty contests except the crowds which flock to see them and the reactions of those crowds.

Yet a thing of beauty should be a joy forever, and to all right-thinking folk it is. Beauty is a rare gift of nature and we should thrill to it in people as we thrill to it in music or in art.

Only remember this, brother. Any time you find personal beauty appealing to you sensually instead of spiritually you are not getting the real good out of it.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

This week is being filled with affairs connected with graduation ceremonies at several of the schools and colleges and among the popular sweet girl graduates who are to receive their diplomas is Miss Barbara McCartney, elder daughter of Mrs. Burrall O. Raulston of Estrella avenue, who is to receive her degree from the Girls' Collegiate in Glendora.

This attractive school, away off in the foothills of the Sierra Madre Mountains, recently moved out from its old site in West Adams street at Hoover and many of our charming young subdebs are receiving their schooling there.

Miss McCartney is taking a prominent part in the senior class play, "Monsieur Beaucaire," which is being given there this evening, and is also entertaining and being much entertained during this season.

Monday afternoon the 13th inst., Miss McCartney is giving a luncheon, bridge and swimming party in honor of her classmates, and several of the teachers at Girls' Collegiate, the affair taking place at Club Casa del Mar in Santa Monica, thirty-five guests having been bidden. The following Wednesday, the 15th inst., she will be hostess at a beautifully appointed supper-dance at the Los Angeles Country Club, when she has invited 150 members of the younger set, the occasion honoring Miss Adelaide Wilson, who is being graduated from Marlborough School.

At the luncheon Monday the color scheme will be effectively carried out in summer flowers and foliage, and the place cards will be dainty hand-painted sketches of attractive girls on horseback.

The Raulstons have not made any particular plans for the summer, but probably will go up to Santa Barbara in August for the regatta, as Mrs. Raulston's brother, Owen Porter Churchill, has a yacht and both her daughters, Barbara and Kathleen, are extremely fond of the water sports.

Miss Barbara has not yet decided whether she will enter University of Southern California or University of California at Los Angeles this fall, but Miss Kathleen enters her freshman year at Girls' Collegiate, having been graduated from the eighth grade class there this month.

For Bride-Elect

Miss Eleanor Booth is the inspiration for a beautifully appointed luncheon today, with which Miss Elsie Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wright, is entertaining at the Women's Athletic clubhouse. The affair is informal, a dozen of Miss Booth's most intimate friends having been asked to come down for the last affair before the wedding, which is to take place in the Franklin Booth gardens in Inverness avenue, Saturday afternoon.

This afternoon there will be a rehearsal at the Booth home and this evening Miss Booth is entertaining the members of her bridal party and a few close friends with a supper party after the rehearsal.

Orton Graduations

With the garden as an appropriate setting of background, the senior class of the Orton School was graduated Wednesday, the 1st inst. Charming, indeed, was the music of the Clotilde Ferte trio, which formed a pleasant break in the program. Those receiving diplomas were Misses Virginia Carson Benkart, Marioria Field Bettis, Gwendolyn Brem, Edith Conrad, Ruth Horne, Nelda Orr Jeffrey, Carolyn Margaret Kaiser, Beryl Krutchkoff, Celia Eleanor Loyd, Dorothy Louise Maupin, Eileen Patsy Miller, Geraldine Rose Moon, Evelyn Violet Shapiro, Dorothy Isabel Stevens and Muriel Selden Spencer. Dean Beal of St. Paul's Cathedral gave the address.

At the class day exercises, held the previous day, the members of the eighth grade were given their diplomas, including Misses Clarinda Moon, Martha Funkhauser, Louise Beal, Rosemary McCarthy and Barbara Turner.

Wedding Announced

The marriage of Miss Esther Lenore Buckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Buckman, to John James Landon was solemnized Thursday morning, the ceremony taking place in the Church of the Angels, Carvanna way, and following a wedding breakfast was served for the relatives, bridal party and a few close friends at the Mary Louise. The tables were lovely with pastel shades of summer flowers, combined with ferns, a dainty miniature bride and groom marking the covers for Mr. and Mrs. Landon. Miss Marian Buckman assisted her sister as maid of honor, while Jimmie Gibson served Mr. Landon as best man at the ceremony.

Commencement Exercises

Commencement exercises at Westlake School for Girls were held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. A musical program by Oskar Sailing trio was followed by the invocation by Dr. Hugh Kelso Walker, and Miss Owen Humphrey Churchill of South Figueroa street. Miss McCartney is entertaining with a number of charming affairs this month, and is to take a prominent part in the school play, "Monsieur Beaucaire," which is being given at the school this evening.

Frederica De Laguna gave the address, "The Miracle of Youth," and presented diplomas to the Misses Catherine Barry, Caroline Bishop, Georgina Virginia Boggs, Sylvia Bisek, Alanta Carrel, Helen L. Keep Your Lovely Girlish Complexion

If your skin becomes parched, worn, freckled, tanned from exposure to the winds and sun, you can peel it away quickly and easily by using pure mercolized wax. Procure an ounce from any drug store or beauty counter, and use according to directions. The wax absorbs the old, dead skin, a little at a time until it has all disappeared. After the outer skin has been removed, the under skin is revealed, smooth and velvety-soft, with a delicate peach-like bloom. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty.—[Advertisement.

Ends disposal problem—Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

THE old-time sanitary pad has been supplanted by a new and better way called Kotex.

It ends the embarrassment of laundry and disposal. You discard Kotex as easily as tissue.

It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, and thus protects amazingly. You wear sheer gowns and gay frocks under the most trying conditions.

Also deodorizes, and thus ends all fear of offending. 8 in 10 better-class women now use it. Great hospitals employ it. Doctors widely urge it.

Most stores have Kotex on counters wrapped in plain paper, ready to be picked up without even asking.

Package contains 12. Be sure you get the genuine Kotex, for only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

PASSING THOUGHTS

If by some magic mirror [illegible] we could see the thoughts regarding us, in the minds of those we pass upon the street, I ponder how we would feel?

We know you give a thought of some sort to nearly everyone you meet. "How ugly!" says your mind. "How pretty!" "How could she be guilty of such a fault!" "I wonder when she bought those lovely shoes, I want some similar." "If that old flapper would only realize!" "How can anyone look that way, unless made up for a funny part on the stage!"

What are the other passers thinking of us?

Oyez! Oyez!

Time time, just like that! Only don't make that exclamation Ollie! Ollie! Such an interesting section of those quaint waterholders in that great furniture store. Oh, of every shape, size and finish. [illegible] suspended by heavy ropes, after the old-time American way, the [illegible] fitted into big tassels where [illegible] are fat, round, tubby [illegible] are tall and slim and Signorina; others big and practical; [illegible] with inlay of turquoise tints; [illegible] with huge pouty snouts. Oh, [illegible] are worth looking at; and you [illegible] must see at least to hang in the patio, or to stand beside the [illegible], or to squat upon the edge [illegible] the garden pool.

Sandals

The French, always famed for [illegible] whatever they touch, [illegible] it more lovely, more gracious, [illegible] are now taken a hand at those [illegible] sandals, made by the Chinese [illegible] common use. First, the shoes were [illegible] in brilliant colors by our [illegible] Americans and put to beach [illegible] Now, they come from Paris, the [illegible] turned to fit the feminines foot [illegible] lending grace to the entire [illegible]. Of course the Frenchified Chinese [illegible] sandals are prettily colored and [illegible] trimmed, I have seen them only at [illegible] famous importing shop, where [illegible] most unique of French creations [illegible] are to be found.

Why This Sort

Some of the most lovely lamps, [illegible] in leading stores and shops are [illegible] from garden gazing globes. [illegible] can scarcely imagine the beauty [illegible] these globes put to this new use. [illegible] the colors surrounding, as [illegible] the light striving down from [illegible] shade above. Such lamps come [illegible] several sizes ranging from those [illegible] large for the living room, to the [illegible] ones for dressing tables.

Some Lamp Specimen

The big water lamps, so much admired now have a novel touch in that [illegible] pressing flowers within the liquid. [illegible] effect is exquisite, enlivening.

Aunt Jane's Way

Observing that the family had a [illegible] way of scratching matches on [illegible] wall space, what did Aunt [illegible] do? Did she endeavor to eradicate the bad habit, issuing prohibitive mandates? Not she! She placed [illegible] a frame of small proportions [illegible] piece of sand paper and set it [illegible] against the wall where the [illegible] scratching was in progress.

Summer Blouse

The blouse of all-over lace is a [illegible] bound to be popular. [illegible], yes, the blouse itself is bound [illegible] a rule—bound with some bright [illegible], to accord with the remainder [illegible] the costume. Color binding, by the [illegible], is a season's way with feminine [illegible].

Sandals for Men

The sandals named for the famous [illegible] resort, brought to us and [illegible] a season or so ago, now [illegible] made in sizes for men. For summer resort wear, these shoes are exciting and in keeping. They come in [illegible] different colors and combinations of color and in varying weaves.

Chic

Just like Fashion to bring out [illegible] looks for summer wear! But I [illegible] her failure for once—in our [illegible] we are a law unto ourselves [illegible] shall be, I hope, forever. We are [illegible] merely a city, for one thing, but [illegible] a congregating of several kinds [illegible] summer resorts and have rights [illegible] as resorts must have. It is also [illegible] for us to wear upon the [illegible] such clothing as would be [illegible] unfit to beach or mountain, or [illegible] club. I hope we always shall [illegible] this advantage. One of the most [illegible] differences in visiting eastern cities is that street clothes are so [illegible] uninteresting. I hope we [illegible] shall keep away from that.

Ideas from Fashion's Plane

The tailored suit is once more the [illegible] costume for town wear.

Trimmings should be sparingly used [illegible] the small, slender woman.

For formal occasions the small all-[illegible] handkerchief is correct form.

The low-cut oxford and one-strap [illegible] are popular for daytime wear.

Fringes are still used on after-[illegible] dresses that have long sleeves.

The afternoon wear the satin dress [illegible] peasants cut and line is exquisite.

The junior frock is usually long [illegible] and has a slightly full skirt.

Pockets for men decree the one-[illegible] shirt is the smartest for eve-[illegible].

A smart bathing suit consists of [illegible] satin trunks and a white jersey [illegible].

The maid should wear a white uniform with cap that covers all of the [illegible].

If your dress or coat is of beige be sure to have your hose of the same [illegible].

Summer evening gowns are trimmed with [illegible] designs in rhinestones.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope should be inclosed to this office, and will be answered by a personal reply.

Mrs. D. A. T. writes:

"I never fail to find your column interesting and I ponder if you would write something about child nursing. My baby is 10 months old and is beginning to develop a will of his own. Of course I do not want to kill this but I would like to curb it my way at times. When I put him down for his naps we have a endurance contest. I put him down and he stands up; I stand him up and he stands up; I put him down again. Sometimes I either laugh and finally give in and let him cry and stands up again. Sometimes I succeed in getting him down for perhaps three-quarters of an hour and then he is as wide awake as ever when I put him down.

"When he gets angry he screams and kicks and throws himself backward. I put on his shoes and socks and the first whenever I do something he does not like. He is my first baby and these things worry me. Now that he starts to walk how shall I manage? Is it going to injure him not to pull over all the time? Is it interesting etc.? He weighs twenty-one pounds and crawls all over the house. He has only two teeth. Isn't that rather late? I am weaning him now. Should I wean him milk from a cup?"

Answer: This is a full letter and would need a book to answer adequately. Perhaps you are going to have trouble about the walking. If you would make game of it at the time. Babies of this age often decide that they cannot walk for a day and so raise a row when they try. The wise mother will put the baby down in the morning nap, making an afternoon nap take the place of the morning and afternoon nap. I doubt the baby thinks you are long when you put him down and stands up. Put him down and get out of the room. Let his cries go unanswered and after he is quiet go in and cover him.

I have a strong feeling that a determined person and a determined baby feels that he is the master of his dressing, and not a prisoner. Any baby must learn. It is a primitive instinct to object to being held down. Try to make dressing an enjoyable matter. It will take more time for the present but it would not be time wasted.

Have his father make a game for him so that he can't get the family's belongings until he has learned by constant repetition that "this belongs to mother and you mustn't touch" that he is not troubled. Meanwhile he is in no danger and so are the family vases.

You may give him part of a cup of milk from a cup, but most of it will be given by bottle for a time. His is rather slow in getting

HAM OMELET

Four eggs, one-half teaspoonful of flour, two tablespoonfuls of milk, two tablespoonfuls of chopped ham, one-half grated onion, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste.

Beat the yolks to a cream and add the other ingredients. Rub all these smoothly together, and then add the whites of the eggs, beaten to a froth. Beat all thoroughly together. Put a tablespoonful of butter in the frying pan. When it melts add the omelet. Let it stand, shaking occasionally to prevent from sticking to the pan, till the eggs are quite set. Then fold as in a plain omelet turn into a hot dish and serve.

BROILED SPANISH MACKEREL

Three pounds Spanish mackerel, one tablespoonful of olive oil, one tablespoonful of butter, the juice of one lemon, one sliced lemon, parsley to garnish. Sauce a la maitre d'hotel.

Where the fish is large split downward in the middle of the back and broil. Place on a dish garnished with parsley and slices of lemon. Serve with maitre d'hotel sauce.

GREEN PEPPERS SPANISH

Six green peppers, three tomatoes, French dressing.

Parboil the peppers so that they will peel easily, and scald the tomatoes. Peel all and remove the seeds of the peppers. Cut the peppers into one inch pieces, slice the tomatoes and serve on lettuce leaves with a plain French dressing.

FROZEN PEARS

Without opening, pack a can of pears in ice and salt as for ice cream. Let it remain for three or four hours. When taken out, cut the can open around the middle. If frozen very hard, wrap around with a towel dipped in hot water; the contents can then be slipped out in perfect rounds. Cut into slices and serve with a spoonful of whipped cream on each slice.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

ULCERATED MOUTH

F.: You should go to a physician with your mouth! The ulcers that keep recurring there show that something is wrong. The physician will make a microscopic examination, or have one made, from the secretions of the ulcers, and institute appropriate treatment. As you say your teeth are smooth and you keep them thoroughly cleaned, and you do not use tobacco in any form, the chances are that you need not worry about the ulcers becoming cancerous. There is a form of little white plates on the mouth (leucoplakia) which may become ulcerous looking; there are due to tobacco, so you can exclude them.

Vincent's angina, which was so common during the war that it was known as trench mouth, is not an uncommon infection. The microscopic examination will show the causative germs if the condition is Vincent's angina. This may bring on ulceration of the gums or any part of the mouth. However, Bloodgood states that he seldom has seen trench mouth without an association of erosion or decay in the teeth, and pyorrhea.

There seems to be a specific medication for Vincent's angina in sodium perborate. Bloodgood states it will cure the condition in 95 per cent of the cases, rapidly. You will have to see your physician or dentist for the method of using this.

There are other things I should speak of besides Vincent's angina as the cause of ulcers in the mouth, and that is syphilis, tuberculosis, or injury due to pressure of a plate, or irritation from the teeth. Then there are scurvy and pellagra, systemic diseases caused by faulty feeding, which will also produce mouth ulcerations. The lack of fresh fruits and vegetables, or the lack of vitamin B, is the cause of scurvy, and the lack of vitamins and complete protein (or the meat element of food, such as is gotten in milk and flesh foods, eggs, cheese) is the cause of pellagra.

A REDUCER'S DINNER

B. wants to know if one can have a dinner of approximately 650 C. and have anything in it?

Most certainly, B. Here's a sample: 1 cup clear consomme (no fat), 25 C; broiled halibut or other lean fish, 4 or 5 ozs., 150 C; lemon, parsley, butter sauce (1½ tbsp.), 100 C; 1 cup of greens (no fat), 50 C; ½ cup tomatoes, 25 C; 1 slice whole wheat bread (no butter) or 1 medium-sized potato, 100 C; dessert: 1-3rd ordinary slice of pie (better an apple or other fruit), approx. 100 C; 10 ozs. skim or buttermilk, 100 C. Total, 650 C.

In order to get sufficient protein, vitamins and mineral elements for the day, you should have some more of the high protein foods, such as beans, peas, nuts or eggs; more fruit and other vegetables and another glass of milk for vitamins and mineral salts. Your other two meals can amount to 550 C. and you will be on a reducing diet, for an average of 1200 C. a day, consistently carried out, will reduce any up and around person from one to two pounds a week. You mustn't forget that two big meals during the week, eating as you used to eat, may make your average for the week high enough that you will not lose; then you'll think there is nothing in this Peterizing business.

If you haven't the booklet on reducing and gaining, send 10 cents in stamps with a fully self-addressed and stamped envelope.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Grass Stains

Use clear, cold water to remove grass stains from clothing and then rub firmly between the fingers. Soap is apt to set the stains.

Nice and Juicy

When making fruit pies try moistening the edges of the crust with milk. This will hold them together and prevent the juices from escaping.

Try Again

When the cream will not whip, add the white of an egg to it. Let both the cream and egg get thoroughly chilled and try whipping them together.

For Bad Scratches

The meat of a pecan nut rubbed into a bad scratch on highly polished furniture will successfully conceal the marks. Polish afterward with furniture polish.

This and That

If you want the glassware to shine, add vinegar to the rinse water.

If you are in doubt as to what to serve the guests on a meatless diet, have chicken and waffles.

Wilted vegetables may be revived by soaking them in cold water containing a little salt for a short time before using.

Paint the nails with white enamel that are used for hanging kitchen towels and the tapes will not become discolored with rust.

GIRLS OF SCHOOL AGE KEEP IN GOOD HEALTH

They Find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Medicine

LOUISE LOUTHAN
ROUTE 2, CHARLESTON, ILLINOIS

From the days of the peloneise to the days of the radio, mothers have given this dependable medicine to their daughters. School girls are often careless. They get wet feet. They overstudy or they tire themselves with too many dances and parties. They get run down.

Many an active girl of today, like the demure maiden of the 1870's, has found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is helping her to find better health and energy.

"I gave my fifteen-year-old girl Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it did her a wonderful lot of good. She had been out of school for four months. I read the advertisements of the Vegetable Compound, and since she has taken it she has improved and has gone back to school again. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other mothers with girls who are not as strong as they should be."—Mrs. ALLEN LOUTHAN, Route 2, Charleston, Illinois.

"My daughter was out of school two terms. I have known about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all my life and finally decided that she should try it. Three bottles helped her in various ways for the next couple of years."—Miss. W. E. GILLETTE, 986 E. 52nd Place, Los Angeles, Calif.

"I have always been sickly, and until I was fourteen my father was very strict about my perfect attendance at grammar school. I have gone to school through hard storms and often taken cold. When I was fourteen I took to my bed and did not get up for eighteen months. Everyone thought I could not live. Just four months ago I began taking your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I could notice a great change almost at once. Now I feel like a new person. I wish all girls would try Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful medicine."—Miss. C. M. SMITH, Union Village, Vermont.

DENTISTS IN HEALTH AID FOR PUBLIC

Southland Association to Conduct Hygiene Institute; Annual Session Closes

Passage of a resolution commending the State Board of Dental Examiners on its enforcement of the dental laws and its protection of the public health was the last official act of the thirtieth annual convention of the Southern California State Dental Association, which closed a three-day session at the Biltmore yesterday.

DR. GUY E. O'NEIL

The convention was voted the most successful since the founding of the organization in 1896, as more than 900 dentists and visitors were registered. It is expected the 1928 convention will be held in Los Angeles, also.

Dr. Guy E. O'Neil, retiring president, installed Dr. C. C. Noble, president-elect, and other officers chosen for the 1927-28 term at the final session yesterday morning.

Announcement was made that the first annual public health institute to be given under auspices of county health agencies will be held at Patriotic Hall from the 20th inst., to July 8, next, inclusive. Prof. C. E. A. Winslow, who holds the Lauder chair of public health at the Yale school of medicine, will be one of the speakers. There will be a technical instruction course and evening lectures on "Personal Health and General Hygiene."

The dentists spent the afternoon and evening at the Upliters' Ranch in Santa Monica Canyon, where a sports carnival, barbecue and dance were held.

DESCENDANT OF PIONEER FAMILY DIES

Miguel Marquez Succumbs at Santa Monica Home Where Forbears Got Grant

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, June 8.—Miguel Marquez, one of the original Santa Monica families, 57 years of age, died today at his home at 245 Center, Santa Monica Canyon, where he had lived continuously from the time of his birth. The Rancho Marquez originally extended from the Santa Monica city limits to Topanga Canyon and was 6665 acres; as the Rancho is Boca de Santa Monica it was granted by the King of Spain in 1828 to the Marquez and Reyes families. Now only one acre remains, the rest having been subdivided and sold.

He leaves a son, Charles Marquez, one daughter, Hortense Marquez, two brothers, Willie and Euriego Marquez, and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Siert and Mrs. G. Reyes, all of Santa Monica. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

Marriage Fails for Stage Pair Before Started

Leslie Fenton, young leading man of the stage, and Alice White, screen flapper, apparently have changed their minds.

Late Tuesday night while attending a gay party they announced to friends and the world at large that they were leaving "right now" to be married but just where the ceremony was to take place they refused to tell.

Yesterday, however, they were still single and apparently of a different mind. Whether it was Miss White, in accordance with feminine custom, who had changed her mind or whether it was Fenton or whether both simultaneously was not stated. However, the young actress was definite in her statement that she is single and Fenton could not even be reached for that much information. Miss White, by the way, added that she has no intention of marrying Fenton.

D. W. GRIFFITH AT WORK

World-Famed Director Shows Genius in "Topsy and Eva;" Jacqueline Logan Signs Long Term With De Mille; Arnold Kent With Clara Bow

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

When the Duncan sisters' "Topsy and Eva" sees the light of Grauman's Egyptian Theater, a week from tonight, it is going to be practically a D. W. Griffith production.

David Wark Griffith

This fact came to light yesterday when it became known that the world's most famous director has been working night and day with the brilliant Duncans making many additional and substitute scenes for the United Artists picture.

In spite of the pace at which the scenes are being made those who have been privileged to view the rushes declare that the picture is going to be one of the finest which Griffith has ever made, and that when the world sees the picture, the Duncans are going to be as famous on the screen as they now are on the stage.

Griffith is credited with the power of bringing to the screen the best of Rosetta Duncan's comedy and the finest of Vivian's personality and acting ability.

Jackie Logan's New Contract

As foretold in this column last week, Jacqueline Logan has signed a new long-term contract with Cecil B. De Mille.

Miss Logan's first story is not yet selected, but it is known that she will have the star role in it. Her work in the role of Mary Magdalen in De Mille's "King of Kings" has placed the actress in the front ranks of picture players.

JACQUELINE LOGAN

The actress began her picture career about six years ago, appearing in a number of Paramount and other pictures. From the first she was successful. She belongs to a theatrical family, her mother being a principal in the famous old Bostonians organization of light opera productions.

She has of late been appearing in De Mille pictures, and her excellent work under direction of De Mille in "The King of Kings," now current at Grauman's Chinese Theater, won her her new contract.

Arnold Kent's New Job

Arnold Kent's experiences with Paramount are to be still more varied than heretofore. Having played with Pola Negri, Florence Vidor and Adolphe Menjou, this young and handsome leading man has been given an important part in Clara Bow's forthcoming picture of flaming love in the torrid tropics, viz., "Rupa."

ARNOLD KENT

Kent will play Debane of Armine von Tempski's popular novel. Others announced in the cast are Clive Brook, Albert Gran, Bill Calhoun and Ariette Marchal. Victor Fleming is directing.

Arnold Kent is the young Italian actor who came to America following several years of success in Italian and German productions. His first efforts in Hollywood were rather unsuccessful, and Kent was much discouraged until he happened into an acquaintance with Adolphe Menjou. The Paramount star praised Kent's appearance and abilities so highly that B. P. Schulberg signed him for a part in "Evening Clothes." That part brought him his leading man contract.

May Allison Soon

May Allison, who has been spending her time back in New York, is coming west within the next two weeks, accompanied by her husband, James Quirk, editor of Photoplay Magazine.

MAY ALLISON

It is said that Miss Allison is already signed up to play the star role in an important production, the details concerning which will be given out when she arrives.

Miss Allison was formerly a Metro star, but of late has been freelancing.

Florence Oberle Mentioned

If ever Mel Brown makes "31 Washington Square" into a picture, and he has great hopes of doing the same, he has his eye on the very actress to play the lead.

This actress is Florence Oberle, playing the leading character role in "The Little Spitfire" at the Wilkes Vine-street Theater in Hollywood.

Miss Oberle has long been a favorite with theater-goers here, and she is not new to the screen, either, having played a number of important roles in the films.

Carmel Myers Stays Home

After all, Carmel Myers is not to journey to London with United Artists' "Sorrell and Son," but is to remain in Hollywood, where, indeed, she has several interesting picture parts in view.

It came to light yesterday that but three players are to go abroad with "Correll," these players being H. B. Warner, Nils Aster and Mickey McBann.

Which Shall It Be?

While United Artists have issued a statement saying that there is to be no missionary or preacher in "Sadie Thompson," directed by Raoul Walsh, which will be Gloria Swanson's starring vehicle, rumor leaks out that both Lionel Barrymore and Ernest Torrence have had screen tests taken for the role.

Anyway, wouldn't "Sadie Thompson" without a missionary be like "Romeo and Juliet" without any Romeo?

Anita Stewart's Serial

Exterior scenes for the ten-chapter serial, "Shark Gods," starring Anita Stewart, are being taken this week in Santa Ana Canyon, which was selected for its rocky cliffs and wooded mountains.

ANITA STEWART

The masculine heavy role in the Anita Stewart vehicle is being played by Alfred Sabato, handsome Italian actor, formerly of the King's army in Italy, who was recently signed for the part by Nat Levine, producer. Harry Webb is directing the original George Hull story.

Rna Gregory With Chadwick

Rna Gregory is about to sign a contract with Chadwick Productions, according to word just received. The pretty little actress, under the new contract, will make four pictures, starring in each.

The actress began her career by playing small parts with Universal and other organizations, after winning a beauty prize. She has steadily advanced, and is now considered one of the most promising of the younger players.

MRS. HART HERE TO GET FILM OFFER

Divorced Wife of Actor Returns from East and Plans New Screen Career

Mrs. Winifred Westover Hart, formerly wife of William S. Hart, two-gun westerner of motion pictures, and her little son, Bill, Jr., returned from New York yesterday and today are negotiating for a reappearance in pictures.

"I can't say anything about it yet," she said, "because nothing is closed. I expect that it will be closed by the end of the week. I don't know what I'll be in. That'll all depend on what they wish me to do."

Mrs. Hart left Los Angeles in March for New York. She had just obtained a divorce from her actor-husband in Reno, Nev. After returning from the divorce resort for a few weeks in Los Angeles she proceeded to New York.

She said she was not in New York to effect a picture connection, "but on other business."

When she was here last she was reported to have virtually effected a picture arrangement with V. C. Emden, but no pictures came of it. Whether Emden is figuring with her again was not disclosed by Mrs. Hart.

OFFICER'S WIFE CITES THREAT AGAINST CHILD

Accusing her policeman husband of threatening to have her youngest child, Charles, adopted into another family upon his birth because he was "unwanted," Mrs. May Bartholomai yesterday filed suit for divorce against Emil Bartholomai. The complaint filed by her attorney, Earl F. Grandall, also charges that Bartholomai frequently remained away from home for days at a time, causing his wife to become ill with worry. The couple married June 17, 1918, and separated September 16, 1926. The wife asks for custody of three children.

NURSERYMAN HURT IN ROW

Le Roy W. Gast, Sawtelle nurseryman, was struck a glancing blow on the arm yesterday in an argument with a Japanese gardener over financial matters. The gardener, who gave his name as Y. Youahitake, 1149 North Virgil street, was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Gast's condition is not serious.

'PEGGY-ANN' IS BRIGHT NOVELTY

New Show at the Music Box Expressionistic

Ultra Jazz Tunes Enliven Fantastic Plot

Production Offers Distinct Allure in Staging

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

"Peggy Ann" is about the poor little girl that dreams of being rich, but then—it is different.

This neat little musical comedy, which opened last night at the Music Box Theater in Hollywood, is distantly related to "Sally" and "Irene," but it travels a path to romance land that is quite original. It is bedecked with ultra-modern jazz and a variety of settings and costumes that is nothing short of exquisite, and is really something quite novel in the world of the footlights.

The book of the "Peggy Ann" was written by Herbert Fields, and the music—music of often amazing and quite ultra individuality—was written by Richard Rodgers, with lyrics by Lorenz Hart. There is fun and there are dances, and a rare spirit of fantasy about it that are utterly charming.

You might almost call "Peggy Ann" a futuristic musical comedy—or by that other good high-brow word, "expressionistic." That's to say that most of the plot takes place in a dream, and is very diveringly fantastic. Despite certain sophistications, I can imagine it on this account making an appeal to youngsters as well as grown-ups. There is, indeed, almost a "Peter-Panish" quality about some of the adventures that "Peggy Ann" goes through.

I trust that this show is not caviar. It may be. It has had a run in New York, however, for months, is rated one of the best successes there and is still going.

The present production is brightly embellished. There are many changes of scene for Peggy-Ann's tour in imagination lead her from Fifth avenue to Havana, and several places in between that are not strictly on the map.

All this is highly fantastical—sometimes the sheerest, most delicate whimsy, sometimes the most delightful sort of nonsense. In a way, the piece as a whole suggests something of the "Beggar on Horseback" mood, or more directly that much less known play, "The Devil in the Cheese," which relates of a young girl's imaginings, dream-like, of what her married life will be.

Peggy Ann is the little household slavey in a country boarding-house, consigned to wash dishes, set the table, and help put up preserves instead of going to parties, which privileges are reserved for her sister.

Her dream takes her to Fifth avenue—a weird Evelyn Nesbit avenue of topsy-turvy buildings, and erratic traffic signals, where all traffic knocks off while the policeman goes to lunch. The dream then leads on to a department store, where the clerks speak their minds to the customers, and where a holiday is declared so that Peggy Ann can marry her fiance.

Peggy then dreams that she owns a yacht—a honeymoon yacht, but that, precariously enough, she has not been legally married, and is consequently in disgrace. The ship is then blown up by Peggy's sister, and the next episode shows Peggy and her bridegroom, and two other survivors in a lifeboat holding colloquy with a fish. Peggy's dream continues with a visit to the races at Cuba.

Altogether a unique and very naive idea for a musical comedy.

The song numbers are lightly interpolated throughout, and all of them are lovely, and some of them exceedingly pretty. "A Tree in the Park," "What's That Rainbow, " "Maybe It's Me," "Havana" and "A Little Birdie Told Me so" are particular gems.

To elect a star offhand would be difficult. Little Marie Callahan played the title and what in reality is the starring role, but vocally her performance was somewhat disappointing. Miss Callahan, however, has a charming quality of appeal personally, that imbues the portrayal with unusual sympathy, and she has many cute tricks at her command. She is of the tiny comedienne type, reminding of Nancy Welford. Her voice lacked something of strength in the songs, particularly in the high tones last evening.

Much of the singing by the other members of the cast could also have been more vigorous, but the dancing redeemed this deficiency in great measure. Difficult and intricate steps performed to very rapid music brought several striking bursts of applause, and honors in this direction were won by Evelyn Nair especially, with George Cunningham and the ensemble leading much to the character of several numbers. One of these—"Where's the Rainbow?"—in the dancing part was a veritable sensation.

Lillianne Leighton was a hit with her comedy. Her costumes are a riot, and she has an infectious humor. Jerry Jarrett was also a winner—very clever.

Barrett Greenwood was the male principal, and the song "A tree in the Park," which he gave with Miss Callahan, was, barring the fact it was a trifle too subdued, very nicely done. Art Miner, Florence Duffy, and John Clayton Pool were others, while very much credit indeed goes to the orchestra under the direction of Cecil Stewart for their rendition of the difficult numbers. Mr. Stewart is a very skillful pianist.

The music of "Peggy Ann" is scored most interestingly, evidencing exceptional musicianship. The best numbers accumulate effects in rhythm that are nothing short of remarkable.

All in all "Peggy Ann" is a decided novelty, and it will gain quality with further performances, for the opening was a trifle slow. The staging in this instance is unusually attractive. Evidences of excellent training by George Cunningham were to be seen in the dances.

ANCIENT SEA TRAMP RELIVES GLORY DAYS

One of the most famous of the old clipper ships made her debut in pictures, after years of idleness since supplanted by the faster steam vessels, when the old Santa Clara of the vintage of 1880 was turned into a floating studio.

It was used for the "hell ship" in "Capt. Salvation," which opens a four-day run at the West Coast Boulevard Theater today. A complete sea trip was made while the picture was being filmed aboard.

The cast features Lars Hanson, Pauline Starke, Marceline Day and Ernest Torrence.

In addition, the Boulevard will present a novelty stage program featuring selected specialty acts and the Boulevard band.

Sees Men Come and Go

Arthur Clayton

In "White Cargo" at Wilkes' Vine Street Theater, stands by watching the products of an effete civilization disintegrate under the tropical sun. The drama continues this week and next.

ELINOR GLYN STORY SCREENED

Betty Bronson, dainty Paramount player, is starred this week in Elinor Glyn's latest production, "Ritzy," which opens today at the Metropolitan Theater for a run of one week. The picture opens in conjunction with the return of Ben Black, genial orchestra conductor, who is featured on the stage in "Sunshine and Rain."

"Ritzy" is described as a bright comedy of a young flapper, heiress to her father's millions, who makes the rash statement that she feels that she is destined to marry royalty. Her chance remark is broadcast over the town in which she lives and she finds herself forced to make good her boast. This she attempts to do, with many amusing consequences. James Hall is seen as Miss Bronson's leading man, his role being that of the Duke of Westborough who is traveling through this country incognito. When Betty tells him of her ambition to marry a duke, he undertakes to cure her of her passion for a title by persuading his friend, William Austin, to pose as a titled Englishman. Austin's task is to be "brutal" with the young American flapper and thus disillusion her in regard to royalty.

In addition to those named the supporting cast also includes Roscoe Karns, Joan Standing, George Nichols, and others. Richard Rosson directed The story is an original written by Mme. Glyn especially for Miss Bronson.

Wallace Starts Photoplay for First National

Having completed the assembling of his cast and staff Director Richard Wallace starts today on actual filming of "The American Beauty," which is to serve as Billie Dove's first starring vehicle.

This combination of director and star evoked spirited comment during the recent conclave of First National's salesmen, as exhibitors throughout the country have taken cognizance of Wallace's ability through his handling of Mabel Normand in "Raggedy Rose," Corinne Griffith in "Syncopating Sue" and Charlie Murray and Chester Conklin in "McFadden's Flats."

Considered one of America's most beautiful actresses, Miss Dove is expected to rise to greater heights than ever before under the direction of Wallace. His last effort, "The Poor Nut," which is to be released this fall, was recently previewed and approved by Richard A. Rowland, vice-president of First National.

Masonic Hall Program Stars Circle Dancer

Marietta, the young Parisian dancing star, who is the leading dancer in Jack Laughlin's prologue to the love story, "Seventh Heaven," at the Carthay Circle Theater, was one of the features of the Times Masonic Club program at Masonic Hall last night.

Several of the leading directors and producers of motion pictures have been on her trail, it is reported, trying to sign her up for productions to be made this summer.

Her appearance at The Times show last night was greeted with cheers and when she finished her dance number the audience gave her round upon round of applause. She declared on her part that in all of her experience she never enjoyed a more delightful evening or had a better audience.

COLLEEN MOORE AND JANE GREEN BILLED

Lon Chaney's latest success, "The Unknown," which has been breaking records at Loew's State Theater this week, will show for the last time tonight, giving way tomorrow to Colleen Moore in "Naughty But Nice" and a Fanchon and Marco "Idea," starring Jane Green, "supreme siren of syncopation."

YOUNG FOLKS MAKE PICTURE

This year the Los Angeles High School is emphasizing creative work. This morning at 9:40 o'clock the students of the school will be shown a motion-picture production entitled "Merrill of L. A.," which was written, directed, titled, photographed, acted and costumed by the students of the school.

This is probably the first time that such an attempt has been made by students of a high school.

ONLY TWO PERSONS APPEAR IN DRAMA

"The First Fifty Years," a more or less tragic tale of married life, was given its third performance last night at the Maria Ostman Theater, with Dayton Lummis and Jane Boland in the leading roles. The play will continue as the attraction at the theater for the remainder of the week.

"The First Fifty Years" is one of the very few plays written with only two players comprising the cast. These players carry the entire production through seven scenes with no other characters introduced.

The theme is simple. Bits of comedy crop up here and there—but, withal, a tragic and fatal note prevails. The play deals with the lives of a young couple—tracing them from the first anniversary to the fiftieth. At the end of the first five years they discover that they are wholly unsuited to each other—but, as the subject of divorce (at that date) was beyond consideration, the two decide to live under the same roof—but as total strangers. Even conversation is barred.

Scene 4, depicting the tenth anniversary, was especially strong and effective. Not one word was spoken throughout the entire act. In this portion particularly did the actors show marked ability as pantomime artists.

On a whole, the production was well presented and decidedly novel and interesting. Barring the lengthy waits between acts the presentation ran along smoothly.

Jane Boland, who played the role of Anne, proved an excellent young actress. Her work in both the third and fourth acts was worthy of the highest commendation.

Dayton Lummis, who portrayed the role of Martin, likewise proved himself to be a first-class trouper.

Other players who will portray the roles the remainder of the week are Birdie Ray, Carol Hannigan, W. Burwood Jones, Maris McLean and Charlotte Tough.

Actors Visit Fellow Members at Play House

The Hollywood Play House extended the entire Morosco company an invitation to see "The Little Spitfire," now in its third week, and at a recent afternoon performance the visiting players attended the comedy. Many of the players in both companies knew each other from past productions, and after the performance they held a regular get-together backstage.

Dulcie Cooper and Harland Tucker, the leading players, are winning applause for their work as the short-tempered chorus girl and the millionaire's son. From present indications, it seems that "The Little Spitfire" will equal, in Hollywood, its New York and Chicago successes.

"CASEY AT THE BAT" HAS RIALTO SHOWING

Wallace Beery in "Casey at the Bat," directed by Monte Brice, is called a hilarious comedy interwoven with touches of pathos and suggested by the poem, always remembered as De Wolf Hopper's favorite. It opens today at the Rialto.

Beery plays Casey, Centerville's leading rag man. Sterling Holloway, newly recruited from the New York revue world, the crooked village barber; Ford Sterling, a baseball scout, and ZaSu Pitts, the village milliner.

Tonight Brings Testimonial to ex-Ball Player

Southern California's celebrities will tonight pay a testimonial to Mike Donlin, former stage, screen and baseball star, who was the "Babe Ruth of the New York Giants" before his retirement. The mammoth vaudeville program at the Philharmonic, headed by John Barrymore in Hamlet's soliloquoy, will consist of the finest array of talent on the coast, it is said.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be used to defray the expense of a major operation to save the life of Donlin, who is now at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Fred Niblo, Charles Murray, George Jessel and Lew Cody will preside as masters of ceremonies, and Arthur Kay will be in charge of the music. Among those who will attend are Jackie Coogan, Reginald Denny, Buster Keaton, Monte Blue and others.

The performance will start at 8:15 p.m.

Would Repeat Clipper Film Story Success

Garnett Weston, in collaboration with Garrett Fort, has just completed an original screen story, "The Cradle Song," a drama of old San Francisco. The Weston-Fort story offers a distinctly new and novel treatment in screen writing, in that the authors have synchronized the dramatic action of their story with a musical theme. The story is motivated and strengthened by a musical score throughout the unfolding of the dramatic plot.

Weston and Fort, each an established scenarist in his own right, are planning to "team up" in the writing of a series of screen plays and magazine stories. This decision was reached upon the recognition of the merit of the screen story of "The Yankee Clipper," which they wrote in collaboration for Cecil B. De Mille. "The Yankee Clipper" is now showing at the Broadway Palace Theater.

Hitchcock is Back in City for "Geisha"

Raymond Hitchcock, stage and screen star, arrived back in town yesterday on the Santa Fe's Chief. Mr. Hitchcock, who has been touring the East, cut short a vaudeville engagement to hurry back here, as he is soon to appear in the elaborate comic opera, "The Geisha," which W. O. Stewart will produce at the Vine-street Theater.

SWEDISH CHORUS IN OLD SONGS

The National Chorus of Sweden which will appear at the Shrine Auditorium on the 14th inst., represents the Swedish perfection of male choir singing, such as is fostered in the state universities of that country.

The Stockholm Student Chorus which visited the United States just about two years ago, was criticised here and there for hot singing enough of the old songs. This "is something that Emil Carelius of the National Chorus of Sweden will embody by letting his organization place upon its program and have ready for any emergency a lot of old student songs, as well as several of the more popular Bellman songs. There will also be a great many genuine folk songs in charming arrangements. In addition the program will include American and Norwegian numbers, sung in the original languages.

SAM HARDY AND LOIS WILSON HAVE LEADS

Her picture in a department store advertisement won the attention of Robert Kane's production manager, and a part in "Broadway Nights" for June Collyer, pretty New York debutante, who makes her appearance in First National's new tale of Manhattan's Main street, starring Lois Wilson and Sam Hardy, which opens at the Uptown Theater tomorrow.

Miss Collyer gave such a finished performance that Forrest Halsey, Kane's supervising editor, and others put the girl under contract for five years.

SEX FILM MAKES THEATER SUCCESS

Vivien Winston

The success of the California Theater, which opened, after three years of darkness, with the picture, "Is Your Daughter Safe?" will be celebrated on the five hundredth showing of the film the 25th inst. This will be the beginning of the fourteenth week.

Vivien Winston, star of "Is Your Daughter Safe?" will personally give out souvenir pictures of Charles A. Lindbergh and Clarence D. Chamberlin, the pilots, to every one attending.

S. S. Millard, under whose guidance the theater has attained its present position, announces that there is no end in sight as yet to the run of "Is Your Daughter Safe?"

REINDICT TRIO IN CAMP DEATH

Grand Jury Reports to Judge Vanzante in Hanford

Fresh Charges Against Mrs. Brown, Tipton and Mills

Bail Increased for Woman, Only One at Liberty

HANFORD, June 8.—At 11:45 this afternoon the Kings county grand jury reconvened after three weeks' adjournment and delivered to Judge Vanzante fresh indictments against Mrs. Jennie Laura Brown, J. H. Tipton and Fred Wills accusing them of the death of Lee Camp two years ago.

Bench warrants were issued against them, as the first indictments were quashed by the Supreme Court, and the warrants were served a few hours later on Tipton and Mills in the County Jail here.

Bail was not allowed, except in the case of Mrs. Brown, who is in Oakland on bail at the home of her niece, Mrs. Carey. Her bail was increased from $20,000 to $21,000, an increase being demanded by law, and she will have to furnish a new bond.

It is authoritatively stated that an ambulance went from here today and will bring her back tomorrow.

There were only seventeen of the nineteen grand jurymen present when the jury reported the indictments to the court, two of the men being in the corridor of the courthouse and evidently not participating in the proceedings.

Mills and Tipton received from the County Clerk copies of the transcript of the evidence given against them before the present grand jury, which contained over 1300 typewritten pages.

Pasadena Will Dedicate Two New Churches

PASADENA, June 8.—Dedication of two new Pasadena churches has been scheduled for next Sunday.

The new Trinity Lutheran Church, located at Walnut street and Catalina avenue, will be dedicated in ceremonies under the direction of Rev. William H. Derr, pastor. In order to permit out-of-town clergymen to participate, the services will start at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Special services will extend into the following week. The building, a beautiful Gothic structure, was erected and furnished at a cost of $70,000, and is said to be one of the finest Lutheran Church buildings on the West Coast.

Dedicatory ceremonies at the Altadena Church of the Nazarene will be held Sunday morning under the direction of Rev. William Kopp, pastor, and Dr. John W. Goodwin, general superintendent of the Nazarene Church.

VAN NUYS PLANS TO HAVE Y.M.C.A. BRANCH

VAN NUYS, June 8.—A meeting is to be conducted Friday at the Van Nuys High School to further plans for the establishment of a Y.M.C.A. branch here, with headquarters probably in the downtown district. Officers will be elected and first steps taken for the employment of a paid secretary. Funds for the first time, it is reported, are available in the Los Angeles association for the extension of Y.M.C.A. work in San Fernando Valley, and a full program of work will be attempted. Y.M.C.A. organizations will be formed in all high schools in the valley. At the meeting here Friday Hollywood Y.M.C.A. officials will take part in the local organization plans. Leaders in the move here are J. P. Inglis, principal of the Van Nuys High School, E. I. Wards, E. I. Edwards, George Blake and Rev. Howard Clark.

FLIGHT SETS NEW MARK FOR AIRCRAFT

BAKERSFIELD, June 8. — At no time rising to a height of more than 200 feet, H. H. Martin, field manager at Kern County Airport, flew from Fresno to Bakersfield in fifty-five minutes Monday night in an Eaglerock biplane, unofficially shattering all flying records for aircraft in the ninety-horsepower class on the 100-mile stretch. The pilot was accompanied by Robert Callahan of Kern County Airport, and the flight was made in the dark, the plane landing at 8 p.m. The average time for commercial planes on the route is one hour and fifteen minutes, and the record compares favorably with the schedule of the air mail which is flown with 400 horsepower Ryan monoplanes having a high speed of 125 miles an hour.

INGLEWOOD TO JOIN IN FLYER'S WELCOME

INGLEWOOD, June 8.—Inglewood is planning a 100 per cent air-mail reception for Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, to greet him when he arrives in Washington not later than the 15th inst. Postmaster Fred E. Landel, who was himself an officer of the air service, while with the A.E.F. in France, is enthusiastic in furthering the plan of the Postmaster-general for a great air-mail reception for the conqueror of the air, to be delivered to him on his arrival at the nation's capital.

SCHOOL BONDS AT GLENDALE VOTED

GLENDALE, June 8. (Jf)—Glendale Union High School District, which includes Glendale, Tujunga and La Crescenta, yesterday voted $1,400,000 bonds for high-school improvements by a large majority. The vote was, 3914 yes, and 971 no. Votes of the bonds will mean completion of a new high school on East Broadway, Glendale, construction of a new $1,100,000 plant on Glenwood Road, and release of the Harvard High School for junior college purposes.

PASADENA BOARD LOSES

Ordered by State Supreme Court to Canvass Vote Cast at Last Election, Ousting All of Them

PASADENA, June 8.—Although it was believed that no effort was being made to avoid process servers, only two members of the old Board of City directors had been "officially notified" late today of the California Supreme Court's ruling that they must canvass the votes of the April 7 election and give up their seats in the City Hall to the seven directors overwhelmingly elected to take their place.

It was believed at the City Hall that the process servers would get in touch with the directors before morning and that they would meet immediately and canvass the votes.

The Supreme Court's decision upheld the validity of the municipal election by granting the writ of mandamus asked by the Modern Government League of Pasadena which sponsored the candidacies of the newly-elected board members. The opinion, a fifteen-page manuscript, assailed the old board for "refusing unjustly to canvass the votes." The defendants in the action were Directors Frank B. Cole, William Easterbrook, A. N. Cole, Carl Newcomer, Frederick J. Loomis, Hiram Wadsworth and Franklin Thomas.

The newly elected directors are Maj. N. J. Shupe, James T. Jenkins, Carl G. Wopschall, Dr. Paul W. Merrill, Irving S. Monroe, Prof. Robert Daugherty and Clayton R. Taylor.

Selection of a City Manager and the appointment of a City Attorney will be among the first tasks faced by the new board. An amendment to the City Charter provides that the term of office of the City Manager shall be terminated when the old board goes out of office. Consequently the new board may appoint City Manager R. V. Orbison to succeed himself, may give him a temporary appointment or select another to take over the powers which were increased under the charter amendment.

Frederick G. Stoehr, former deputy city attorney, has been acting city attorney since Roscoe R. Hess was discharged. It is expected that a new head of the legal department will be named.

Indian Star to Lead Play Cast at Lake Tahoe

LAKE TAHOE, June 8.—Tahoe Tavern is to introduce the public to its outdoor theater at Lake Tahoe on the 20th inst., when, as part of the program for Indian ceremonial day, three plays will be presented under the direction of Marion Craig Wentworth, famous author of "War Brides" and other successful dramas.

On the edge of the lake near the tavern, where the ground slopes in a broad sweep to the water's rim, Tahoe Tamarack Theater will occupy an ideal location. Here a company of professional actors, with an Indian in the leading roles of the three plays, will appear in "His Voice Is a Whisper," by Hartley Alexander; "Carved Woman" and "The Weeper," all dramas of wide appeal and unusual theme. Beautiful costumes that are examples of the highest artistic achievement of the Indians will be worn in the plays. The lake, above which rise the distant Sierras, will be an effective back-drop. Broad avenues of trees and cedar logs to the natural amphitheater, which will accommodate a large audience.

Legionnaire of Santa Ana Has Signed for Life

SANTA ANA, June 8.—Surprising their friends, Jack Fisher, many times decorated for valor in the World War, and one of the best-known ex-service men in the State, and Miss Frances Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Baker, were married today by Rev. W. E. Edgin, pastor of the Richland-avenue Methodist Church.

They left immediately on a short wedding trip. Mr. Fisher is active in the American Legion, the Forty and Eight and the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana. He is senior vice-commander of the Orange county post of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

During the war he was decorated twelve times by the American and Allied governments. His Croix de Guerre bears nine palms.

Mrs. Fisher graduated from the local schools and finished her education at the University of California at Los Angeles and at the Cumnock School of Expression.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS TO OPEN NEW LODGE

LANKERSHIM, June 8.—A move has been started to organize a lodge of Royal Arch Masons in Lankershim. The sanction of the Grand Chapter has been obtained and the chapters at Hollywood and at Van Nuys have given approval. About 100 Masons in this vicinity have signified their intention of becoming charter members of the new lodge. A meeting of all Royal Arch Masons of the district has been called for Friday evening at Masonic Hall, at which time further plans will be evolved. Benjamin C. Lambie, Past Master of the local Blue Lodge, and a number of other prominent Masons are leaders in the present plans.

PASTOR AT ZELZAH TAKES NEW CHARGE

ZELZAH, June 8.—Rev. John A. Bjerke, pastor of the Zelzah Evangelical Lutheran Church, has resigned his charge here and soon will leave for Vancouver, where he has been appointed pastor of another church in that vicinity. While here Mr. Bjerke virtually established the local church, organizing the membership and placing the congregation on a firm footing. One of the last acts of his pastorate was his dedication of the Lutheran section in Oakwood Cemetery at Chatsworth. The impressive ceremony took place last Sunday, members of the congrega-

DAMAGES DENIED IN EXETER SPRAY SUIT

EXETER, June 8.—Judge J. A. Allen of the Superior Court of Tulare county, today denied damages for over $17,000 asked by J. W. Pogue, prominent orange grower of this district, against Harry B. White, agent for the California Spray Company. The claim was filed, as a counter-complaint after White, as agent for the spray company, had filed suit against Pogue for $587.92 for a spray sold to him. The judge ruled that the chemical company, manufacturers of Volk, a spray, were not responsible for the loss of citrus fruit. It is thought that the decision will have far-reaching effect among growers.

Board Proposes to Systematize Course of Study

SANTA MONICA, June 8.—Dr. M. J. Stormzand, head of the educational department of Occidental College, has been appointed director of curriculum work in the Santa Monica public schools for the coming year, according to an announcement today by the board of education. Frederick F. Martin, superintendent of schools, in introducing the recommendation that $1500 be appropriated for curriculum work, stated that the board was seeking "a solution to a problem which is faced by every school system of any size in California."

Other cities in the State are spending thousands of dollars in systematizing courses of study, it was brought out. In Santa Monica it is proposed to carry three subjects through the elementary, junior high and senior high schools for the first year. In guiding this plan, Dr. Stormzand is to be assisted by school supervisors and directors. Three or four years will be required to carry all the subjects in the full curriculum through to completion.

The board also announced the names of teachers to be employed for the coming year. The problem of segregating "gifted" children, so they will not be held back needlessly by less rapid learners, was taken up before the board by John G. McNeely, principal of the John Adams Junior High School.

PASADENA TO MEET DISASTER EMERGENCY

PASADENA, June 8.—Central authority in a co-ordination committee which would function in event of a major disaster in Pasadena was placed on the shoulders of the City Directors, officials of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, and the City Manager today when Director Frederick J. Loomis appointed forty-seven persons to assume special duties and start first-aid and construction activities should the city be visited by an earthquake or storm. The work is divided into two divisions, one the city division, for the protection of lives and property and the preservation of order, and the other division, under the direction of the Red Cross, will have charge of public relief and rehabilitation.

SIDEWALK SHEIKS GIVEN JAIL TERMS

POMONA, June 8.—Continuing his war on curbstone mashers and sidewalk sheiks, Police Judge Bowen today remanded Merle Laverne Chick, 16, of Narod, to juvenile authorities on a charge of assault, following his arrest yesterday by police for attempting to force his attentions upon a group of girls after having been repulsed. According to Capt. Kirby and Judge Bowen, the police department has been watching for two weeks the activities of a group of local youths who drive through the streets endeavoring to pick up girls. Judge Bowen today reiterated former statements that he would send all mashers to jail, and his threat was amply borne out in Chick's case.

MRS. BLYMIRE ON TRIAL

Five Women and Seven Men to Decide Fate of Wife Accused of Murdering Her Husband

SAN DIEGO, June 8. (Jf)—Trial of Mrs. Hilda Blymire, charged with the murder of her husband, Clarence M. Blymire, chief petty officer of the navy, as the result of a quarrel several months ago, was started in Superior Court this afternoon before a jury of five women and seven men.

The case had hardly started, however, when ground that it was not a spontaneous statement just after the shooting, but that some minutes had elapsed and that Day had had an opportunity to consider the matter. The jury was excused for an hour and a half while the arguments were made. The court at last decided for the defense, ruling out Day's statement of Blymire's words.

Six witnesses, including Day, Mrs. Day, three surgeons and a policeman, were heard today before adjournment until tomorrow.

CALEXICO OUSTS ALL OF COUNCIL

Five Members of Board Lose in Recall Election

Prominent Business Men Named to Succeed Them

Balloting Enlivened by Fight as Booths Opened

CALEXICO, June 8.—In an election contest that opened yesterday morning with a street fight between a City Trustee and a former City Attorney all five members of Calexico's City Council were recalled and prominent business men elected to succeed them.

Ed Agnew, police commissioner, was removed by a vote of 468 to 186. Paul P. Anderson, hardware merchant, was elected as his successor in a field of three candidates.

Edward G. Burdick, water commissioner, was recalled by a vote of 395 to 256, and Oscar L. Petersen, contractor, elected to take his place.

Edward Dool, finance commissioner, lost by a vote of 434 to 236, and Marvens Bates, implement dealer, was elected to the office.

John C. Graham, health commissioner, was removed by a vote of 423 to 217, and William C. Jones, lumber dealer, named as his successor.

T. J. West, Mayor and street commissioner, was defeated, 425 to 222, and August J. Mercier, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, elected to fill the vacancy.

A total vote of 663 represented over 76 per cent of the voting strength cast.

Except for an attack made on former City Attorney Powers by Trustee John Graham early in the day, no serious trouble developed. Graham struck Powers three times as the latter was standing on the street talking with friends and accused the attorney of talking too much. No arrests were made in connection with the trouble.

Noted Actor to be Director at Cherry Festival

BEAUMONT, June 8.—Invitation extended to Sam Hardy, well-known stage and screen celebrity, to act as master of ceremonies at the opening of the Beaumont Cherry Festival Saturday evening has been accepted. Hardy yesterday gave cherry officials assurance that he would not only attend and direct the gala program but take a hand in the coronation of Beaumont's "Cherry Queen" during the progress of the big ball, which will formally raise the curtain on the cherry-picking season Saturday.

Besides placing the crown on the lucky Beaumont girl, Hardy also is empowered to offer the fortunate contestant a thirty-day film contract and also a trophy awarded by the cherry festival committee.

Big strides have been made in the last three days by Agnes Sutton, who has led the ten contestants for queen for several days. She has a grand total of 83,801 votes; Sue de Peel is second with 36,600 votes. Evelyn Dunlap has 33,000 votes, Harriet Morse, 19,350; Dorothy Capps, 13,000; Dorothy Schilling, 12,700; Leola Salisbury, 10,600; Jean Hill, 10,550; Helen Hill, 10,400, and Marie Wolfskill, 10,200.

VENTURA PLANS FOR NEW CONCERT BOWL

VENTURA, June 8.—Ventura may have a new concert bowl at Foster Park, if the proposal submitted to the Board of Supervisors by Mrs. Bert Brown is accepted. Mrs. Brown appeared before the meeting with pencil sketches of a band stand to be located in a secluded spot in the park. Although no complete plans have been made, nor definite specifications drawn up, the proposal was for a stand that would cost about $2500 and for seats to accommodate 1500 people on the hillside. "The spot we have chosen would be an excellent one for any community groups, either churches, lodges or otherwise, that might wish to present programs in the open air," said Mrs. Brown. "It is convenient and yet is enough to itself that the affair being given in the bowl would not disturb other picnickers using the park." The matter was referred to the park committee for more detailed plans.

CHURCH DEACON OF LINDSAY SENTENCED

LINDSAY, June 8.—His plea for probation denied, Sidney Baker, formerly deacon in a local church, was sentenced by Judge J. A. Allen in Department No. One, Superior Court of Tulare county, to serve a term in San Quentin prison. The sentence is the result of a charge of assault upon an 11-year-old Lindsay girl, to which Baker entered a plea of guilty; the arrest of the offender was made by Officer Harry Purcell of Lindsay on May 26, and punishment for the guilty man has been meted out in record time. The charges were brought by the mother of the little girl involved, after the girl had revealed a series of intimacies covering a period of several months.

FIRST LANKERSHIM PEACHES ARE RIPE

LANKERSHIM, June 8.—The first of the new crop of Lankershim peaches are ripe and are on the market. In former years Lankershim was known as the home of the peach and there was great rivalry among growers regarding who would be the first to get their fruits to market. In recent years Lankershim has lost much of its prestige as a peach-growing section, most of the old orchards having been cut up for business and residential sites. This year Ward Wilson is the first to get his fruit on sale. He resides east of the townsite. Others soon will be bringing their peaches to market. All of them, however, will be nothing compared to the great crop that was grown here five or six years ago.

FONTANA HAS BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Thriving Little Community Fourteen Years of Age

Queen and Her Ladies in Waiting

FONTANA, June 8.—It is estimated that between 7000 and 10,000 persons attended the various entertainment programs in connection with the Fontana Day celebration here which started promptly at 1 p.m. today with the crowning of Georgina Leslie as queen, on the lawn of the local grammar school grounds. The occasion was the fourteenth birthday of this community, and streets, homes and places of business were gayly decorated.

A feature of the coronation was a pageant by school children and at which Uncle Remus of radio station KHJ played an important role as master of ceremonies. Spring, sunshine, tango, Spanish and other dances by children attractively garbed made up the program.

From her court on the school lawn, the queen and her attendants, Aloha Mabie and Martha Atkinson, were ushered to the ball park near by where they saw the Fontana nine defeat the Sherman Institute Indians of Riverside, 7 to 6, in a last-inning rally. The queen joined the huge crowd after the ball game and feasted on barbecue sandwiches served by members of the Community Church. A parade followed at 6 p.m., with floats, bands and clowns of every description featuring. The queen, her ladies in waiting and flower girls rode in a float drawn by six horses in tandem.

The Woman's clubhouse was taxed to capacity for the cabaret that followed. Fireworks and a grand ball in the clubhouse completed the day's program.

Glendale Plans for Plane in Ocean Flight

GLENDALE, June 8.—The entry of a Glendale contestant in the proposed airplane race from the Pacific Coast to the Hawaiian Islands is forecast in the proposal made by Capt. R. M. Spencer of Glendale, an officer in the Air Reserve force, to fly a plane to Honolulu if the finances can be provided for the purchase and equipment of the plane.

Spencer's proposition was presented to the Verdugo Breakfast Club at its meeting today by Vincent Salmacia, Glendale merchant, with whom Spencer is associated in business. The sum of approximately $5000 would be required for the purchase of the plane, the erection of a hangar and other necessary expenses incident to the preparations for the trip, and the Verdugo Breakfast Club members have been asked to sponsor the entry of a Glendale plane and to assist in raising the necessary funds.

The matter has been taken under consideration by the board of directors. Spencer acted as instructor in the army during the World War and has since designed a number of planes that have been used in this country and in China.

TOWN PATRIARCH DIES

Popcorn Vender, Familiar Figure at Van Nuys, Goes to Reward

VAN NUYS, June 8.—James Barnette, 85 years of age, Van Nuys' patriarch popcorn-stand man, and known to everyone in this section, is dead. His funeral services took place this morning in Hollywood Cemetery. Barnette was once a well-known physician and at one time was a wealthy landowner in Mexico. When adversities beset him in his old age he came to Van Nuys and opened a small candy and popcorn stand and for years has been a familiar figure on one of the prominent downtown street corners.

One of his pride possessions was an old overcoat which he always wore. The garment was more than fifty years of age, having been given to him shortly after the Civil War. In his younger days Barnette was a practicing physician in Minnesota, among his close friends being the Mayo brothers, the famous surgeons.

At one time Barnette owned a large amount of land in Mexico. During an insurrection he and other Americans were rescued by United States marines at Tampico and he lost his holdings. Up to the time of his death his claims against the Mexican government were not settled.

FIRES AT MONROVIA

MONROVIA, June 8.—Damage estimated at between $200 and $400 was sustained by Mrs. Harriet Pollard, 150 North Magnolia avenue, when fire, presumably starting in a box of papers, practically destroyed the kitchen of her home at 11:45 o'clock this morning. Prompt action by the fire department prevented the flames from spreading. The flames created a large volume of smoke. An acre of brush in the Santa Anita was burned off this morning, when workmen, clearing off a lot at 818 Bonita street, lost control of the blaze.

KERN COUNTY JUSTICE SWIFT

Man Tried, Convicted and Sentenced for Causing Death of Baby, Then Tossing Body Under Culvert as He and Child's Mother Fled

BAKERSFIELD, June 8.—For having smothered a baby to death, Charles Woodward was tried, convicted and sentenced to an indeterminate sentence of from one to ten years at San Quentin penitentiary, all in the space of less than five hours.

It is believed that Judge Lambert, who presided during the one-day trial of Woodward, has set a new record for expedition in trying a high felony. Woodward was charged with manslaughter.

The State alleged, and proved to the satisfaction of a jury, that Woodward and Mary Roberts, his alleged paramour, were living together on an Arvin ranch, where they were employed last January as cotton pickers. Mary Roberts had a small baby, 18 months of age, which she called John Sidney Clark. To stop this baby from crying one night, Woodward placed his hand over the baby's mouth. The baby lost consciousness and the efforts of the couple to revive it failed.

Woodward and Mary Roberts fled in the night, not waiting to collect their wages due them as cotton pickers. In passing a culvert on the road near the Vineland school Woodward tossed the baby's body under a culvert.

A Japanese laborer found the body months later. Vance Brite, a deputy sheriff, after a long search found Woodward and Mary Roberts in Imperial Valley and brought them back to Bakersfield.

Santa Monican Arrested for Boulevard Stop

SANTA MONICA, June 8.—"And so he got arrested for stopping at the boulevard stop," was the conclusion of a bedtime story related last night at the Santa Monica police station. Because most boulevard stop arrests are caused by failure to stop, the case of W. Hamer, Santa Monica motorist who was the central figure in the unusual situation, is interesting.

Police Officer George Chown of Santa Monica, was on the alert at Pico Boulevard and Twentieth street, Santa Monica, for drivers who ignored or even slighted, a conspicuous boulevard stop sign at the intersection. Then Hamer came along and, according to Officer Chown, made an absolutely perfect stop, so far as stops were concerned. The trouble was that after stopping, Chown relates, Hamer left his car and walked with that peculiar stride, commonly known as a stagger, up to the boulevard stop sign. He scrutinized the signal up and down, slantwise and crosswise, and, Chown avers, seemed even to be counting it.

Chown investigated. He found two full bottles and one almost empty.

POMONA UNLUCKY FOR TRANSPORTERS

POMONA, June 8.—Appearing before Police Judge E. H. Bowen in special session of the local Police Court this morning, Herman Kaplan, 24, was arrested yesterday with twenty-five gallons of assorted alcohol in his truck, supposedly used for delivering salad dressing, and was fined $400 each on two counts, one of transportation and the other for possession, for a total fine of $800. He was given the alternative of spending 800 days in jail. He is in jail attempting to get into communication with friends in San Bernardino to raise the necessary money to buy his freedom.

Kaplan's downfall came when two police department detectives noticed a strong scent of alcohol wafting from Kaplan's mayonnaise truck as he passed them on East Second street.

Upon search of his car five five-gallon cans of grain alcohol were discovered. James Strouse, a local San Bernardino, Kaplan's helper, is being held pending further investigation as to his activities.

Men at Ventura Organizing for Rabbit Industry

VENTURA, June 8.—Ventura county is to be a world center for the raising of English Angora rabbits if the plans of G. C. Bovee, manager for the proposed new plant here, materialize. The proposal is to locate the plant between Montalvo and the Santa Clara River, bordering on both the State highway and the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks. The company, which is being organized, plans to raise the rabbits here and to erect a spinning mill, clearing and shipping center, packing-house, meat cannery for both rabbits and chickens, slaughter house and a fertilizer plant and demonstration farm.

The association officers are G. C. Bovee, manager; F. G. Cooper of Santa Paula, assistant manager; W. Ray Beene of this city, manager and director of the real estate units. Incorporation will be applied for by the company as soon as the actual construction is under way.

FLOOD RELIEF QUOTA DOUBLED AT OXNARD

OXNARD, June 8.—Oxnard district has doubled its quota and then some in the matter of aiding sufferers of the South as a result of the flood. Through a benefit show given last night under the auspices of the Oxnard Chamber of Commerce nearly $400 was raised toward the fund. Everything for the two performances was given free, and the cash will be forwarded by the Chamber of Commerce to the Red Cross representative here, R. B. Haydock. It has been suggested that the money be spent on lima beans, as Oxnard has already sent one carload of beans to the stricken South. The amount raised last night will not pay for a carload, but with the assistance of several local growers the required amount could be sent. There will be no freight charges. A decision on this is expected tomorrow.

NURSE SENTENCED

VISALIA, June 8.—Mrs. Belle Rocker, 38 years of age, nurse of the Lindsay district, was today sentenced to San Quentin by Judge J. A. Allen as the result of a charge of grand larceny. Mrs. Rocker was charged with stealing a quantity of clothing valued at over $300 from a Lindsay home, where she was acting as nurse.

CRASH SPOILS CAR SALE

Four Hurt When Woman Loses Control of Automobile as Salesman About to Close Deal

ALHAMBRA, June 8.—As an automobile salesman was about to close a sale today the prospective purchaser, a woman, who was driving the car, lost control of the machine. The car hurtled over the curbing, crashed into a cement pillar and four persons were hurt. The expensive car was wrecked and the sale was postponed indefinitely.

The salesman, R. C. Kane, 320 North Gate street, Los Angeles, was demonstrating the machine to Mrs. R. N. Upton, 226 North Thomas street, Los Angeles. Mrs. Upton was at the wheel, Mr. Kane at her side pointing out the fine points of the car. In the rear seats were Mrs. Kane and Dwight Lesley of Los Angeles. At the corner of Wilson avenue and Pine street Mrs. Upton became confused when a car driven by John J. McBride of Altadena approached. Intending to put her foot on the brake, she stepped on the accelerator. The car bounded into the yard of Judge F. W. Houser, into a concrete pillar, and crumpled up.

Both Mrs. Upton and the salesman were thrown through the windshield, receiving severe cuts and lacerations on the face and head. Mrs. Kane and Lesley, the former tumbling out of a window, were bruised and cut. Mrs. Upton was taken to a Christian Science practitioner for treatment and the others were brought to the Alhambra Hospital.

WIFE SAYS SHE NEEDS $150 WEEKLY

Separate Maintenance for Mrs. Malotte Contingent on Husband's Income

Mary Jayne Malotte's suit against her husband, Albert Hay Malotte, for separate maintenance remained undecided yesterday while Superior Judge Bowron endeavored to determine whether the theater organist's income amounted to $2000 a month and if his wife is entitled to allimony of $150 weekly.

Malotte contended at his appearance that he recently had opened a studio and that his expense equaled his income. Mrs. Malotte asserted that his income amounted to $2000 a month and that she needed at least $150 a week to live as was her custom.

Mrs. Malotte accuses her husband of calling her a "bum" and a "blockhead" and ridiculing her efforts as an actress. She further charges that while they were living in Chicago recently her husband suggested that she give him grounds for divorce and when she refused he threatened to leap from the ninth floor of the hotel.

According to the complaint filed by Clyde F. Murphy, her attorney, the couple were married in New York February 27, 1924, and separated November 15, 1925.

LOCAL STUDENT GOING TO RUSSIA

Senior of U.C.L.A. Among Group to Study Country

Tour of Seventy-five Also Will Include China

Capitals of Old World to be Visited by Youths

Among a group of seventy-five American college students who will leave New York on the 29th inst. for a tour of the soviet republics is Clarence Alpert of 2815 Blanchard street, a senior at the University of California at Los Angeles, a member of the university debating team, the philosophical union, and an assistant in the department of education. He will represent either the Liberal or Cosmopolitan Club on the delegation.

CLARENCE ALPERT

The purpose of the tour, as explained by Alpert, is to conduct an impartial investigation of Russian and Chinese affairs, since it is believed much partisan prejudice exists in America which may be overcome only by obtaining first-hand knowledge of conditions as they actually exist. The attitude of the students and their sponsoring organization, the National Student Conference, is that what is taking place in both China and Russia is of profound social significance and such contacts will help to bring about better international feeling.

Alpert will leave Los Angeles the 11th inst. for New York, where he will join the others of the group. The party will sail on the Berengaria for Southampton. The itinerary includes two weeks in Paris and Berlin, thence to Warsaw, Poland; Moscow, Leningrad and Vladivostok. China will next be visited and the students expect to spend several weeks in Shanghai, Peking and Canton.

Alpert will remain in China for two months after the others will have left and expects to return via the Pacific by way of Seattle. On his return he expects to disseminate the information as widely as possible among the universities and colleges of the Pacific Coast.

WAR HERO TO GET CITY JOB AGAIN

Engineer Shaw Declares Van Iersel to Receive Former Position Back

In a letter to Dr. A. D. Houghton of the State committee, hospital department, American Legion, City Engineer Shaw yesterday declared that Louis Van Iersel, who received more decorations than any other American serving his country during the World War, will get back his former job with the city. Dr. Houghton recently made a personal appeal to Shaw on behalf of Iersel.

Shaw's letter stated that within two weeks the Civil Service lists will be cleared, and thereafter it will be possible to make an emergency appointment for Iersel. In conclusion, the City Engineer said:

"When young men like Col. Lindberg and Chamberlin are writing new chapters of American history we are liable to forget the defenders of the country who made it possible to accomplish these things. I wish to assure you of my personal interest in this man, and I will leave no stone unturned until he has been reinstated in his former position."

Diet Authority Talks on Value of Citrus Fruits

Dr. W. D. Sansum, director of the Potter Metabolic Clinic at Santa Barbara and an authority on diet, yesterday paid his respects to the orange, lemon and grapefruit as health builders and weight reducers, in an address before the board of directors of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Though the medical profession has been perfectly familiar with the beneficial results on the body of acid fruits such as lemons, oranges and grapefruit, the average layman is still ignorant of their good qualities, he said. These fruits maintain a favorable balance in the body by giving it the required alkaline reaction which it needs. Too much cannot be said about the value of fruits in the diet, he said, for in addition to their alkalinizing effect they have a high food value and contain an abundance of minerals and vitamins.

More than 170 men delegates and officers, from every State in the Union, and 115 women delegates and officers will attend the meetings. The Pacific Woodmen Life Association is reputed to be one of the richest fraternal organizations in the world and has $130,000,000 cash assets.

R.O.T.C. UNITS IN MEETS

Maneuvers and Competitive Drills Staged by Franklin and Manual Arts High School

With vacation and military training camps drawing near, field day maneuvers and competitive drills were held by the Franklin and Manual Arts High School R.O.T.C. units yesterday.

Manual Arts gave an ambitious program of field-day activities, concluding their program with a sham battle on Wilson Field that brought cheers from a good-sized audience. Company A, commanded by Capt. Tom Packman, was awarded the Blunt trophy for the best company drilling. Company B's squad won the trophy for the best squad drilling. Donald Nesbit of the band won the individual drill-down.

TOUCH OF REALISM

The team representing Company A won the tent-pitching contest. The attack problem involved an assault on a machine-gun emplacement. The boys used blank cartridges in their rifles and a touch of realism was added by stretcher bearers being called to care for the "wounded," except that several titters came from the grandstand when some of the casualties proved to be inconsiderably heavy for the ambulance boys. Capt. M. R. Wilson is in charge of the military training at the school.

At Franklin High School the annual review and drill competitions opened early in the morning under the direction of Warrant Officer W. M. Wells. A trio of veteran Regular Army sergeants acted as judges and made the awards. Company B, under Capt. Carl Wiedow, won the silver cup for best company drilling. The first platoon of "C" company was awarded the pennant for best drilling by platoons.

MEDAL FOR DRILL-DOWN

In the individual drill-down, Sergt. R. Lewis was awarded the gold medal, Private F. Johnson, the silver medal, and Private John Enfield, the bronze medal.

The musical organizations of Franklin High School will present a program of the best work of each club during the school year at the Hillside Theater of Occidental College tonight. This is being done in lieu of presenting the annual opera. The musical organizations of the school have enjoyed an unusually successful year, the glee clubs, band and orchestra having taken all of the first honors in the Glendale district Eisteddfod and captured three out of four first places in the Southern California finals.

MASONIC CLUB IN GAY FETE

Featured by a continuous round of top-notch vaudeville acts, the regular monthly program of The Times Masonic Club last night at the Los Angeles Masonic Club Building, 619 South Grand avenue, proved to be one of the outstanding gatherings of the club this year. Approximately 300 members and friends were present.

Seated between Sim Crabill, potentate of Al Malaikah Temple, and Mark S. Bentley, president of the club, Leo Altman, manager of the Midwinter advertising department of The Times and chairman of the evening, proceeded to introduce one of the most distinguished group of entertainers that has graced the club's stage.

Sally Rand, 1927 Wampas Baby star, appearing unannounced, opened the entertainment with a series of song and dance numbers, accompanied by Ray Mayer at the piano.

Frederick Bowers and his 1927 De Luxe Revue, comprising Etna Esmeralda, Cole Brothers, Wiel Sisters and Ivan Lenoff, now appearing at Fantages Theater, and Vincent Lopez and his orchestra, an Orpheum act, also received extended applause. Music was also provided by Ben Laistsky's orchestra.

Other features of the program included Max Montor, German tragedian, recently signed to portray an important role in the Al Jolson production, "The Jazz Singer," by Warner Brothers; Joseph Diskay, Hungarian tenor; Blanca Flor, featured member of the Garcia Spanish Troubadours, who has danced over two continents; the Usher Brothers of Venice, in their mind-reading act, "Fifty Years from Now;" Doris Walker and Tommy Atkins sextet of Panchon and Marco; Steve Juharos, of the Orpheum, and Marietta, Carthay Circle Theater star.

The program followed a dinner. William "Ham" Cline, as master of ceremonies, announced the bill. All the acts were donated, Chairman Altman said.

FITZGERALD PORT LEASE CANCELED

Harbor Commissioners in Move to Accept Compress Offer of Cotton Exchange

Paving the way for the possible acceptance of the offer of the Cotton Exchange to take over and operate the cotton compress business at Los Angeles Harbor in conjunction with the installation of enough additional equipment to meet all demands, the Harbor Commission yesterday declared the lease of Gerald Fitzgerald of the Union Terminal Warehouse Company forfeited.

It having been stated that Fitzgerald is willing to arbitrate the question of damages arising from this action, General Harbor Manager Cole was appointed arbitrator for the commission. He, with an arbiter to be selected by Fitzgerald, will select a third member of the arbitration commission. It also will hear the claim of Harbor Department Controller Edwards that under his interpretation of the lease held by Fitzgerald there is due the Harbor Commission $62,000 in unpaid moneys.

The Cotton Exchange recently informed the commission that unless additional facilities are installed to meet density requirements the port would lose shipments of 120,000 bales annually. After discussing the situation thoroughly, the exchange offered to install the equipment at a cost in excess of $100,000 if a lease on present machinery and sheds could be consummated.

Bail Increased for Tom Pyler in Attack Case

Bail was increased from $1500 to $2500 yesterday when Judge Ballard held Tom Pyler, said to be a wealthy apartment-house owner, to answer a charge of assault by means likely to produce great bodily harm. The asserted victim of the attack was Miss Vera L. Norton, a woman attorney and daughter of former Supervisor Richard Norton.

Miss Norton was assaulted, it was declared, in the General Hospital, the 2nd inst., when she and Pyler engaged in an argument at the bedside of Pyler's former wife, Mrs. Elva Horan, who is seriously ill with heart disease. Pyler was angry, the prosecution contended, because Miss Norton had him jailed for failure to keep up his alimony, but the quarrel is said to have started over the custody of a child which the court had awarded to the mother. Witnesses testified Pyler was accompanied by another woman when he called at the hospital.

In their address to the court, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Heinicke and Fricke declared Pyler was guilty of an insult to manhood by his conduct. Pyler furnished the additional bond required.

AUSTRALIAN HAILS GREAT PACIFIC ERA

Melbourne Publisher at City Club Luncheon Says Western World Will Rule

"The United States and Australia should assume leadership in Pacific development, soon to control world affairs, the opportunity and responsibility are theirs and should be accepted and fulfilled," R. E. Boardman, prominent Melbourne citizen, told an assembly at the City Club luncheon yesterday.

"The new world of the Pacific is opening up," Mr. Boardman said, "and the time is here when the best thought of the United States and Australia is needed. Big things are stirring in Asia.

"There is in Australia a country larger than the United States and in which a great, clean and splendid people is rising in this generation. You and we are forever linked by kinship. We must work together to direct the development that now is beginning to unfold.

"The old world of the Atlantic is deadlocked with its problems and the new world of the Pacific is just opening up. Let us assume the leadership of it. In the next fifteen or twenty years the Pacific will occupy the center of attention of the entire world."

Mr. Boardman spoke under joint auspices of the club and Council of International relations. A number of Chamber of Commerce officials attended the luncheon.

JUMPS INTO FLY WHEEL TO DIE

Despondency Over Crippled Condition Believed Back of Man's Act

Despondent because of a partially crippled condition that kept him from doing his regular work M. L. Chavez, 1430 North San Pablo street, employee of the Los Angeles Paper Manufacturing Company, ended his life yesterday afternoon by jumping into the flywheel of a gasoline engine at the paper plant.

According to Officers Weaver and Hughes of the Hollenbeck Heights Police Division, Chavez had lost an arm in an accident last year and since then had been unable to work outside of doing odd jobs around the plant.

VETERAN OF CUBAN WAR SUES MATE

Fighter Who Faced Enemy Bullets Routed by Wife's "Charge," He Declares

Joseph D. Smith shouldered his rifle and faced the withering fire of the enemy during the Spanish-American War, but he was unable to withstand the "charge" of his wife and "in-laws" when they forcibly evicted him and placed him in the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle against his will, according to a suit for divorce filed by the veteran yesterday.

For two years after their marriage, Smith admits, everything in their household was peaceful. But on their second wedding anniversary, he charges, he was ill and his wife told him to take his belongings and go to the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle. "If you don't get out I will call my son and daughter and have them throw you out," Smith asserts his wife told him.

The threat was carried out, according to the complaint, which says that Mrs. Sarah A. Smith called her daughter, Mattie B. Bennett, and another woman, who took him to Sawpelle and dumped him out on the reservation against his will.

Smith is represented by William G. Bryce.

Reconciliation Reply Refused by Viola Dana

Refusing to discuss the possibility of a reconciliation between herself and her estranged husband, Viola Dana, film actress, yesterday told inquirers to "use their own judgment and find their own answer."

Miss Dana flatly refused to indulge in an "ask-me-another" contest. Or at least she gave the same answer—"I have nothing to say"—to every question.

The circumstances that led to the attempted interrogation of Miss Dana included the sickness of her husband, "Lefty" Flynn, who is confined in the Osteopathic Hospital and the frequent visits of Miss Dana to his bedside.

Hospital attendants followed Miss Dana's lead in refusing to discuss the details of the visits.

Miss Dana and Flynn separated several weeks ago. Flynn is said to have spent several weeks on a hunting trip in Mexico. When he returned a few days ago, it is said, he went to the hospital. According to his physician, Dr. H. R. K. Willis, he is taking a badly needed rest. He is not suffering from any particular illness, the doctor stated.

FILM FOLK IN TRIBUTE TO M'KIM

Screen Player's Funeral Draws Large Concourse of Friends in Profession

Representatives from every position and place of the film colony assembled at the Leroy Bagley chapel yesterday afternoon to pay final tribute to Robert McKim, 40 years of age, veteran actor of the American screen, who died last week after two strokes of paralysis.

Impressive services were conducted for the deceased actor by the First Christian Science Church of Beverly Hills amid a resplendent setting of floral offerings. The chapel was filled nearly an hour before the services were opened by Rev. J. Barrett Cohen, leader of the church.

Active pallbearers were Hallam Cooley, Fred Niblo, Charles Reisner, Robert McKenzie, Fred Burns and Mathew Betz, intimate friends and associates of the actor. Cremation at the Hollywood Crematory followed.

Communications of condolence continued to pour into the home of the widow, formerly Dorcas Matthews, stage actress, from all sections of the United States. Besides his widow, Mr. McKim leaves two sons, 7 and 6 years of age, three brothers and a sister.

DEATH ENDS HER SECOND HONEYMOON

Wife Killed and Husband Injured While Motoring Near Newhall Tunnel

Death ended the second honeymoon of an elderly couple yesterday through an automobile accident near Newhall in which Mrs. Jennie Kerner, 70 years of age, was killed, and her husband, John Kerner, 74, painfully injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerner, owners of a ranch near Garden Grove, had been married more than thirty-five years. They were en route to Yosemite Valley on a trip to celebrate their long years of happiness when the fatal crash occurred. Accompanying them in another automobile was Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Chillott of 820 South Los Angeles street, Anaheim.

The accident, according to deputy sheriffs at Newhall, occurred just north of the Newhall Tunnel. Mr. Kerner apparently was driving fast on the down grade, when he lost control, causing the car to crash into a telegraph pole.

Mrs. Kerner was dead when physicians from Newhall arrived. An examination of her husband disclosed painful cuts about the face and shoulders and possible internal injuries. He is expected to recover. The body of Mrs. Kerner was taken to the Nobel undertaking parlors in San Fernando.

Doctor Sued by Hollywood Wife for Annulment

Annulment of her marriage to Dr. George Whitaker, Hollywood physician, is sought in a complaint filed in Superior Court yesterday by Evelyn Wallace Whitaker charging that she married him only because he threatened to kill her if she refused. The complaint states that the couple married in Santa Ana, May 2, last.

ON THE ROAD TO SUCCESS

THE Road to Success isn't a dirt road, in spite of some of the successful plays and books.

It's essentially a hard road, with no ruts. But it isn't paved with intentions.

It calls for careful driving. The five-ton trucks of selfishness run over lots of unwatchful people.

Yet the wrecks which line it mostly are those of would-be speeders, for it's full of sharp turns.

It's a toll road, and all who try to slip by without paying due toll get pinched, sooner or later.

All of us have a chance to travel it, but a lot of us kick because we can't coast on it. True, lots of folks are coasting on it, but they're not headed for success. They're going the other way and down hill.

We talk and think more of success than of anything else, yet most of us don't know what it means.

Some of the most prosperous people you know are the biggest failures.

Success may mean money, but money by itself never means success.

Yes, Palomina, you can't measure success by dollars, for dollars are round while true success must be square.

The Deadly Virtue

Theophilus Brown is a virtuous youth,
One virtue, at least, is all his—
He never tells ought but the absolute truth,
No matter how painful it is.
When silence, or even a tiny white lie
Is called for as tactful and kind,
He blurts out the truth that weighs down on what I Believe he mistakes for his mind.

"Don't you think I look better?" a sick man will say,
Who needs but a few words of cheer;
But Theophilus Brown is compelled to say nay
By the virtue he holds as so dear.
When a woman would have him admire a new hat,
He tells her it'd ugly as sin;
In their presence he always calls plump women fat,
And slim ones he speaks of as thin.

I would root for Theophilus Brown, if I could—
I would call him a wonder, a win,
If I thought that he ever had done any good
With that truth-telling passion of his;
But I know he's a mischievous brute and a bore,
And I'll make this prediction, forsooth—
When Hades shall ask what he's prisoned there for,
You may answer, "For telling the truth!"

—Ted Robinson.

Habit

Stranger: Can you tell me how far Main street is from here, Senator?

Senator Wind: I can, my friend. And, speaking as one who has served his constituency faithfully—and I say so without fear of being gainsaid; speaking, also, from the standpoint of one who has consistently represented the common people—and I challenge my enemies to prove the contrary; speaking as one of the people myself, I am pleased to inform you that Main street is four blocks west. I thank you!
